So many complaints of irregular delivery have reached us, which we have traced to stolen papers, that we now offer $5 reward for information that will lead to the conviction of any person caught stealing the Tribune from the doorsteps of regular subscribers.

CITY NOTES.

Edward Fidler will begin his duties as alderman of the First ward this morning. The annual pew-renting at Elm Park church will be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Franklin avenue Rescue mission committee will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Captain Warner, formerly janitor of the city building, has been appointed janitor of the court house.

A force of men were digging up Franklin avenue Saturday preparatory to laying a vitrified brick pavement.

Beginning yesterday mail arrived from New York, reaching here on the 11 a. m. milk train. It was in the boxes for distribution at 1 p. m.

Deputy Sheriff F. E. Ryan Saturday sold the stock of goods of Wartski's G Music, dealers in clothing, dry goods and notions, on Penn avenue. The stock brought $4,021.

The will of Ira O. Stephens, late of the city of Scranton, was Saturday probated by Register Hopkins and letters testamentary were granted to Mary S. Stephens, the widow.

The Green Ridge iron works have opened an office at 33 Wall street, New York city. Their trade in railroad splices has increased to such an extent that this step became necessary.

The American Press association publishes an interesting syndicate article upon Anna Dickinson's case from the graceful pen of Mrs. Harriet C. Penman, well known to Scranton journalism.

The exchanges last week at the Scranton clearing house were as follows: April 29, $14,171.15; April 30, $11,772.15; May 1, $10,142.65; May 2, $12,181.87; May 3, $11,646.33; May 4, $9,755.59; making a total of $71,189.40.

The colored janitor at the Scranton Business college, George Rose, stole $12.00 in cash and a number of articles of value Thursday night and then departed for parts unknown. He had resided at 229 Raymond court.

Summer cars made their first appearance on the street railways yesterday. Nay Aug falls line was equipped with them and all the other lines had one or more of them. Travel was heavy and the open cars were crowded.

At 2:30 Saturday morning fire was discovered in the kitchen of the boarding house of Captain Cole, on Adams avenue. A still alarm was sent to the Phoenix hose house, which brought out the chemical engine and the flames were extinguished without any alarm being sounded.

James Kennedy, of Mary street, was suddenly seized with insanity late Saturday night and threatened to annihilate the family. Patrolman Reese G. Jones placed him under arrest. He was taken before the mayor yesterday and an effort is being made to have him placed in an insane asylum.

J. C. Vaughan, M. J. O'Toole, Daniel Culpin and John Beagan were elected delegates by St. Peter's Father Mathew society, of Bellevue, yesterday to represent organization at the diocesan convocation in Carbonate, May 8. The society so decided to hold a picnic in Laurel Hill park June 6.

The second annual meeting of the Scranton Free Kindergarten association will be held this evening at the Alhambra hall at 8 o'clock. All interested in free kindergarten work are earnestly invited to be present. There will be interesting reports from the various kindergarten established under the auspices of the association. A short and interesting paper on kindergarten work in general by Miss Katherine Clark, of Exeter, N. H., will be read.

MR. MULLEN OF MINOOKA

Wants Watson & Zimmerman Restrained from Using His Name.

ELECTRIC ROAD IS BENEFICIAL

Whit Peter Signed the Petition to Bring Suit Against the Trolley Company He Was Not Aware of Full Import of the Document.

The Tribune on last Friday contained an exclusive account of the legal proceedings contemplated against the Scranton and Pittston Traction company, or the Lackawanna and Old Forge Street Railway company, one and the same, by property owners along Center street, Minooka, and the eastern portion of Greenwood. Center street is more commonly called Main street.

Supervisors Connolly and Jones, in the year 1892, gave the right of way to the street car company and the residents had nothing to say in the matter. The supreme court recently ruled that where the right of way in boroughs or townships is accorded to a street car company, the owners of property along where the railway passes can collect constant damages for any depreciation in value that may arise from the construction of these tracks.

Attorneys Watson & Zimmerman, of this city, framed a petition and sent it out among the residents along Main street, Minooka, for their signatures. The petition gave the attorneys permission to collect damages from the street railway company for pushing its tracks through the city without the consent of the property owners. The attorneys consented to undertake the securing of indemnity from the owners of the road without any cost to the property owners. The amount collected has been divided between the attorneys and the citizens.

Mr. Mullen Did Not Refuse.

The first on to whom the petition was presented was Peter Mullen, of Greenwood, who, by the way, was the contractor who laid the street car tracks from the city line, through Minooka and Greenwood. Peter attached his autograph to the top of the petition. The paper went the rounds among the property owners and was signed in every house without a murmur. Visions of great wealth loomed up before many.

One day or two after Mr. Mullen signed the petition he got sorry and went to Justice of the Peace P. F. O'Hara, who had the document in his inside pocket, and requested him to erase his signature from the petition. The justice laughed at Peter, and this he very lightly provoked him and he went to Watson & Zimmerman and ordered them to take his name off the petition. He claims that they promised him they would do so but neglected to fulfill that promise, and are still circulating the petition with his name on it and are receiving signatures from citizens who are influenced by the fact that his name is at the head of the list.

Peter saw his attorney, M. E. McDonald, and decided to apply for an injunction in court restraining Watson & Zimmerman from using his name on the petition. He declares that his signature was procured through "fraud, trick and artifice."

Mr. Mullen Says He Does Not Know.

Attorney McDonald instituted an equity suit in court Saturday at the instance of Mr. Mullen and a bill was served on Attorneys Watson & Zimmerman. Court granted a rule on the defendants that they must enter appearance and file an answer within ten days.

In his bill of complaint Mr. Mullen alleges that he was not aware at the time he signed the petition of exactly what it contained. He prays the honorable court to restrain the defendants from using his name, as he believes that the street car tracks enhanced rather than depreciated the value of his property.

CURIOUS INSCRIPTION.

John Staples of Stroudsburg had $52 Grand Jury verdict. He died.

The following curious inscription appears on a tombstone in the Stroudsburg, Pa., cemetery:

"In memory of John Staples, a revolutionary soldier, who was born in London, May 18, 1784; died, Feb. 2, 1848. He was a son of William Staples, who had 14 children, 15 grand-children, also 55 grand-children married, and 195 great grand-children, and two in the fifth generation.

"He fought for the liberty of his country, and for the rights of man, and followed of the meek and lowly Saviour. He died in the full triumph of faith, and went home to rest."

Still farther down, near the base of the tombstone, appear these words: "Remember me as you pass by. For as you are now, so once was I, and as I am now, so you will be. Prepare for death and follow me."

COSSACKS OF CAUCASUS.

They Will Be a Feature of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show.

It is almost futile to attempt to enumerate all the interesting features of the great Wild West show, which is shortly to be seen here. Of course the most prominent individual is Colonel William F. Cody, or "Buffalo Bill," as he is even better known, a picturesque figure in contemporary history that will never see his prototype. Scenes and incidents of every variety of wild west life will be produced with positive fidelity to nature, and many of the stirring events of frontier life of half a century ago will be re-enacted.

In addition to the Wild West representations the Congress of Rough Riders of the World will attract almost equal interest. In this Congress will appear Vaqueros from Mexico, Gauchos from South America, and men from the African desert, and Cossacks from the deserts of Russia. These latter, hardy and dexterous horsemen, may be considered as on the border line between the wild irregular and the trained and drilled military; for though they wear the well-known uniform, and are regularly enlisted soldiers among the Cossacks of the Caucasus line, they ride with a wild, so that they are individually not characteristic of any of the other bodies of cavalrymen. This does not mean that they are not well drilled in their tactics and capable of going through their evolutions admirably; but they have a certain sort of spirit and freedom and capacity for independent personal demonstration which only, perhaps the French and Americans might, if encouraged thereto, display.

They wear handsome but sombre uniforms, ride the huge, small horses of the steppes, and are mounted on small troop saddles, very high front and rear, which are built up with pads fully four inches thick, so that they seem to perch far above their horses.

Another variety of horsemen which form an auxiliary to the other attractions of the Wild West are the repre-

SERVICES WERE IMPRESSIVE

Ordination Exercises Took Place Yesterday in Connection with the Morning Session of the Conference Being Held at Avoca.

The fifth day of the Primitive Methodist conference, at Avoca, opened Saturday morning at 9 a. m. Rev. S. Cooper, of Freehold, conducted the devotional services and hymn 336 was sung. The first chapter of Philippians was read and Rev. T. Bell invoked Divine supplication; Vice-President Rev. T. C. Baehc took the chair and the minutes of Friday's sessions were read and approved.

Mr. Brown, of this city, was assigned a seat in the conference and Rev. A. Iverson, of the committee on examination, recommended that Rev. S. Cooper and J. McGinnis, probationers, be promoted from second to third course; that Rev. W. J. Richards be passed to fourth course; also that Rev. William Bentley, of Pittsburg; C. H. Higginson, of Freeburg, and T. Bell, of Seewickley, Pa., be ordained at Sunday's services.

The standing order of the probationers on examination is as follows: First year, Rev. S. Cooper, 77; Rev. J. McGinnis, 94; third year, Rev. J. Walker, 91; Rev. J. W. Reseigh, 97; Rev. W. J. Richards, 92; fourth year, Rev. C. H. Higginson, 88; Rev. T. Bell, 78. Rev. W. J. Bentley, 88; Rev. T. Bell, was recommended that W. T. Williams be used as a ministerial supply, owing to his large experience in the Christian work, his examination not having proved altogether satisfactory.

HAVE FILED AN ANSWER.

Traction Company Sets Forth Its Right to Lay Two Tracks on Franklin Avenue.

That the Scranton Traction company is preparing to lay a double track on Franklin avenue, in the block between Lackawanna avenue and Spruce street, shown by a petition taken in court Saturday by attorneys Jospus & Hand, counsel for the company. They filed an answer to the bill of complaint made by the property owners. It was on this bill of complaint that Judge Gunster granted a rule on the defendants that they must enter appearance and file an answer within ten days.

The ordinance allowed by its provisions the Scranton Traction company to shift to one side the present track of the Scranton Suburban Street Railway company in order to lay another track. That was virtually the same as a permission to double track the avenue. In the answer filed on Saturday the ordinance is made a part. The company denies that the plaintiffs, or any of them, are owners of real estate abutting on both sides of Franklin avenue in the block where the double track is intended to be laid.

The answer explains that the new track is to be laid under authority granted in its charter to the Scranton and Providence Street Railway company, under the act of March 23, 1893. This company has been merged into the People's Street Railway company, of Luzerne county, and the consolidated corporation has leased its interests to the Scranton Traction company. The ordinance as amended by the court is a part of the answer.

Property owners will continue fight. The property owners will maintain that the company has no right to lay more than one track, and will claim that the People's Street Railway have forfeited their franchise under the act of 1893, under the act of 1893.

The matter will come up for a final hearing in equity court.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Saturday morning, upon application of Attorney W. H. Stanton, Judge Gunster granted a rule to show cause why the verdict in the case of Lingi Marnio, convicted of highway robbery, should not be set aside and a new trial granted. The rule was made returnable at next argument court.

In the matter of a road in Jefferson township, Judge Archbold on Saturday appointed A. B. Dunning, Jr., F. A. Bates and C. Q. Carman, viewers to vacate and supply road and report at the next court of quarter sessions.

Judge Edwards, Saturday, sentenced Conrad Verman, convicted of forgery, to pay a fine of $15 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for one month. Judge Gunster sentenced Daniel Waterpelt, for selling liquor to minors, to pay a fine of $30, costs of prosecution and spend twenty days in the county jail. Patrick O'Brien was sentenced to pay costs in two cases in which he appeared as prosecutor, and a capias was issued for James Farrell, a prosecutor who was directed by the jury to pay costs.

The following cases were argued on Saturday: In re poor district of the township of Carbonate vs. the Scranton poor district, exceptions to plaintiff's bill of cost; Commonwealth vs. Michael Clegg, rule to show cause why the costs imposed upon Peter Estruth should not be remitted; in re estate of J. B. Farries, deceased, exceptions to accounts of Administrator E. H. Shurtlett; in re estate of Mary A. Scanlon, minor, rule to show cause why C. C. Demoy, guardian, shall not be discharged.

THOSE WHO WERE ORDAINED.

Rev. Wilson Bentley, of Pittsburg, Rev. C. H. Higginson, of Freeburg, and Rev. T. Bell, of Seewickley, Pa., were ordained by the conference president, Rev. J. Prout, at Avoca, Pa. Rev. S. Penglace, Rev. H. G. Russell and Rev. T. M. Bateman, D. D. At the conclusion of the impressive ordination services the candidates received the congratulations of the choir and the choir sang a very beautiful and appropriate anthem. The services closed with benediction.

At 2 p. m. the Sabbath school session opened with devotional exercises conducted by J. J. Williams, and was largely attended. The school was then addressed by Rev. J. Walker, W. J. Richards and J. Bath.

At 5:30 p. m. the young people's meeting, conducted by J. J. Williams, was very instructive and edifying. A large audience of young people listened to very interesting remarks by Revs. T. Bell, W. H. Holder and J. Suttelle.

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE.

Increased Activity at the North Works. Funerals Saturday and Yesterday. Other Notes.

The voice of industry is a welcome visitor to the North works of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, and it is to be hoped that the reports are true which say that the outlook is an exceedingly bright one. One indication that better times are ahead is the new programme which went into effect at the South works Saturday night. The mill was in operation until yesterday morning and the week's work, until a notice to the contrary is given, will not end hereafter on Saturday evening but will continue through the night until Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. Not more than two years past has the South works operated on Saturday night.

It shows that the demand for the product of the mill is so imperative that the expectation of steeper times is well founded. The South works is running at its fullest capacity and so much enough of time is set aside each week to allow the necessary repairs around the furnace and in the converting department to be made. The North works resumes at 5 o'clock this morning on single turn.

Burials on Saturday.

The remains of the late John P. Walsh, of Cedar avenue, were interred in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery on Saturday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock in St. John's church by Rev. J. A. Moffitt. The pall-bearers were: Thomas Brown, Michael Kennedy, Michael Tully and Patrick Hogan.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Daley, who died at the Lackawanna hospital, took place Saturday morning from her late home at 114 North Main avenue, attended by a large concourse of friends and neighbors, was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral, and interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

An infant son of Joseph Weber, of Pittston avenue, died on Saturday morning and interment was made in Wilkes-Barre cemetery.

Funerals Yesterday.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. John Knoll, of Beech street, was buried in Pittston Avenue cemetery yesterday afternoon at 2:30. The funeral of the little daughter of Fred Wilner, of Beech street, took place in the afternoon. Interment was made in Pittston Avenue cemetery.

Shorter Paragraphs of News.

John McCarty, of Cohoes, is visiting relatives here.

M. J. Dempsey, of Pittston avenue, is convalescing rapidly.

Mrs. James Thornton, of Minooka, who was very seriously ill, is recovering.

St. Irene's ladies' temperance society met yesterday afternoon in St. John's church hall.

Miss Ella O'Malley, of Avoca, has returned home after a brief visit with friends on the South Side.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Manley are receiving the well wishes and congratulations of friends over the arrival at their home of a little daughter.

On Wednesday, May 22, the marriage of Fred Schrader, of Hickory street, and Miss Kate Burns, of Crown avenue, will take place at St. Peter's cathedral. The front wall of the sub-structure of the Simpson & Co. silk factory on Cedar avenue is built, and the sidewalks are assuming shape. The brick work on the superstructure will be commenced next week.

Mountain lake opened for the summer season yesterday, and the crowd that journeyed there was an immense one. The lake was freighted with boat riders from every hill and a pleasant day was spent on the mountain.

A drunken row occurred at the Polish hall, corner of Pittston avenue and Elm street, early Saturday morning. The rioters escaped in the darkness just a few moments before the advent of the police. This place is furnishing a good deal to do to the officers of the law.

Few of the reasons why we are able to sell goods so much below the usual prices as we are doing:

- 1st.---We sell for cash.
- 2d.---We sell all our goods in the store, not by the expensive way of taking orders from house to house.
- 3d.---Handling so many goods we can do it at a much smaller percentage than where only half the quantity is sold.
- 4th.---We buy from the manufacturer or importer, not from the jobber, thereby saving one profit.
- 5th.---We have no rent to pay for house, barn or store, consequently can afford to work cheap.
- 6th.---Doing quite a large wholesale as well as retail business we can do it at lower rates than a house doing either branch exclusively.
- 7th.---And principally because we are naturally inclined to make very low rates, depending on the judgment of the purchasing public to appreciate good goods and low prices to move the goods quickly.
