STATE OF THE COAL TRADE. Meeting of Sales Agents Today Expected to Bring Relief. PROPOSITION OF OPERATORS. Those Along the Line of the New York, Ontario and Western Are Willing to Donate 100,000 Tons to the Reading.

Today's meeting in New York of the sales agents of the large coal-carrying companies will be watched with great interest, for they are expected to do something to relieve the strained relations that now exist among those who put the black diamond on the market. Coal is selling in New York at a price which coal operators hereabouts agree is a ruinous price, and one that cannot obtain for long without those connected with the mining of coal losing money.

The claim of the Reading company for 21 per cent. of the total output has also been a disturbing element in the coal trade, but just how this matter is to be adjusted has not been made apparent to most of the interested parties. E. B. Sturges, who is interested in the New York, Ontario and Western railroad and in the development of the coal lands north of this city, said yesterday that while the Reading's claim may not be just, he thought it would be good business policy for the other large companies to agree to let the Reading have it and deduct the 21 per cent. the Reading claims from their own tonnage. The strength that would be given to the market by such a course would bring prices up and enable the companies to make more money than they would by mining 400,000 tons more under the existing state of things.

The Delaware and Hudson people say they accepted a cut in their allotment without protest, but that they can tolerate no further curtailing of it, for they will need all of the coal they are privileged to mine to supply their trade. They deny that they are going to cut off a part of the coal mines and mine and ship as much coal as they can find a market for. In evidence of the fact that they are not trying to kill the market they show that their colliers from Plymouth were idle yesterday. They say they are carrying a very small stock of coal.

There were signs of greater activity about some of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western colliers yesterday. A few of them were ordered on full time and 1,000 empty coal cars that were lying in the yards about this city were again put into service. This is no evidence that they contemplate independent action, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western people say, but it is made necessary by the opening up of navigation on the great lakes and other bodies of water on which the companies ship a portion of its product to market.

New Cars for the Reading. One thousand new cars have been ordered by the Reading company, but it is not known that they are yet in existence. It is thought that they will be delivered in a few weeks. The Reading's rolling stock has been allowed to run down, they say, and their coal cars have finally got into such a condition that they must be replaced at once or the company will not even be able to market the amount of coal conceded to it.

In New York yesterday the street was loaded with rumors to the effect that certain New York banking interests connected with the leading anthracite coal companies were disposed to urge the granting of the Reading's demand of 21 per cent. of the tonnage. The rumor could not be confirmed, and late in the day a dispatch was received from Philadelphia, in which President Harris was quoted as saying that he knew nothing about the matter. Are you going to the Young Women's Christian Association Exhibition? When? Next Friday evening, May 3. Where? Y. M. C. A. hall. How much? Thirty-five cents, including reserved seat. Don't forget it. THAT STOCK EXCHANGE. Effort to Be Made to Have It Abolished. Discussion Discussed. Efforts will be made at the next regular meeting of the central board of trade to pass a resolution abolishing the stock exchange list which has been in operation since Dec. 3, 1894. The question has been discussed by a large number of the business men, who claim that the resolution, if passed, will be a retrogressive step. Since the exchange was established the actual sales made through its agency have amounted to $15,000, and excepting three instances of bank stock, all the stock and shares have been connected with manufacturing interests. One feature, which is very interesting, is that, in all but two cases, all the sales have been made at a figure above par value. These two features, it is claimed by many of Scranton's business men, absolutely prove the value of the exchange, and its practical utility to the community. Unlike a stock broker, the means of communication is through a disinterested party and is absolutely secret, and no opportunity is given to place a fictitious value on any stock. The buyer, before his bid is accepted, has to sign a form undertaking to purchase the shares or stock desired at the figure named, and the seller is similarly bound by his agreement so that no fictitious offer can be made on either side for the purpose of unduly increasing or decreasing the value of any stock.

CHRISTIAN'S NEW VENTURE. He Purchases the Business of Craven the Shirtmaker. Frank P. Christian, the well known hatter and furnisher, yesterday purchased the business of E. T. Craven, the shirtmaker. In the future the business will be located on the third floor of Mr. Christian's building on Spruce street. Since Mr. Craven commenced the manufacture of fine shirts in this city last December the business has assumed unlooked-for proportions, until finally he realized that he could not give it the attention he desired and look after his cutting department. Mr. Christian believed that a first-class shirt manufactory would be a desirable addition to his already large business, and yesterday assumed control of the business. Mr. Christian will manage the shirt department, as in the past, but the business details will be looked after by Mr. Craven.

BELLERMAN ARRESTED. He is Charged with Not Providing for His Family. Fred Bellerman, of the Nineteenth ward, was arrested at the instance of his wife, Annie Bellerman, upon a charge of deserting his children to a city hall on Saturday night, when he entered bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at court. Mrs. Bellerman claims that her husband neglected to provide for his family, and she was driven out of the house by him upon a stormy night, when attired but in a flimsy night dress. As a result of his cruelty, she was compelled to undergo a long and painful stay at a hospital, and upon her discharge she announced to him her intention of maintaining herself, but that he would be compelled to provide for the two children. After her wedding she had expended her savings, to the amount of $400, in furniture and assisting in paying for a house, and could not obtain any repayment. SCRANTON IS REPRESENTED. At an Important Republican State League Meeting in Harrisburg. An important meeting of the State League of Republican clubs in the Lehigh Valley, Harrisburg, today, will be attended by Major Everett Warren, president, and F. W. Fleits, secretary, who left for Harrisburg yesterday, and W. S. Miller, their delegate from this district, who leaves at 6 o'clock this morning. Governor Hastings will give a reception to the committee tonight. Twelve delegates-at-large will be chosen to go to Harrisburg, and a number of State leagues in Lehigh Valley in June. Things for the Housewife to Try. Rubbing tough meat with cut lemon. Bacon fat for frying chicken and game. Steaming a stale loaf of bread to freshen it. Dipping sliced onions in milk before frying. Fried sweet apples when you have liver or kidney. Heating dried coffee before pouring on the water. Warning crackers slightly in the oven before using. FOR MANUAL TRAINING. Generous Gift of Mrs. Francis G. Hackley to the Y. M. C. A. DAUGHTER OF JOHN RAYMOND. Work to Be Founded in His Memory. Check for $10,000, the First Installment of the Gift, Read at Last Night's Anniversary Meeting. The members of the Young Men's Christian association celebrated their twenty-seventh anniversary last night and the meeting was rendered memorable by the announcement that Mrs. Francis A. Hackley, of New York city, had sent a check for $10,000 as an installment of a donation of $25,000 for the purpose of promoting the work of manual training under the auspices of the association. Mrs. Hackley is a daughter of John Raymond, at one time a well-known citizen of this city, who resided on Franklin avenue, in a small house opposite the residence of Robert T. Black. The only condition attached to the gift was that the work should be founded in memory of the father of the generous donor. It is of interest to note that Mrs. Hackley is the widow of Colonel Hackley, who was the owner of the extensive Raymond estate on Franklin avenue, late Messrs. Jones and Simpson and other operators, in the neighborhood of Arch-bald.

DEALER IN EVERYTHING. He is Desirous to Locate in This City. Yesterday a letter was received at the board of trade rooms from E. F. Brauning, dealer in everything, Narrowsburg, N. Y., stating: "I have heard a rumor that the property of my late father's and is a man looking for a place to move to, kindly send me such printed matter you may have bearing on your city." Secretary Atherton remarked that a "dealer in everything" would be a valuable acquisition to the business community, and forwarded the desired information to Mr. Brauning. Stuart Robson Tonight. Stuart Robson will appear at the Frothingham this evening in "Henrietta," Bronson Howard's great comedy. It deals with the humorous side of a speculator's life, and is a satire on American fads and follies, and the speculations of Wall street in the early days of our history, and the very rise of the curtain, where the speculation of the elder Van Alstyne furnishes abundant material for laughter; from these come the ludicrous love scenes of the light-brained Bertie to the end of the comedy. By Mr. Robson's long delineation of the character of old "Van" whom everyone there, he appears to have become part of it. Even after seasons of presentation wherever the "Henrietta" has appeared, the capacity of the theater has been inadequate to accommodate the attendance.

CONFIDENCE IN PASTOR. Meeting of Congregation of Hickory Street Presbyterian Church. DO NOT LIKE MR. WISSWASSER. Meeting Passed a Resolution Containing a Resol. of Aids the Former Pastor Is Charged With Resignation of Elder Jacob Miller Accepted.

All the pent-up feelings of remonstrance against the return of Carl L. Wisswasser and his application for reinstatement into the Lackawanna Presbytery, broke out with a vengeance at a meeting of the parishioners of the Hickory Street Presbyterian church last night. Mr. Wisswasser's departure from this city at a time that he was in charge of the pastorate of the Hickory Street church, is well enough remembered.

HAVE ENTERED A PROTEST. Franklin Avenue Property Owners Complain to Street Commissioner. Property owners have remonstrated against the traction company's abandonment of track work on Franklin avenue, between Lackawanna avenue and Spruce street, and yesterday sent the following letter to Street Commissioner Philip Kirst, Street Commissioner.

DEAR SIR: We respectfully represent to you that Franklin avenue, near the corner of Spruce street, has for a long time been seriously obstructed by the abandonment of track work on Franklin avenue, between Lackawanna avenue and Spruce street, and yesterday sent the following letter to Street Commissioner Philip Kirst, Street Commissioner.
