HANDSOME CHURCH OPENED
 Washburn Street Presbyterian Edifice First Occupied Yesterday.

REV. W. I. STEARNS PREACHES
 Edifice Cost $20,000, and is Finished in Natural Wood Throughout. Bell of the Old Church is Located in the Tower.

Divine service was held yesterday for the first time in the auditorium of the newly erected Washburn Street Presbyterian church, when Rev. W. I. Stearns, of Danville, Pa., a former pastor, preached two appropriate sermons. The magnificent edifice has been erected at a cost of over $20,000 from plans by the firm of Davis & Von Storch, of the Commonwealth building. The contract, after some competition, was let to Havens & Williams, who sub-let the carpenters and painting work to Edwin Hughes. The contract was made in May, 1894, and the edifice was completed in March, 1895.

Description of building. The building is Gothic in style, being constructed of frame throughout, and presents an unusually impressive appearance. The feature which first attracts attention is the massive-looking tower, which rises to a height of 100 feet above the level of the sidewalk. In the tower is located one of the main entrances to the building, and in the upper part the belfry has been arranged, which contains the old bell of the original Washburn Street church. The various parts of the structure are so designed as to present an artistic appearance, and so that each part will harmonize. In particular the harmonious color treatment is exceedingly well designed.

There are main entrances from Hyde Park avenue and Washburn street, leading to the auditorium, which is a spacious room, 45 by 90 feet, and has a large recess for the organ loft and pulpit. The pulpit stands out prominently from the side of the auditorium and is so arranged that no one person seated at service will be at a greater distance than forty feet from the preacher. The tower, which contains the old bell of the original Washburn Street church, is a substantial pattern in oak, will seat 500 persons, each pew being semi-circle in shape, with aisles converging to the pulpit.

Attached to the auditorium is the Sunday school room, which is reached by sliding doors 24 feet wide and 16 feet high. This room will also seat 500 persons, so that at any one meeting the sliding doors may be opened and seating accommodations given for 1,000 persons.

An Unique Arrangement.
 The arrangements of the Sunday school room are unique. A semi-circle has been arranged with a sloping floor, so that all the children will be able with ease to see the superintendent or other speaker. The gallery is also arranged in class-rooms with converging partitions. Attached to the main room is the infants' class room, which will seat fifty or like to one. Communicating with the lower floor of the Sunday school room is the librarian's room, fitted with book-shelves whereby each volume will be stored separately; and also the secretary's room with a desk and tables for business purposes.

In the basement the same detailed arrangements are to be seen, where there are rooms equipped for preparing and other rooms equipped for preparing supper for festive occasions. The main room in the basement, which is thirty-five feet by seventy feet, has been splendidly furnished by the ladies and will be used exclusively by the Ladies' auxiliary. On the second floor the common have equipped a room for their own department, where meetings connected with their organizations will be held.

The heating system is of the most approved kind and gives splendid satisfaction. There are many features in the edifice which attract favorable comment, notably the artistic manner in which all the wood work has been completed, all the inside work being finished in natural wood.

Splendid Music a Feature.
 The two large congregations that attended the opening service were treated to exceptionally fine music. At the morning service a quartette, consisting of Mrs. B. T. Jayne, Miss Lily Joseph, D. M. Davis and D. C. Richards, gave delightful music. The quartette, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," was admirably rendered, and the duet, "O'er Country's Voice," by Mrs. Jayne and Mr. Richards, was a delightful treat.

In the evening the above quartette and the choir of the First Presbyterian church, numbering twenty-four voices, gave a magnificent programme under the direction of Tallie Morgan. The first number was an anthem, "The Infant King," by Neddinger, Miss Annette Reynolds singing the solo parts. The second musical number was a quintette, "Pilgrim of the Light," most artistically given by Misses Lydia Sealer, Miss Margaret Torrey, Gwen Rose, Annie Rose and Lily Joseph. Miss Reynolds sang in splendid voice "Thy Will Be Done," and the closing number was "Christ, Our Passover," by Shepherds, which was a fitting climax to the excellent music of the day.

REV. MR. GUILD'S SERMON.
 Celebrated His Sixteenth Anniversary as Pastor Yesterday.

Rev. George E. Guild yesterday celebrated the sixteenth anniversary of his pastorate of the Providence Presbyterian church. A crowded congregation attended the morning service when the reverend gentleman preached an eloquent sermon from Mark xv, 21, his theme being "Duty and Reward."

In his prefatory remarks he spoke of the incident referred to in the text, "And they compelled one Simon, a Cyrenian, to bear his cross," and dwelt on the term "compelled" as applied in Christian work of the present day. Many duties a Christian must perform he does only through this compulsion, but as in the case of Simon, a great reward is given. So it had been with the congregation of the Providence Presbyterian church during the past sixteen years. There were many duties which would have remained unperformed were it not for this compulsion, and they had been the means of bringing great comforts to many sorrowing hearts and innumerable blessings to all.

Speaking of the work of the past year, Mr. Guild said that twenty-seven persons had been received into membership, making a total of 377, with 275 in the Sunday schools. In the work of home missions they had added to the "Plant of $70; to various benevolent objects, for the erection of churches, $28; for home work, $19,500. Besides these sums the Ladies' Aid society had been instrumental in raising $257; the Ladies' Home Missionary society, $225; a Foreign society, 100; Sunday school, $22; the Christian Endeavor society, over $100; the Junior Christian Endeavor society, $40; and the Guild Mission band, $75.

The pastor mentioned other works of the congregation, including the building of the handsome church and parsonage and the satisfying of the large mortgage. He applied these facts to his theme—that it is to be regretted that all these works were done only through compulsion. He urged his hearers to make the most conscientious use of the Christ and the church that God may be glorified; second, to a cheerful increase of gifts of silver and gold; third, in an unswerving and undying loyalty to God and the church.

The choir under the direction of Professor T. J. Davis rendered special music.

IN ELM PARK CHURCH.
 Sermon by Dr. P. B. Raymond, President of Wesleyan University.

President P. B. Raymond, of Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., delivered a sermon of great power at the Elm Park church last evening. He based his theme on the words, "Go, teach," and more particularly on the last word.

Dr. Raymond opened his remarks by expressing his opinion that the church had done too much evangelistic work, as compared with the work of teaching, but in the first quarter of the twentieth century the work of teachers would be more appreciated, particularly in this land. Dealing with the functions of preaching and teaching, Dr. Raymond said that the evangelist did not attempt to teach, but rather to secure action. Dr. Raymond proceeded to illustrate the laws of nature's methods as exemplified in the first teaching of the babe, showing that an action from within, so that ideas could not be forced into the human mind. His deductions, from these remarks, were given in a forcible manner. Education cultivates the habits of intellectual industry and intellectual accuracy. Ideas ruled and revolutionized the world, and this was true in the discovery that water heated expanded and made steam, and it was the genius of that idea which had wrought the revolution throughout the world, the results of which were seen in the railroads, etc. Religion must have

Dr. Raymond concluded by expressing his belief that God was working through the centuries for the making of a great epoch. The coming of Christ and the Reformation were such epochs, and God was working toward such another epoch, which would be the establishing of the Kingdom of Christ.

Dummy Boyle to Be Prosecuted.
 South Side people are reminded of the escape which caused Dummy Patrick Boyle, a young man whose parents live on Elm street, to be in jail for some time to parts unknown. He entered the residence of C. B. Boland, on Stone avenue, and when he was discovered made his escape, but not before he carried off $20. Where he fled to no one but himself apparently knows. He has turned a few days ago and his father has been beseeching Mr. Boland not to prosecute, but Mr. Boland is of the opinion that he owes a debt to the community and the only way to pay it is to sue the case, because Boyle cannot behave.

SHORTER PARAGRAPHS.
 John P. Donahoe has returned to spend his vacation at home, after a course of study at the New York college of pharmacy.
 Rev. E. J. Melley, pastor of St. John's church, is preparing a number of the children of the parish for the sacrament of confirmation.
 On Birney avenue the new residence of James W. McGuigan and family is going up rapidly and will add to the architectural beauty of the street.
 During the absence of Chery street, it is dangerously ill. His position as teacher in No. 11 school is being filled by Miss Tessie Gibbons, of Pittston avenue.

NORTH END NOTES.
 T. H. Watts will remove to Glenburn this week, where he will reside during the summer.
 Mrs. Charles H. Turner, of Towanda, is visiting Mrs. S. R. Henwood, at her home on Main avenue.
 The members of the Primitive Methodist church and Loan association have arranged to hold an entertainment in the lecture room of the church tonight.
 William Cobb, a spike-maker in Spencer's mill, has applied for a patent on a new kind of railroad spike, called the razor point, which he has invented.
 Thomas Shotton, of the coal department of the Delaware and Hudson company, is on a three weeks' visit with his parents and brother in Kansas.
 The charter for the Suburban No. 2 Building and Loan association has arrived. Officers will be elected tomorrow night at a business meeting of the stockholders, which will be held in Alderman Bailey's office, on Dickson avenue.
 David J. Evans, of L. N. Robert's insurance agency, leaves this morning for Reading, where he will represent Court Robin Hood, of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America, at the grand convocation, which will be held there. Mr. Evans enjoys the distinction of being the youngest representative of the grand court.

The Saturday Tribune.
 ONE of the secrets of the great and growing popularity of the Saturday Tribune is its originality. Unlike the special editions of many other papers, it is not made up largely if not exclusively, of stereotyped features widely syndicated for simultaneous publication. On the contrary, the bulk of the special matter presented in The Saturday Tribune is prepared especially for this paper. That The Saturday Tribune is satisfactorily filling its field is substantially manifested by a steadily growing constituency. No other paper ever printed in the history of Scranton journalism has achieved a fuller measure of success than The Saturday Tribune.

The Saturday Tribune is essentially Scranton's Favorite Newspaper.
