Meeting of State Council Will Begin This Morning.

PRELIMINARY SESSIONS HELD

one Was Held Yesterday Afternoo and the Other in the Evening. Programme That Has Been Mapped Out for Today.

Delegates from every part of the state arrived in the city yesterday to attend the forty-ninth annual session of the state council of the order of Senior United American Mechanics, which will open this morning lat 9 o'clock, in the Ancient Order United Workmen's hall, on Lackawanna ave-

A preliminary meeting of the Funeral Aid association, of Pennsylvania, an auxiliary of the order, was held yesterday at 2 p. m., when the following secretary's report was presented: "In pursuance of the law enacted at the last annual session of the state Liberty association, requiring the annual report to be made up to April 1, of each fiscal year, I have the honor to present the following as a summary of the work done during the past year. The past year has been one of unusual depresion in finances all over the country. This will account for the number of suspensions, and the slow accessions to ur ranks. In almost every instance I have found that members allowed themselves to fall in arrears not be cause they had no faith in the aid, but because of lack of employment. I have made every effort under the au thority given me at our last session to keep the aid before the members of the rder; 10,000 circulars were sent out, explaining its features, and hundreds of personal letters were written in reponse to inquiries. There are several facts that I desire to particularly impress upon our members.

1st. The small number of assess ments. There was during the year, 11 deaths, and 8 assessments were levied, making the total cost per member for essments and the years' dues, $1.05; of these seven beneficaries were paid $100. The fund in September warranting the commencement of the payment

During the year eight assessments vere issued, costing the members eighty cents and twenty-five cents an aul dues, hence the total cost per member was but a fraction over two cents per week. The report was signed y A. B. Saybolt, of Philadelphia. After the report had been discusse and action taken on the same, the folowing members of the association vere elected: President, Robert M. hnston, Pittsburg; vice president, Isaac H. Rahn, Leesport; secretary, A. Laybolt, Philadelphia; treasurer, harles H. Kurtz, Philadelphia; direcors, for three years, Walter Graham, Philadeiphia; Samuel M. Wagner, Mechanicsburg; Howard O. Holstein, Harrisburg; William H. Wind, Philadel-Number of Members Reported. The numerical report showed the number of associations in the aid on April 1, 1895 to be 76 as compared with 54 for the previous year, and the number of members 1335, there having been 449 received during the year and 136 suspended. The total revenue was $419.95 and the expenditure $221.39. The statetotal revenue for the year to be $1,063.80 and the amount paid to beneficiaries $9000, leaving a balance of $163.80 and a During the meeting the secretary rethe funeral claim per member to the sum of $350. An evening session as also held for the reception of delegates and ex-state ouncellors, when about 150 members were received in addition to the seventy-five members who were present at the opening of the meeting. The ofcers in charge are State Councellor Robert M. Johnson, Pittsburg: State de-councellor, Howard O. Holstein, Harrisburg; state council secretary Walter Graham, Philadelphia; state nell treasurer, Charles H. Kurtz, Philadelphia; state council inductor, J. A. Wachob, Big Run; state council examiner, W. C. Hilligas, Quakerstown; state council protector, P. A. Barnum.

Republican politician. "I have been troubled with catarrh for many years," said General Catlin, "I doctored for it a great deal; and this winter my condition was terrible. I took cold easily and my nose became stopped up. I had severe pains across the front of my head, my eyes became watery. I sneezed a great deal, and my bones and joints ached continually. When I got up in the morning my throat was filled with a masty slime, which dropped there during the night. I had to hawk a great deal, and this made me gag and often vomit. There was a roaring or buzzing sound in my ears, and my breath was very offensive. I lost my appetite, ran down in weight, and became depressed in spirits. Malia, the 17ear-old son of Mrs. Anthony Malia, of Cusick avenue, had been seriously if not fatally injured early in the morn-ing near Binghamton, on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. He left here early in the morning and, it is supposed, he boarded a freight train and on approaching Binghamton in some way fell under the cars, which passed over his legs. The full extent his injuries was not given. His uncle, P. J. Ruane, left on an afternoon train for the Parlor City. A large number were assembled in Company H armory last night, when the members of the Father Whitty society presented the comedy, "Strife." The different roles were creditably filled. After the comedy a social was given by the members of the society to their friends, which was well attended. An enjoyable evening was spent .

The address was to the point and cast who cannot understand why I made such a poor score at Wilkes-Barre and Scranton in my pigeon matches with Dr. W. F. Carver, for their benefit I wish to say that there are times when crack shots can shoot better than others. In the first place this was demonstrated by the poor core I made at Wilkes-Barre, and on the score I made at Wilkes-Barre, and on the following day in Scranton, where I shot at an 85 per cent, rate. I had five boils on the back of my neck at the time the shoots took place, but as the dates were made, it was impossible to postpone them. and the recoil of the gun every time it was shot was something tremendous, and the strain on my neck and the agony I shot under no one but myself could realize. I have killed 74 pigeons out of 75, and my past record shows for itself that while I do not profess to claim I can kill 10
