Senate Passes Resolutions on Nicaragua Affair.

UNAMERICAN AND UNPATRIOTIC

Resolution Objected to by Members of the House of Representatives--Numerous Pension Bills Pass Second Reading.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 6.—The senate met at 8:20. Senator Grady offered a resolution dropping proposed bills from the calendar after this week, which was agreed to.

Senator Landis offered this resolution: "Resolved, That the senate maintain that no foreign power should be permitted to raise its flag or land its troops upon this hemisphere, and therefore express its disapproval and disgust with the un-American and unpatriotic course of the national administration in permitting the hoisting and floating of the British flag, and the occupation by British troops of the republic of Nicaragua."

Senator Green's motion to refer to the committee on federal relations was defeated on a vote of 15 yeas and 17 nays. A resolution was then adopted by a viva voce vote.

The Keams bill authorizing trolley roads to carry the United States mails, was passed finally with amendments, and returned to the house for concurrence.

The calendar of bills on second reading was then taken up and thirty passed that stage.

House Proceedings. In the house tonight twenty-two pension bills making appropriations for disease contracted at Homestead during the riots and at the division encampment at Gettysburg last July passed second reading.

The resolution in regard to British action in Nicaragua as adopted by senate was offered and was objected to and no further action was taken. On motion of O'Malley, senate bill relating to the collection of 15 cents for each person was recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

House bill providing for electrocution was also recommitted for amendment.

CHOLERA AMONG PILGRIMS.

Mohammedans on Their Way to Mecca Stricken with the Disease. Washington, May 6.—The surgeon general of the Marine Hospital service has been advised of the appearance of cholera among the Mohammedan pilgrims to Mecca at Camaran, the island in the Red sea where devotees from abroad are required to stop and remain in quarantine for ten days. The report comes from Constantinople and indicates the disease to exist in very virulent form, forty deaths having occurred out of fifty-one cases.

FRITZ WILLIAMS' CRIME.

Insane with Jealousy, He Murders W. H. Thomas. Minneapolis, May 6.—The arrest this morning of the body of W. H. Thomas, superintendent of the Soo railway, was being lying at the corner of Chicago avenue and Thirty-second street with a bullet through the brain. Subsequently the police arrested a man named Fritz Williams, and charged with the murder. When arrested, Williams confessed to killing Thomas. It appears that Thomas had called on Mrs. Williams last evening, the latter having separated from her husband. Mrs. Williams is a daughter of R. L. Berglund, a wealthy citizen. Williams said he was crazed with jealousy, but that he knew exactly what he did. He stated that he believed his wife and Thomas had been intimate.

FOR FUENTES RELEASE.

Newspaper Man Arrested for Complicity in Cuban Rebellion. Washington, May 6.—The case of Fuentes, the alleged New York newspaper correspondent arrested near Santiago de Cuba for complicity in the Cuban insurrection, was laid before the state department today with the request that steps be taken to secure his release. Fuentes, according to the claim made today, is a native born citizen of the United States, and a resident of New Jersey.

GRESHAM STILL IN BED.

The Secretary of State's Recovery Slower Than Predicted. Washington, May 6.—Secretary Gresham shows very little improvement in his condition and the prognosis that he would be out in a few days will not be realized. The change in physicians shows the deep concern of the secretary's family in his case. Dr. Johnson believes that it will require several weeks for Secretary Gresham's recovery. Otto Gresham arrived yesterday and he by his father's bedside almost constantly.

FIANCEE GETS NOTHING.

The Captain Died Intestate and His Money Goes to the State. San Francisco, May 6.—A pathetic romance has just come to light in the settlement of the estate of Captain Frederick G. Clark, who is supposed to have been lost at sea with the ill-fated sealing schooner Dagmar, in 1878. He wanted his money to go to his fiancée, but as he failed to make a will the state of California will get it. The public administrator has just filed his final accounting in the case, which was placed in his hands first in September, 1894. Though there is no legal way by which the dead captain's wishes may be enforced, it has come to the knowledge of the public administrator that he wanted his money to go to Miss Nellie Ormond, of Boston, to whom he was engaged. Captain Clark first met the young

BIG FIRE IN BUFFALO.

Property Valued at $250,000 Goes Up in Flames--Narrow Escapes. Buffalo, May 6.—Fire at 3:30 this morning destroyed M. Strauss & Sons' tannery, postal station A, Groben's coal yard barns, several freight cars, two dwellings, a number of horses, and a large amount of stock in East Buffalo. The loss is estimated at a quarter of a million, with $125,000 insurance. The fire started in a barn in the rear of No. 759 William street, and was well under way when first seen. Before the fire apparatus arrived the fire had communicated to the tannery next door, as well as to the dwellings in front. The inmates were compelled to flee in their night clothes. Before the firemen could get their apparatus unlimbered and hard at work, the postal station, just east of the two dwellings, at Nos. 759 and 791, was on fire, and the big Dold Packing house across the street was endangered. The material used in the tannery made a hot fire, and it was only by the utmost efforts of the firemen that the flames were kept away from the packing house.

Beyond the postal station, were the coal yards, and here again the firemen made a fierce battle. Several houses were burned here, but there was no loss of human life, though many families had narrow escapes.

WAS CHINA BETRAYED?

Commander McGiffin Says That He Determined the Result of the War. Washington, Pa., May 6.—The Chinese government has but itself to blame for the loss of the war with Japan. Government officials high up in China were in the employ of Japan both before and during the war. The enemy's losses were anticipated all our movements. Such was the startling announcement made by Captain P. Norton McGiffin, who has just returned to his very comfortable and well-paid post in the Chinese navy. He was commander of the Chen Yuen, the famous ironclad, during the late unpleasantness between China and Japan. He has returned to America, most likely to remain, and he is not at all inclined to think well of the Chinese military and naval affairs. "I was in the hospital and not in command of the Chen Yuen at Wei-Hai-Wei, as was reported. Had I had been in command, I should not have been taken alive, and should not have given them the satisfaction of catching me. The Japanese had an ironclad agreement, in which 'No quarter to foreign dogs' was written. When we went into the big battle of Yalu, I made all preparations to keep out of the hands of the Japanese. Yes, to be plain, I would have killed myself before being taken by the Japanese." "Now that the war is over, I want to say right here that it is a blot on the previous fair fame of Japan which will never be effaced. Without one word of warning, before we were declared, the Chinese were run down on the defenseless Kow Shing and sent her with 1,000 souls to the bottom. It was one of the most cold-blooded tricks in the history of the world."
