INDUSTRIAL TOPICS.

Notices have been posted in the Berkshire cotton mills that an increase in wages would be granted May 29. The amount is not stated.

The Central Traffic association lines have decided to grant a rate of one cent per mile for the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Louisville. In 1892 and 1893 the New York and

New England freight trains averaged 350 tons. Last year Mr. Odell increased the tonnage per freight train so as to save the company $300,000; some trains When the New York Central's new

The shipments of coal over the Reading railroad in the week ended May were 276,446 tons, an increase of 84,697 ons over the same week last year. For the fiscal year to date the shipments are 5,316,646 tons, an increase of 645,211 tons is compared with the previous year. While it is true that the Illinois Stee ompany has orders ahead to keep its nills employed for a couple of month it'is also true that for more than a year the company has accepted large conracts at absolutely no profit, simply to keep the mills running and give employment to its men.

So many rumors have been affoat r cently regarding a proposed scheme to secure control of the Reading railroad by a combination of the Pennsylvania the Jersey Central, the Delaware and Lackawanna and other roads interested n the anthracite coal trade that prominent Pennsylvania railroad official took occasion yesterday to brand the story as absolutely false, so far as his company is concerned. President Sloan, of the Delaware and Lackawan na, has already denied that his com pany has any connection with such Manufacturers say that the booming of business is beginning to be an obstacle to improvement. This is dupartly to the fact that advances in raw materials have been relatively greater han advances in finished products, re ducing the narrow margin of profits still further. Added to this, operatives have been quick to demand increase in wages. In some instances it has been granted, but in others manufacturers hreaten to close their works because of inability to get out even, with higher cost for materials and higher cost labor on one hand and only a slight advance in finished goods on the other This situation applies to a good many woolen mills, some cotton mills and some of the coal and iron works.

Miss Pope is confined to her home with typhoid fever, but her standing has been so high that she will receive her diploma, even if for a short time she has been unable to attend school. The Tribune correspondent has of late seen approached by a number of people in Montrose who have accused him of sending news to the paper he represents. It is usually considered by a conscientious reporter unjust to his paper, its readers and himself if he does not endeavor to the best of his ability, give an impartial, full and correct ac count of all the news he can. The idea of suppressing unpleasant news is prevalent in some localities; perhaps this has been the past custom in Mont-rose. In a delicate manner The Tribune nan wishes it understood that the news will prevail—pleasant or otherwise. Perhaps it's because The Tribune prints the news that it has so increased its circulation here. Who knows?

Last evening a very happy event took place in the W. W. Watt building on Church street, the occasion being the second annual banquet of the Cross Country club. The hall for last evening's event never looked so pretty. The decorations were handsome. At one end was constructed a large bank of flowers with the letters C. C. C. on it made of violets. Music for the evening was furnished by Professor Firth. Tables were spread for thirty couples by Caterers Munn & Avery. The toast-master of the occasion was George W. Gillies, who filled that capacity admirably. The toasts were responded to in the following order: "Lake Ariel," Albert Rutherford; "Y. M. C. A.," Albert Crance; "Society," Benjamin L. Singer; "The Cross Country Club in the Year 2000," Ophie L. Morgan; "Fads," Joseph Murrin; "Our Lady Guests," Louis Abbott; "Cobwebs," (or club history) Charlle Bridgett; "Art of Conversation," J. Russell Jones.
