These orders will last for three weeks more, and by that time the trade may be expected to be in a better shape, that is dealers will see the drift of affairs more clearly. So general is the expectation now that prices will break that the orders are confined to the barest necessities. While the companies are standing up well for the new prices there is plenty of coal in the hands of mid diemen, to be had on better terms, while some individuals are reported to be selling 128% 159% 194 on the basis of $3 for stove in New York harbors. 1431 Not the least interesting feature in the anthracite situation, according to the Philadelphia Record, is the fact that pressure of a very decided kind is being brought to bear on some of these compa nies by people who have a way of enforcing their demands. For example, it is a fact that certain bankers have lately taken a decided interest in coal, and have very talked with some plainness regarding the matter to people with whom their coun-sels might be fruitful. Some bankers have held conferences with officials and representatives of certain of the coal roads other than Reading, and have given them to understand that it would be de-sirable, in order to prevent disturbance of loans, that harmony should be re-estab-lished at the earliest possible moment in the coal trade. Further, there is good rea-CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE PRICES. O'pn High- Low- Closing. trusive missionary work with so far prom-633) 643 6613
