TEN CARRIERS SUSPENDED

Charged with Drinking and Loitering While on Duty.

SHADOWED BY DETECTIVES

suspicion That Carriers Had Falsified Their "Over Time" Returns Was Not Proven-Postmaster Vandling Intercedes for Five of Them.

Over the ordered suspension of ter nail carriers, Postmaster Vandling is now engaged in a mild controversy with the postoffice department. The order, for suspension was based upon a report of secret service detectives. Four of the carriers are charged with drinking while on duty, five with drinking while in uniform but not on duty, and one with loitering. The main rea-son for the sending of secret service nen to Scranton was the numerous 'over time" items filed by the carriers. It was suspicioned that they had falsified.

Beginning with last July, when the 8-hour law went into effect, numerous charges for "over time" began to be filed by the carriers. Postmaster Vandling was asked by the department if he was certain that the items were correct. He answered affirmatively and exained that the territory was so large ual deliveries and collections within the prescribed time.

Overtime Charges Continued. Later it was found necessary to reduce the deliveries and collections to once a day in certain sections of the While Mr. Vandling knew that the detectives might be here at any time, his first intimation that they had been here was when he received the order for uspension.

The four men charged with drinking while on duty are ordered suspended for thirty days, the five charged with drinking while in uniform are ordered suspended for ten days and a 15-day uspension is ordered for the carrier charged with loitering

MINE LABORER KILLED.

Beneath a Fall of Rock in th Believue Shaft. Fatal injuries received from being rushed by a fall of rock in the Bellevue shaft yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of Michael Lysinga, a Polish laborer, a half hour after the man was removed to his home, near the corner of Remington avenue and Elm street, South Side.

Lysinga was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife and four children, the oldest a boy 10 years. He had finished loading a car of coal and was cleaning up the face of the chamber, when a large slab of rock fell on him and buried him beneath it. His fellowworkmen removed the rock from him and he was conveyed home in the ambulance of Undertaker Frank Bonin, of dying man. The funeral will take made in Minooka Polish cemetery.

MR. STURGES IN INDIA.

Before Another Large Andience He Tells of an Interesting Part of His Journey Around the World-Land of Temple's Mysterious People.

E. B. Sturges last night in the Green Ridge Presbyterian church delivered the third and last but one of his series of stereopticon lectures, covering the Asiatic portion of his trip around the world. Last night's subject was India, or, as Mr. Sturges termed it, "The mpared with the carrier force that Monkey Land," because the country was extremely difficult to make teems with these animals, which in teems with these animals, which, in India, are held sacred as are many other living things.

> That Mr. Sturges is an interesting and popular speaker was shown by the large audience which completely filled the lecture room of the church. Many of his hearers were from the central city. In his previous lectures he had told and shown views of Japan, China and Ceylon and the lectures became more interesting as the journey progressed.

India with its mysterious people and magnificent temples, its squalor and splendor, its enervating lowlands and delightful highlands of which Kipling has revealed so much-these and a hundred other instructive things did Mr. Sturges tell about.

He began with Madras on the lower Eastern coast, from whence the trip to Calcutta, northeastward, was made by steamer owing to the prevalence of cholera along the eastern coast region. From Calcutta the scene changed many hundreds of miles to the Himalayas almost north, then back to the Ganges river and up it to the northern interior and over the Bombay on the western coast. It was a journey of 3,400 miles in a country containing 200,000,000 inhabitants, five or six times as many as are in the United States. Of the many views displayed, all, excepting two or three purchased in New York, were reproduced from kodaks taken by Mr. Sturges. The collection is very valuable.

The difference in point of architectural beauty is, however, as great as lies between the meaning of sublime and ridiculous. These magnificent structures of the East individualy epresent scores of years of labor and the most extreme result of artistle splendor. Many of them are contained in cities which are absolutely deserted except by official keepers, and now are only beautiful tombstones of a bygone

In brief, the money must be invested and the interest devoted to the sole purpose of current expenses, the major portion of which will be the salaries of instructors.

As soon as the money is received it will be invested in the best and safest manner possible, and it is anticipated that the sum of $1,500 per annum will be realized as interest; but this will not be sufficient to discharge the annual expenditure, which it is expected will be quite $3,000, when the entire system of manual training is organized.

Equipment Expenses to Be Raised. In order to prepare for the work con siderable expense will be entailed, the whole of which will have to be paid by voluntary subscriptions. The spaciou room on the top floor must be adapted for the purpose, and the necessary equipments be provided for the pupils before any benefits can be derived from the generous donation of Mrs. Hackley. The board of directors will, however, proceed with the matter in earnest immediately, with the view of inaugurating the classes in September or Octoer. It is anticipated that the first course to be adopted will be to prepare for classes in bench work in wood, and lathe work in wood. ANNUAL AVE MARIA. Official Paper of Graduates of St Cecilia's Academy Published Yesterday. According to the usual custom of the graduating class of St. Cecelia's academy their official journal, titled "Ave Maria," was published yesterday. It is a typewritten paper book, containing a collection of original essays and poems vritten by the pupils and read annually in honor of Mary, the mother of the Redeemer.

No arrangements have yet been made The first page is adorned with a halftone portrait of Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara and a picture underneath of the pupils of the class seated around the editorial table. They are Misses Agnes A. Callahan, Helen Burke, Anna May Barrett, Teresa Sweeney, Loretto Clark and Julia Donnelly.

The first page is devoted to an editorial essay on the feast of Easter Sun-day, and on the second page is printed an original poem on the seventy-ninth birthday of the venerable bishop by Miss Callahan. Personal and local hearsay occupy some space and then comes the signed contributions from the pupils. Miss Kate Donnelly is the author of an inspiring article on the Blessed Virgin; Miss Mattie Horan writes of an imaginary trip to Brazil, and Miss Louise Gunster has contributed a sketch of the stubborness of the steam radiator in zero weather. Others who have contributed either poems or prose essays are: Miss Teresa Mary Barrett, Miss Agnes Loftus, Lo-F. Bradbury.
