WAS THE BOY ABDUCTED

Andrew McHugh's Disappearance Still Unexplained.

HE WAS SEEN AT NAY AUG

An Old Man Was Leading Him and They Were Travelling in an Easterly Direction—Father and Searching Party Start in Pursuit.

Andrew McHugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McHugh, of Main avenue, West Side, the boy whose strange disappearance was noted exclusively in yesterday's Tribune, is still missing. Great excitement prevails among the friends and relatives of the McHugh family, and every effort is being made to discover the boy's whereabouts. Searching parties are out, the police are on the lookout and out-of-town papers are printing notices of the mysterious case.

Tuesday afternoon the boy was seen by acquaintances at the Base Ball park and last night the only trustworthy clue was received by Richard McHugh, the boy's father.

Deckenick Saw Him.

Charles Deckenick is a fireman on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, southern division. He lives on the West Side, and has just reported that he had seen Andrew, in company with an old gentleman on the road near Greenville, commonly known as Nay Aug.

The old man was leading the child by the hand and the pair were travelling east.

Andrew waved his hand to the brakeman as the train rushed by.

Immediately upon receipt of this news the father set out with several friends for Nay Aug in search of his son. At midnight he had not returned. The family is disheartened.

Father Is Grief-stricken.

Mr. McHugh was hunting all of yesterday as each report proved false, the father became more and more disheartened.

Several predictions have been volunteered as to Andrew's fate. Some venture that he had went swimming and met with an accident; others that he has been led away by some abductor.

THAT BILL OF MR. COBB'S.

City Solicitor Torrey's Opinion with Regard to It.

Arising from the refusal of the auditing committee of council to approve of the bill of $25 of F. M. Cobb against the city, it is a nice legal point that City Solicitor Torrey has not yet passed upon. The bill was not approved because it was feared if it had been that action would make the city liable for the damage suit which has been instituted against the city in the amount of $1,000 by Motorcar No. 18, William Sweeney, whose leg was broken by the accident.

The bill has not been handed to Mr. Torrey yet and he knows nothing of the facts except what he read hastily in the papers. However, he does not believe that if the bill should be paid that the fact would militate against the city in the action in trespass of Motorcar Sweeney now pending.

The horse was driven by the permanent man of the Hook and Ladder company when it ran away, and was not in use in going to or from a fire. Chief Ferber was in attendance at the funeral of the late Captain William Kellow, and the city officials were there, the chief among them, but that would not be regarded as acting in an official capacity. Mr. Torrey thinks, even though council had passed a resolution agreeing to attend the funeral. He does not believe that it would make the city liable for any accident that might arise in which, in this case, a city official had been concerned.

DIED.

FLYNN.—In Scranton, William, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Flynn, of 420 Vine street, yesterday afternoon. Interment in Carbondale at 9 a. m.

A NEW ENTERPRISE

Fine Quarters That William Blume & Son Have Fitted Up.

The latest addition to the already numerous business concerns of Scranton is the new carriage repository of William Blume & Son, who have now in conjunction with their carriage factory opened the most attractive showroom at 524 Spruce street, opposite court house, which is the finest in the state to be found outside of Philadelphia.

Their stock, numbering over 250 jobs, consisting of buggies, carriages, phaetons, surreys and light and heavy wagons, and embraces over fifty different styles. It is the purpose of Blume & Son to supply a long-felt want in this city. Hitherto whenever any of our prominent citizens have needed a fine carriage they have usually had to go to New York or Philadelphia to purchase such work. There is now no excuse why this measure should be resorted to, as William Blume & Son, being themselves manufacturers, represent the leading makers of the country, and their stock is a large and varied collection of very fine vehicles, and for prices they cannot be excelled in either of the cities above mentioned.

It is also the intention of the firm to manufacture the finer grades of work, which they have the machinery and skilled workmanship with which to do this if they get market for it.

One of the specialties which this firm has long endeavored to bring before the Scranton public is the Rubber Tire Ball Bearing Axle Buggy. The only one ever made in this city was made by Blume & Son, and is now in the possession of W. T. Richards, who has subjected the vehicle to the most severe test, with the result that it gives every satisfaction, and Mr. Richards is very well pleased with and highly endorses this work.

In addition to their stock of carriages and wagons they carry also a fine line of harness, rugs, whips and every requisite of carriage furnishings. Mr. Blume, sr., has been in business in this city for the last thirty years, and it is also his long-continued business and citizens generally will show their local patriotism by giving him and his son their liberal patronage in the new enterprise which they have undertaken.

PUPILS OF THE COUNTY.

Those Who Secured Good Averages in Saturday's Examination.

Examinations for pupils in the county-schools who have completed the first term branches were held on Saturday, May 4, at nine centers: Carbondale, Jermyn, Olyphant, Dickson, Taylor, Old Forge, Dalton, Clark's Summit and Moscow.

Each examination was conducted by a committee of five teachers appointed by the county superintendent. These are preliminary examinations and those pupils who are successful here may enter the final examination, to be held in Liberty hall, Scranton, May 18. Those who are successful in the final receive the common school diploma.

Last Saturday was an unusually fine day and the central examinations were well attended. The largest class was those at Jermyn and Olyphant, each of which contained forty candidates. The whole number examined was 224. This is nearly double the number examined last year.

Some of the first-rank pupils are: Anna L. McCarty, Mayfield, average, 96 per cent; Hannah McCarty, Mayfield, average, 85 per cent; Mabel Decker, North Abington, average, 96 per cent; Grace Dushimer, Newton, average, 95 per cent; Howard Ackerly, South Abington, average, 91 per cent; Anna Geary, Ransom, average, 86 per cent; Lizzie Williams, Taylor, average, 87 per cent; Elsie Taylor, Moscow, average, 84 per cent. Other reports have not yet been received.

This shows that the plan of county graduations in common branches is growing rapidly into popularity. The fact that the county is now able to visit six of these examinations during the day proves that this county is well provided with facilities for travel.

FIRE MARSHAL BILL.

Measure Creating That Office in Third Class Cities Will Soon Be a Law.

A letter has been received by Secretary Atherton, of the board of trade, from Representative Alex T. Connell, stating that the bill for creating the office of fire marshal in cities of the third class had passed the senate, and in the event of its becoming a law, Mayor Connell will appoint a fire marshal.

The question was discussed at the March meeting of the board of trade, when resolutions were passed favoring the enactment of a law creating the office of fire marshal in cities of the third class, whose duties it would be to thoroughly investigate the origin of all fires, and, if of an incendiary character, to bring, if possible, the guilty parties to justice. A copy of this resolution was sent to each local representative at Harrisburg, who have worked zealously for the passage of the bill.

WILD AND HUNGRY RUSH.

Scramble of the Unterrified in Lackawanna Township for Office.

Alexander McCormick, of Moosic, was on Feb. 19 elected to the office of clerk of the records of Lackawanna township, where the tariff for revenue only and free silver element predominates. He grew tired of being in that position, and the party of the county, and moved a few weeks ago across the line into Avoca borough.

To succeed him there is a wild and hungry rush and the patriots are as numerous as snowflakes in a storm.

HURLED TO INSTANT DEATH

Terrible Fate of Arthur O'Malia and James Delaney at West Avoca.

WAY THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED

The Men Were Driving Over a Railroad Crossing Which is Somewhat Dangerous and Did Not See the Locomotive or Hear the Warnings Given.

A terrible accident, which caused a fright of horror to pass through the district, occurred at the West Avoca crossing of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad yesterday afternoon, by which Arthur O'Malia, a liquor salesman, and James Delaney, a saloon-keeper, both of Brownstown, near Pittston, were instantly killed.

Mr. O'Malia was employed by the firm of Evans & O'Malia, wholesale liquor dealers, on South Main street, Pittston, and was returning after working his usual route. He had left home about 8 o'clock in the morning, accompanied by Mr. Delaney, and while, on their return, driving over the West Avoca crossing, it is presumed that they failed to observe the approaching locomotive, which dashed into the rig, and killed the horse instantly. O'Malia was thrown at the foot of the engine and despite all efforts he lived less than thirty minutes.

Many persons who were on the spot said that the two young men were engaged in conversation and were unmindful of the approaching train. There were no gates at the crossing, they did not observe that the horse was crossing the track. When they had reached the center of the track they saw a big white locomotive coming in a terrific manner and warning them of their perilous position.

They Saw Their Peril.

They evidently realized the extreme danger, as one of the men was seen to apply the brakes, while the other man attempted to stop the horse. This, however, caused by their embarrassment, proved fatal, as the engine was unable to reverse his engine in time.

There are no gates at the crossing, but an automatic electric bell arrangement which acts as a warning when a train is approaching. The engine, which was running light, was in charge of Engineer William O'Hara, of Dunmore, who, it is asserted, gave the customary warning by sounding the bell at the whistle. The crossing is, however, at all times dangerous, as buildings have been erected on either side, rendering it difficult to see any approaching trains unless the traveler stands on a very high spot.

The remains were removed to the McCarty restaurant to await the arrival of the coroner. Mr. O'Malia was 23 years of age and a son of Arthur O'Malia, of Brownstown, and a brother of Patrick O'Malia, of the firm of Evans & O'Malia. Mr. Delaney was 39 years of age, and a son of James Delaney, of Port Griffith, wheelmaster at the Eben breaker. He is also a brother of Michael Delaney, justice of the peace of Jenkins. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Anna McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCormick, of Port Griffith. There are two children, issue of the marriage, Daniel and Celia, aged 5 and 3 years. For a number of years Mr. Delaney was employed as a salesman in the city of Scranton, and afterwards as postoffice clerk under S. B. Bennett, after which he acted as a mail carrier.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GRADY.

Rev. Father McHugh preached the sermon and paid high tribute to the Christian virtues of the deceased. Interment was afterward made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Edward Kenney, Anthony Walsh, James Brogan, John Dorsey, Patrick McNally and John Russell. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

PENN AVENUE PAYE.

Mayor Will Sign the Ordinance Today.

File of select council No. 1, which in everyday language means the first ordinance enacted by the upper branch in the present fiscal year, will be signed by Mayor Connell today. City Clerk Lavelle transmitted the document to the mayor's department last evening.

The ordinance is a very important one aside from the distinction it enjoys of being the first this year; it provides for the paving of Penn avenue between Lackawanna avenue and Spruce street with asphalt pave, and the ripping up of the foul-smelling, disease-breeding wooden blocks that absorb all the abominable odors of the fish market.

The city agrees to pay half of the expense of paving, and the property owners will do the rest. After the ordinance becomes a law it will be in order for the city clerk to advertise for bids for the contract of the work, and every resident of the city will wish it a God-speed.

ALLEY LOAFERS FINED.

They Had $100 with Which to Prostrate Patrolman Meizer.

Two men pretty well intoxicated were found loafing in Raymond court and told by Patrolman Meizer to move. He drove them out of the alley ahead of him.

When they got on Lackawanna avenue they bumped against Patrolman Peters and confided that they had $100 in their jeans that would be used to prosecute Patrolman Meizer for molesting them. Mr. Peters advised them to take a walk but they heeded him not. With the assistance of Patrolman Ridgeway they were escorted to police headquarters. The names they gave are James C. Losh and August Janks, and the fine they paid apiece is $5.

OFFICER'S FINGER BROKEN.

Lively Tussle with a Young Drunken Tough.

Coleman Manning, aged 27 years, of the West Side, whenever he gets drunk, and that is about as often as he has money to buy liquor, imagines that he is strong enough to fight a whole man, and on Tuesday evening, in this mood, he took a jaunt at a late hour along North Main avenue.

There he met Thomas Lowry, in vain tried to pacify him, and finally was compelled to place him under arrest. Manning resisted and got subdued, but in the tussle he broke Patrolman Lowry's first finger of the left hand.

He was committed to the county jail for thirty days in default of the payment of a heavy fine.

WILL HAVE A MONTH'S PEACE.

Bellevue Wife-beater Committed for Thirty Days.

Mrs. Harry Rogers, of Fifth avenue, Bellevue, complained to the police on Tuesday evening that her husband, in a drunken condition, came home and resumed his old habit of abusing her and the children. Patrolmen Walsh and Heterozh called and found the facts to be as she stated.

They took him to the West Side police station and yesterday morning he was given a hearing in police court. Alderman Millar ordered him committed to the county jail for thirty days and gave him a severe reprimand for his brutal treatment of his family.

WERE FRUIT PEDDLERS.

Four Men Who Were Arrested at the Delaware and Hudson Depot.

In police court yesterday morning the four men who were arrested in the rear of the Delaware and Hudson depot on Lackawanna avenue, Tuesday night, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, gave their names as Thomas Gorman, James Mack, A. Jones and John McKue, and their occupation as fruit peddlers.

They were rushing the growler and fighting among themselves over their liquor. They begged off and promised not to trouble the officers in future and were discharged.

CITY IS ENJOINED.

Providence Property Owners Do Not Want Sewer to Run Through Their Land.

William Bright and William Love, property owners of North Main avenue, Providence, obtained an injunction yesterday to restrain the city of Scranton and Contractors Flaughan & O'Hara from entering on their land to lay a sewer.

The bill of complaint avers that on the line between the properties of the plaintiffs and the city of Scranton a sewer, which will stake a strip of land six feet wide and the length of the plaintiffs' properties. No arrangement has been made by the city to compensate them for this land and they therefore object to the city or its agents entering on the land to construct this sewer.

A preliminary injunction was granted by Judge Gunster and made returnable May 13. The plaintiffs are represented

EIGHT SUITS ARE STARTED

Two Trolley Companies Named as Defendants in Them.

DAMAGES CLAIMED NOT NAMED

Actions Are Based on Decision of the Supreme Court with Regard to Rights of Electric Car Companies in Townships and Boroughs.

Eight Minooka property owners, represented by Attorneys Watson & Zimmerman, brought suit in trespass yesterday in court against the Lackawanna Street Railway company and the Scranton and Pittston Traction company.

Their names are: Martin McDonough, Thomas Loughrey, Richard Walsh, Mrs. Lizzie Dunn, Patrick Coyne, John Fitzhenry, John Ludden and William J. Burke.

These reside on Center or Main street, in Lackawanna township, and the tracks of the street car company pass along this thoroughfare and by their properties. This is the first of the attempts made by Minooka residents to claim damages from the companies because the latter did not secure their consent to the right of way before laying its tracks through the township.

The precedents filed by the attorneys in the prothonotary's office are not accompanied by any declarations, but the amount of damages claimed by each is not stated; but the expectation of recovery has been based on the recent ruling of the supreme court, which mention has been heretofore made.

Summons arrangements have been placed in the hands of the sheriff, but have not yet been served on the defendants.

DIXIE'S LAND.

Will Be Presented at Davis' Theater This Afternoon and Evening.

A great attraction in Miss Alice Leach's "Dixie's Land" is promised at Davis' theater for the last three days of the week. The roster comprises sixteen genuine Afro-Americans, giving a true and realistic representation of Southern life immediately after the war.

The press notices of the company are exceedingly favorable, and the witty and witty sayings of the actors are certain to keep the audience in a happy state of mind throughout the performance. A novelty brass band and orchestra will be a great feature of the entertainment. Arrangements have been made by which children will be admitted to the performance on Saturday afternoon for the sum of 5 cents.

ECHOES OF THE RAIN STORM.

Lightning Struck a Dwelling in the North End.

During the heavy thunder and rain storm of yesterday afternoon the flashes of lightning were sharp and near, but the only report of any damage being done comes from the North End, where the house on Wilbur street, owned by Thomas Harrington, and occupied by the family of Thomas Harrington, was struck, but not greatly damaged.

The bolt struck the chimney and passed down into the cellar, where it dug a hole near the foundation walls. The tenant was disturbed from his pleasant diversion of adjusting a stove pipe. The lightning rendered him unconscious for a few minutes. The chimney was knocked off the roof and the damage is estimated at about $50.
