TO WHITTLE SCHOOL FUND

Quay and Hastings Favor Cutting State Appropriations.

WILL BE DEVOTED TO CHARITY

Country Members Vigorously Oppose Reducing the Educational Appropriation - Religious Garb Bill's Fate.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Harrisburg, May 13.—Senator Quay has endorsed the movement to cut the school appropriation $100,000 for the next two years. He believes this is necessary if the state charitable institutions are to be taken care of. By giving $10,000,000 to the schools the next two years all the state hospitals and other charitable institutions dependent wholly or partly upon the state for support can be provided for. If the school appropriation is not reduced many of these institutions will receive more from the state than they now receive. Senator Hastings and his cabinet are of the same opinion, and the chances are the appropriation will be passed.

An organized movement has been started among the members of the house to prevent any change in the appropriation. A petition will be drawn upon and addressed to Governor Hastings appealing to him not to insist on a cut in the appropriation. Those at the head of the movement declare the petition will be signed by every member of the legislature, with the exception of those from Philadelphia and Allegheny. A conference of the leaders of the countrymen will be held this week to draft the petition and appoint a committee to circulate it. It is now certain that an aggressive fight will be made to prevent a change in the appropriation.

Chairman Marshall, of the house appropriation committee, is getting the general appropriation bill in shape to report. It is expected it will be ready to be brought out next week. It will provide only $10,000,000 for the schools for the next two years. The house and senate members went to Washington last week and appealed to Senator Quay to use his influence to prevent the proposed cut in the appropriation. The senator very candidly told the party that he believed in the $10,000,000 of the schools and giving it to charity.

The rural members are afraid this will be disastrous to the Republican party next year in the election for governor. They are making every effort they use the argument that in close districts this will be used against the Republican candidates by the Democrats with good effect, especially after the legislature has created so many offices and raised the salaries of them, commissioner and other state officials. All these things have been told to Senator Quay and Governor Hastings, yet they persist in their belief that the only way to take care of the charitable institutions is to cut the schools.

Many members believe the $10,000,000 deposit in the state bank should be withdrawn and a portion of it appropriated to charity. Governor Hastings is opposed to this scheme. He says that this money should be kept intact to be used in case of an emergency like the Johnstown flood. A state official said today that if the school appropriation was reduced either the salaries of the teachers would have to be cut or the amount of the tax levied increased. "I should be very sorry if the legislature disturbs the school funds," he added. "A smaller appropriation means poor pay for teachers and that means less efficiency of the system."

Debate Here Abandoned.

The friends of the bill appropriating $250,000 to improve the Delaware river harbor have abandoned all hope of it becoming a law. The depleted condition of the state treasury precludes all possibility of the appropriation. The same may be said also of the half million dollars asked for by the University of Pennsylvania to erect new dormitories. The soldiers' orphans schools commission has given up all hope of securing an appropriation to enlarge the industrial school at Scranton and has decided not to introduce the bill which had been prepared appropriating $250,000 to be used for the erection of cottages.

The proposed cut in the school appropriation has endangered the passage of the houses elections committee in the session of 1895. In investigating the four election contests. The expenses of the committee, including the salary of its stenographer, aggregated over $250,000, and bills for this amount have been reported from the appropriations committee and were read the first time this evening in the house.

It is estimated that the Heller-Laubach senatorial contest will not cost less than $25,000, and the investigation of the management of the state insane hospital at Norristown and Wernersville upward of $10,000. The rural members say all this money would have been saved to the state if the members were as economical at the opening of the session as at present. It is also argued that the proposed investigation of the municipal affairs of Philadelphia will cost more than all these election contests combined.

The Grangers Protest.

The state grange has flooded the legislature with petitions protesting against any change in the school appropriation. The grangers claim the compulsory education bill should become a law, will necessitate an increase in the school facilities, and a consequent increase in the expenses of running the schools. By some misunderstanding the Farr compulsory education bill has not yet reached the governor. It was reported from the conference committee last Thursday and has since been lingering in the house or senate transcribing rooms to be transcribed. The Smith religious garb bill is still on the senate calendar awaiting second reading. The friends of the measure are beginning to become alarmed at the delay in calling it up and will endeavor to have action taken on it this week. The impression is that the professed friends of the bill intend holding it back until near the close of the session and then amend it to meet their views or drop it altogether. The legislative committee of the Junior Order of the United American Mechanics is switching the bill and will not consent to any such arrangement. The committee claim there is no reason to delay the passage of the bill. The members have consented to the amendment of Senator Flinn placing the penalty for violation of the proposed law upon the school board employing teachers wearing religious garbs instead of upon the teachers.

Thomas Robinson, of Butler, filed his bill today and took the oath of office as superintendent of public printing and binding. Mr. Robinson succeeds Colonel Williams H. a Orier, of Columbia, who was appointed by Governor Pattison.

The House at Work.

The house met at 8 o'clock tonight and eighty-eight bills that were on first reading were quickly disposed of. These included the appropriation bills reported last week. The bill placing a tax of 24 cents on each barrel of beef brewed in the state was reported affirmatively from the ways and means committee. The house reconsidered its vote by which it concurred in the senate amendments to the house bill constituting a board of revision of taxes in cities of the third class. It then referred to concur in the senate amendments and the bill will now be referred to a committee on conference.

Among the bills which passed finally were the following:

GRANTING RELIEF TO A NUMBER OF MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD WHO CONTRACTED DISEASE WHILE IN SERVICE AT HONOLULU.

Amending the act relating to the prohibition of the killing of certain game in Tioga county for a period of three years; for the protection of game in Bedford county.

ELKINS' STRANGE TALE.

A Rich Man's Son Is Caught Wandering Aimlessly About Jersey City—His Peculiar Explanation.

Jersey City, May 13.—A young man who claims to be Frank Elkins, 27 years old, of Palmyra, Pa., Philadelphia police were picked up this morning wandering aimlessly about the streets. He appeared to be half dazed. His clothing consisted of a ragged coat and a dirty pair of overalls. He had on a pair of light russet shoes, but wore no hat. After he had had a good sleep he was more rational and was able to answer questions. The story he tells is rather sensational. The police are inclined to doubt it. He is the son of wealthy parents, he says. His father is superintendent of a traction company in Philadelphia, and is one of the best known and most influential residents of the Quaker City. Friday night, the young man says, he left home to meet a friend. Later he stopped at a house of ill repute. He had several drinks, became unconscious, and knew no more until he awoke to find himself in a cell in a town many miles from his home. He refused to give his father's name or address, or to state what traction company he is superintendent of. His excuse for refusing to do so was that he did not care to have his parents worried or disgraced. He begged the police to investigate his story.

TO TAX BICYCLISTS.

Florida Also Desires More Revenue From Car Companies.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 13.—In the legislature at Tallahassee a bill was introduced providing for a special tax on all bicycles in use in Florida, and an other new measure attacks the Pullman and other sleeping car companies with a special assessment and a special tax. This is in addition to the small mileage tax now assessed on all such companies whose cars are run in Florida.

Their Wages Advanced.

Pittsburg, May 13.—Today the managers of the Moorhead Bros. Vessalus Iron works, located at Sharsburg, voluntarily advanced the wages of their 50 employees an average of 15 per cent. Every employee received an increase in pay.

Strike and Lockout.

Providence, R. I., May 13.—All 87 of the mills at Providence are shut down today. Nine thousand operatives are idle by the strike and lockout.

STATE NEWS GLEANINGS.

The boom in oil has started many operations in Potter county. The sheriff of Elk county was fined $25 for killing trout with lime. Six quarrymen, who struck at Bangor, have returned to work at their old wages. Lancaster's Young Men's Christian association will spend $40,000 on a new building. Rascati at Columbia scattered tacks in the street and the tires of thirty bicycles were ruined. A bicyclist at Reading ran over and dangerously injured the young son of Richard J. Wall. A new rolling mill, 214 feet long by 31 feet wide, is being built by the Pennsylvania Steel company, at Steelton. In ten years 12,000 people have been married in the city of Philadelphia, which is about one-third of the total population. Bethlehem police are looking for a scoundrel who has on two occasions placed dynamite bombs near Mrs. Esther Miller's residence. Daughters of the Revolution at Norristown have formally protested against the removal of General Hancock's body to Arlington.

The moral crusade has struck Wilkes-Barre and Mayor Nichols fined Elizabeth Stewart $1,000 for renting a house for a questionable purpose.

RESULTS OF THE COLD WAVE

Chicago Given Cheering News from Fifteen States.

NEW YORK GRAPE CROP RUINED

Much Damage Is Done to Crops Elsewhere—Snow Storms in Michigan and Wisconsin—Pennsylvania Gets a Slight Taste.

Chicago, May 13.—Cheering news comes from the fifteen states visited by frost yesterday morning. The crops are reported safe. Wheat and oats escaped unharmed, because neither had begun to joint, and where cut down by the frost or heavy rains will sprout again. Corn was lightly nipped by the cold in a few states, but not enough to occasion the slightest alarm that the yield will be affected to any noticeable extent. Small fruits, garden truck and vegetables have suffered from the frost in a few states, but not enough to occasion the slightest alarm that the crop is more promising.

Predictions were made by the weather bureau last night that fair and warmer weather would visit Chicago today. Reports from the various signal stations showed a rising temperature in all of the states west of Illinois.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 13.—The cold wave seems to have done no damage in this region owing to the high wind which prevailed last night. Frost, however, is feared tonight.

Tejuay Is Slight Here.

Johnstown, Pa., May 13.—General inquiry made in all parts of Cambria and Somerset counties leads to the information that the frost early this morning did not do extensive damage. Orchards escaped serious damage, while the tender garden truck, such as tomatoes and cucumbers, were somewhat blighted, but on the whole the injury has been little if any.

Reading, Pa., May 13.—As far as can be ascertained from all sections of the state, the frost in this section of Pennsylvania by the sudden fall of temperature. The lowest point reached was 41 degrees.

Columbus, O., May 13.—Assistant Secretary of War Pleasants, of the state board of agriculture, states the frost in Ohio last night did little damage except to the early sweet corn and strawberries.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 13.—Reports received here from all sections of Wisconsin indicate a general frost, accompanied in many arts by high winds and snow, reaching in some cases the severity of a blizzard. The freezing weather and snow began last night and continued throughout today. Early frost and vegetables, not of the hardy kind, and much grain have been destroyed.

Snow Shows at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 13.—Western and northern Michigan was visited by a heavy snow storm today, and great drifts of snow were piled up. The storm is heaviest through the fruit belt. In this city the fall of snow commenced about 3 p. m. and is not as great as it is reported from all around, especially from the northern part of the state, where reports indicate a heavy blizzard. Snow plows were sent from this city to clear the tracks. Snow to the depth of 16 inches is reported.

HE PRAYED TOO LOUD.

A Brooklyn Glazier Gets Into a Fight in a Synagogue.

New York, May 13.—Pencus Pomeranz, a Brooklyn glazier, went to a synagogue in Grand Central station today. He prayed so loud that the rabbi, a young man, whose father has a butcher shop under the synagogue, told him to be quiet. The glazier talked back and Finkelstein pulled his whiskers. In the fight that followed, the glazier's brother and father took a hand, and between them they floored the glazier.

When order was restored Pomeranz lay prone in his tracks. The rabbi's whiskers were gone and he had two cuts in the head. He secured a summons for the arrest of the Finkelsteins.

SKELTON IN A MOUND.

Remains of One of the Early Explorers Unearthed at Alton.

Alton, Ill., May 13.—While removing an old Indian mound in the heart of this city today workmen took out a skeleton which looked unlike that of the natives frequently found, and close by its side was unearthed a large steel, brass mounted rapier of the make of 1800 years ago. How the white man came to be buried here among the savages before the country was civilized is an interesting problem that may never be solved. One theory advanced is that the man was a follower of Father Marquette on his tour of discovery down the Mississippi, who died and was buried here with his sword.

COMPANY G WILL LIVE.

Sufficient Number of Men to Maintain Organization Will Be Enlist.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Montreal, May 13.—Company G, Third regiment, will live unless something supernatural intervenes. The number sufficient to maintain its organization will be forthcoming next Thursday, when annual muster and inspection occurs. The company has had no trouble in enlisting men, but the high cost of clothing obtained by the company caused those in command to exclude all who would, by habits and personality, reduce the company to an inferior grade. Many old members are re-enlisting, and it seems as if everybody was heart and soul in keeping Company G here; Lieutenants McCausland and Jessup were boating and enthusiastic when seen today, and Captain Alney, though not seen, was said to be silently re-joining.

DRANK A QUART OF WHISKY.

Joseph Swartz Entertains His Friends and Then Drops Dead.

Shamokin, Pa., May 13.—A crowd of men this morning went to a saloon with Joseph Swartz to see him drink a quart of whisky for a wager, and they emerged with a little bearing his courage. It was a tradition that Swartz could drink two quarts of the reddest liquor at one time, and when the question arose as to whether he could swallow the quart Joe shrugged his shoulders contemptuously. Without ceremony he ordered the fiery liquor. Down his throat coursed the stuff, and his eyes sparkled. Finally the last drop was down, and Joe cast a triumphant glance at his companions. Then he coughed and sneezed a big.

His brain had been trained, and he said his nerves tingled as though a thousand needles were pricking him. Foster went his feet, until he suddenly fell in the air and grew deadly pale. He groined, dropped to the floor, and the merry shouts of his comrades died into exclamations of alarm. They rushed to his side and he seemed in awful agony, but unable to utter a word. He became senseless in a few minutes and then died.

ECKLEY B. COXE DEAD.

The Well Known Coal Operator Passes.

Drifton, Pa., May 13.—Eckley B. Coxie died at his home here at 10:25 o'clock this morning, aged 56 years. Mr. Coxie had been suffering from rheumatism for several weeks. This was followed by a bad cold with pneumonia. Dr. Da Costa, of Philadelphia, and other well-known physicians were brought here, but the disease could not be checked.

TRIES TO KILL HERSELF.

Detroit Widow Takes Poison and Later Jumps Into a Lake.

Duluth, May 13.—Mrs. Mary E. Cameron, a widow 45 years old, whose home is in Detroit, Mich., tried to commit suicide here today. During the night she took poison in her room at the Spalding hotel, but her stomach refused to retain it, and the attempt was unsuccessful.

SHOT WHILE ASLEEP.

As Senator Morrissey Slept a Mand Lewis Put a Bullet in His Brain.

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Senator Peter R. Morrissey was murdered while asleep in bed about 3 o'clock this morning by Mand Lewis, at his home, 212 1/2 Washington street. The woman sent a bullet crashing through Morrissey's brain, placing the muzzle of the pistol against the sleeping man's left eye and pulling the trigger. She also shot him in the mouth.

REBELS DISPERSED.

Government Troops Are Victorious at Havana, May 13.—General Suarez Valdes, commanding the government troops in the north coast provinces, reports that his forces have had an engagement with the insurgents at San Lorenzo Mosones at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, in which the rebels were dispersed. The government lost one officer, killed. The rebel loss is unknown.

CIGARETTES SHUT OUT.

City Council of Ripon, Wis., Adopts a License of $500.

Ripon, Wis., May 13.—The city council passed an ordinance requiring a license fee of $500 for the sale of cigarettes. This virtually prohibits their sale. Cigarette smoking in public buildings is made punishable by a $10 fine.

WASHINGTON CHAT.

Senator Mitchell comes back from Wisconsin greatly surprised at the growth of the coal trade in that state. General Casey, late chief of engineers, United States army, who retired on Friday, is quit ill from a chronic complaint. Secretary Hoke Smith has invited the delegates to the Southern Baptist conference to go to Mount Vernon as his guests on Monday next. Howard Krete, the new superintendent of the Philadelphia mint, and W. E. Morgan, former of the mint, will assume their respective duties on Monday, May 20. Second Assistant Postmaster General Nelson will, within the next two weeks, close an agreement with the Broadway Surface line for a street railway mail service on Broadway, New York. The last chapter in the Mexico-Guatemala incident was closed last Wednesday, when the Mexican senate ratified the treaty, which provided for a settlement of the boundary dispute between the two countries. The president has appointed as civil service commissioners the following: William G. Rice, of Albany, N. Y., to succeed Theodore Roosevelt; ex-attorney John H. Harlow, of St. Louis, to succeed Charles H. Lyman. The report circulated that Japan is negotiating a treaty with Nicaragua which will give her important privileges in connection with the proposed Nicaragua canal proves to be without the slightest foundation in fact. The Furman Manufacturing company and the Morgan Envelope company, of Hartford, Conn., have been awarded the contract for supplying the postoffice department with registered package envelopes, tag and dead-letter envelopes for the next fiscal year.

WEATHER REPORT.

For eastern Pennsylvania, increasing cloudiness with rain; cooler, southerly winds, becoming northwesterly.

JACKSON FAVORS THE TAX

That Is the Opinion of Close Observers at Washington.

DECISION WILL BE SUSTAINED

The Impression Regarding Justice Jackson's Probable Decision Gains Ground Daily—A More Cheerful Feeling at the Treasury.

Washington, May 13.—Justice Jackson called at the white house today and paid his respects to the president. He expects to leave for Tennessee tonight or tomorrow in the expectation of returning here in time for the October term of the court, and his house is being put in repair in anticipation of his taking up his permanent residence here at that time.

The officials of the government interested in revenues are much more hopeful of a favorable decision by the Supreme court on the income tax. While formerly expressing the belief that the income tax law would be upset, they now say that they believe the facts in reference to Saturday's conference of the Supreme court make them confident that Justice Jackson has voted in favor of the constitutionality of the law, at least as respects the points on which the court was divided. The income tax returns already received at the treasury department are being classified and recorded. Although the officials are extremely reticent on the subject, it is believed that the rent exemptions will amount to 59 per cent of the whole. The whole number of returns made under the law are approximately 150,000, and the estimate is made that these represent not more than 75 per cent of the number of persons legally liable under the law. The recent decision of the court is sustained next Monday, as is now regarded as altogether probable, the delinquents will certainly be proceeded against as rapidly as possible, and it is thought that the 50 per cent penalty imposed by the law will not be omitted in any case. It is asserted that persons who have failed to make returns have done so with a clear understanding of the law and in many cases have refused to comply with it, on legal advice, preferring to take their chances of being compelled to pay the penalty.

FOUND BURIED TREASURE.

A New York Man Digs Up a Box of Gold and Silver Money.

Riverside, N. Y., May 13.—John A. Peterson, a resident of Baiting Hollow, while excavating for a cistern on the premises of George B. Wells Tuesday last, found an old iron box containing a quantity of gold and silver coins. The money had evidently been deposited where it was found for at least a century. There are those who insist that Peterson discovered some of the gold once belonging to Captain Kidd, Peterson refuses to discuss the find.

SMALL COAL WAR.

Local Dealers at Rome, New York, Sell at Job Lot Rates.

Rome, N. Y., May 13.—There is a coal war on here among dealers backed by the coal companies. Coal which has been retailing at 45 per ton since last fall, dropped last week to $35.50, then to $32.25 and is now sold at $3. It is said that the Ontario and Western and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western companies are at the bottom of the fight, and that each is trying to force the other out of the field.

MURDERED FOR SHOUTING.

Indiana Youth Fatally Bitten at a Base Ball Game.

Franklin, Ind., May 13.—During a base ball game here Friday, Chester Overstreet, aged 19 years, was sitting in the judges' stand, and made himself conspicuous by yelling at the players in the game. This enraged James Rothbust, who threw a brick at the boy, fatally injuring him. Rothbust is 24 years of age, and was intoxicated. After striking the boy he refused to allow anyone to enter the stand to see how badly he was injured until forced to do so by the police.

GAVE A CERTAIN CURE.

Patrons of a Green Bay Man, However, Appeal to the Law.

Green Bay, Wis., May 13.—Henry Delaney, a prominent merchant tailor of this city, was arrested today by government officials charged with using the mails to defraud. Delaney, who alleges he advertised in the PITTSBURGH DISPATCH and other eastern papers to give the receipt of a cure for the liquor habit for $1. The receipt, it is claimed, was to take the pledge and keep it. The complainant in the present case is a Pittsburg minister. Delaney was given a hearing before the court commissioner and bound over.

DEATH IN A BEER BOTTLE.

Poison Thought to Have Killed a Rich Man and His Farm Hand.

Mont Sterling, Ill., May 13.—A dose of poison is supposed to have caused the sudden death Friday of James Robinson, the richest stock raiser and land owner in the county, and Frank Mayfield, his hired man. The two drank a bottle of beer and both became suddenly ill. Mayfield died yesterday. Some of the beer was brought here to be analyzed.

STRIKE IN A WOOLEN MILL.

Four Hundred Girls Hoot at a New Foundation.

Trenton, N. J., May 13.—Four hundred girls employed in Samuel K. Wilson's woollen mill went on strike for several hours this morning on account of the action of Superintendent Hill in dismissing William McGregor, who had been foreman in the weaving department for fourteen years. When Charles F. Sloan, of Philadelphia, the man appointed in McGregor's place, appeared at the mill this morning, he was hooted and jeered at by the girls.

while some of the smaller boys in the place attempted to kasso him with a rope, but the girls prevented this. Sloan was then chased out of the mill and through the streets by a large crowd of girls and boys. Superintendent Hill and Mr. Wilson both refused to consent to McGregor's retention, and after about three hours parading the girls decided to go to work again after being promised fair treatment by the new foreman. Superintendent Hill is himself a new man, and the dismissal of McGregor is taken as indicating a change in the heads of the different departments.

PRESIDENT CATCHES FISH.

Mr. Cleveland Surprises His Friends with Seventeen Speckled Beauties.

Washington, May 13.—Mr. Cleveland has surprised fishermen in this section of the country in being able to find trout in a stream within a few miles of Washington. Such a thing had been unheard of until yesterday morning, when several friends of the president received presents of "speckled beauties" brought back by him. The size of each had dwindled today from first reports, and Mr. Cleveland is now credited with only seventeen trout. The family at Woodley are making arrangements for going away for the summer. It is likely that Gray Gables will see Mrs. Cleveland and the children by the first of June and the president will accompany them there, returning to Washington for a short stay as soon as they are scattered.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Moore Baker Is Attacked by an Unknown Thug.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 13.—Mrs. Baker, a young farmer of Franklin Park, Pa., was here from here, was murderously assaulted last night on the Franklin Park road by an unknown person. It is supposed that the crime was committed by a colored man in revenge against the law. The man, who was a negro, was seen on the night of March 1, 1894, to find that his wife and child had been murdered by the two negroes in his bedroom. Baker will recover.
