NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

F. W. Pearsall returned from Springfield, Mass., last evening.

Engineer George Wolbaugh is sick at his residence, 1519 Lafayette street.

Captain W. A. May will address the Gospel meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Martin Kane, of the car shops, will start on a trip to Omaha, Neb., this evening, where he will visit his relatives.

Changes have been made in four of the south branch passenger trains on the Jersey Central road between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

The Philadelphia and Reading railroad is in the market for 1,000 King hopper gondola cars of 60,000 pounds' capacity, for July and August delivery.

A very successful meeting was held in the car shops yesterday, when Superintendent Sanborn delivered a practical and stirring address. Mrs. Munson sang two excellent solos.

District Passenger Agent M. L. Smith yesterday presented the association library with a copy of the "Great Northern Country," and G. M. Hallstead presented a copy of "Scranton and vicinity.

South end crews on the Delaware and Hudson road have been transferred to the north end, to assist with the large number of extra trains, which are necessary owing to the increased traffic. It is not anticipated that the extra trains will be permanent.

The latest proposed competitor of the railways is an electric mail car, which is to run over an elevated track eighteen feet from the ground, supported by a cable, and is to make the trip between New York and Chicago in five hours, or at the rate of about 200 miles and hour.

PARADE AT CARBONDALE

Fine Showing by the Junior Order of American Mechanics.

COUNCILS THAT WERE IN LINE

Luzerne Members of Order Did Not Put in an Appearance—Eloquent Address Delivered by Attorney J. F. Reynolds—Decorations Everywhere.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Carbondale, Pa., May 17.—Today occurred the celebration of the thirty-sixth anniversary of the organization of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. Early in the morning music filled the air, many flags saluted the breezes and business houses were resplendant with flags and bunting in honor of the occasion. The day was perfect and the early morning trains brought many visitors to the city.

The reception committee of Carbondale council, headed by the Germania band, met the visiting lodges as they arrived and escorted them to the lodge headquarters in the new Leader building, on South Main street. The morning hours were occupied in making the final preparations for the big parade, which was to occur in the afternoon. Owing to the Luzerne county councils being unable to secure the railroad rates they desired they were not present.

The parade formed on River street and was made up as follows: In front of the line mounted on horses rode Chief Marshal William R. Barger, First Assistant Henry H. Pierce, Second Assistant A. B. Cook, George Gilbert, L. Carey, R. H. Barnes, of this city; W. Dykeman, of Peckville; H. E. Van Kleeck, of Jermyn, and S. Myers, of Archbald.

Occupants of Carriages.

Next came Germania band, followed by carriages. The first carriage contained Chief of Police J. J. McAndrew, and Officers John Bell, James Bell and M. Barrett; second carriage, Mayor E. E. Hendrick, ex-Mayor C. E. Rettew and A. P. Trautwein; third carriage, Revs. A. Jones, T. E. Jepson, and G. A. Place; fourth carriage, city officials and councilmen; fifth carriage, officers of the Junior Order United American Mechanics; sixth carriage, the prominent speakers of the day.

Organizations in line were: Cyclone band, of Peckville, Dundaff council, No. 623, of Uniondale; Burnwood council, No. 63, Forest City; Council No. 950, Blakeslee council, No. 329; Glover council, No. 999, of Archbald; Citizens' band, of Jermyn; James Stuart council, No. 703, of Jermyn; Pioneer council, No. 932, of Carbondale.

An amusing feature of the parade was a live goat driven by one of the order with the inscription "Our Goat, No. 932.".

Line of March.

The line of march was as follows: Up River street, countermarched at Union Station to Salem avenue, Main street to Salem avenue, to Church, to Lincoln, to Washington, to Salem, to Main, and disbanded at Anthracite hotel.

The address of welcome was delivered by Attorney J. F. Reynolds and won hearty applause. The following is a brief synopsis of the speach:

"It gives me pleasure on behalf of the Pioneer City to express today the heartiest words of welcome to the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. We fully appreciate the honor of your presence and wish that when you leave us you will take with you only kindly remembrances of Carbondale and her people.

"As I look out upon this large assembly representing so many different sections of our state, and so many thousands of our order, I am impressed with the thought that we are living in a day and age of associations.

"The wonderful stimulus given to the progress of events of recent inventions make individual effort seem tame and powerless. Great combinations of capital build the factory, work the mine, lay the railroad, and do a thousand things impossible except by concentration of millions of money in single enterprises.

"All the great reforms of the day, social and political, are being agitated by associations formed for the purpose and the success or failure of a society or order is due, in a large degree, to the extent that individuals are interested in the particular objects for which it was founded.

Principles of the Order.

"This fact established, the wonderful growth and prosperity of your order has led me to examine somewhat in detail the aims and objects of your society. In your declaration of principals a copy of which I hold in my hand, I find your society pledged to the support of our public school system; to such reform in our immigration laws as will exclude the criminal and the vicious.

"Three decades ago misguided men sought to undo the work of generations, and tear away some of the stars from our national emblem. There were 4,000,000 bodies in fetters! 4,000,000 souls in chains. To blot our the stain of human slavery the flower of the north was fitted against the chivalry of the south in awful conflict. Such is our union of the past. What of the future?

"The awful chasm which separates the north from the south is rapidly closing, and in a few days we shall witness the repetition of that sublime spectacle of soldiers of the blue and soldiers of the gray. Heroes all, clasping hands over the graves of their fellow comrades. I see a country in which the high shall come down to the low, and the low come up to the high; where the rich shall descend to the poor, and the poor ascend to the rich. Then, and not till then, will the object of your society be accomplished." Closing he wished the society continued prosperity.

MR. KEMMERLING CHOSEN.

Elected Delegate and President by Epworth Leaguers.

An union meeting of the Epworth leagues of Scranton and vicinity was held at the Elm Park church last evening, when upwards of 600 delegates were present from the following Methodist churches: Elm Park, Asbury, Providence, Simpson, Park Place, Hampton Street, Cedar Avenue, Dunmore, Little England and German Methodist Episcopal church.

The principal business of the evening was the election of the union delegate to attend the national convention at Chattanooga, Tenn. The following were the nominees: Miss Rooney, of Asbury church; M. E. Worden, of the Simpson church; A. C. Myers, of the Cedar Avenue church, and Henry Kemmerling, of Providence church. The first ballot resulted as follows: Kemmerling, 181; Miss Rooney, 94; Worden, 56, and Myers, 52.

In order to obviate a second ballot, Captain May suggested that the election be made unanimous, and said that an arrangement had been made whereby Miss Rooney would withdraw from the election and she would act as second delegate and her expenses paid. Miss Rooney's friends, however, objected to this course, and claimed a second ballot. Mr. Myers withdrew, and the final result was announced, amid great cheering, as follows: Kemmerling, 143; Rooney, 103, and Worden, 32.

During the evening Mr. Kemmerling was also elected president of the union. Several excellent selections were rendered by the Elm Park Male quartette.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the delegates adjourned to the banquet room, where they were entertained by the home league. In the social which followed, considerable amusement was caused by the distribution of cards to the gentlemen, and duplicate cards to the ladies. A question was written upon each card and the ladies were requested to search for the gentleman holding the duplicate of their card and obtain from him an answer to the question.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH.

Greenwood Presbyterians Will Celebrate the Event Tomorrow.

Greenwood Presbyterians will celebrate the dedication of their handsome new church tomorrow afternoon. It is an event that will be welcomed by them, as for years they have been worshipping in the school building at great inconvenience owing to the numbers of the constantly growing congregation and the lack of room in the school.

The finishing touches are being put on the interior woodwork, and by this evening Contractor Ward, of Taylor, will have completed the church. It stands in the center of an acre plot parceled out of the rustic grove situated on the easterly side of the main road leading to Pittston. Although not of large dimensions, 24 by 40 feet, yet it is a model of architecture, Romanesque in appearance. The body of the church is capable of seating 200 worshippers, and there is, perhaps, one-sixth of the area occupied by the pulpit, which stands in the auditorium.

At 10.30 tomorrow morning Elder Thomas Ellis, of the Moosic Presbyterian church, will preach a sermon and then will be the first time religious exercises will have been conducted. The dedicatory sermon in the afternoon at 3 o'clock will be preached by Rev. N. G. Parke, D. D., of Pittston, and in the evening at 7.30 one of the attending clergymen will preach. Besides Dr. Parke, the ministers who will be present are: Rev. Thomas Bell, of Plymouth Congregational church, of the West Side; Rev. Mr. Jones, of Taylor; Rev. Mr. Lindamuth, of Moosic, and Weissley, of Avoca. The full choir, fifteen voices, will assist in the dedicatory exercises.

It will be a rare musical treat.

FOREIGNERS IN DISTRESS

They Applied to the Poor Board for Assistance of Different Kinds.

ARE UNABLE TO SPEAK ENGLISH

Came to This Country in Search of a Fortune but Were Unfortunate—Mr. Gibbons Defines Where Relief Should Be Given.

Three instances were given of destitution prevailing among the immigrants from European countries at yesterday's meeting of the poor board. Nicholas Ramera, an Italian, was introduced to the board by Rev. L. Danna, the Presbyterian missioner, who explained that Ramera was unable to understand or speak the English language, and had been in this country but fourteen months. During the past seven months he had resided at Dunmore among the Italian element, but owing to an affection of the heart, he is totally unable to bear any exertion, and cannot, therefore, earn his livelihood. He has a wife and four children in Italy and petitioned the board to pay his transportation to his native land. The board favorably discussed his application, but upon the motion of Mrs. Swan the matter was referred to a committee comprising Directors Murphy and Tropp, with power to act, and it is understood that if the facts are verified, the committee will arrange for his transportation.

Rev. L. Danna also brought before the board the case of Frank Rucci, who was injured a few months ago on the Elmhurst boulevard by an explosion of dynamite. Rucci had not been in this country a sufficient time to acquire a residence and the Elmhurst authorities had refused to receive him. His case was referred to Attorney Scragg and Mr. Tropp to report to the board as to the district's responsibility for Rucci's maintenance.

Other Applications for Relief.

Mrs. Michael Guskuski, of 224 River street, who was also unable to speak English, applied for relief, and her case was referred to Mrs. Swan. Mrs. Antony Yankowski, of 417 Elm street, whose first husband was killed some time ago, and whose second husband was killed three months ago, made an application for assistance, and was allowed $5 a month for three months.

A letter was read from T. T. Morgan, of the West Side, stating that he was prepared to adopt the child of Alice Pritchard, who was leaving the Hillside Home on May 27. Mr. Morgan made a condition that the child should be called "Ivor Morgan."

Mrs. Swan introduced the question of placing a limit upon the amount of outdoor relief granted to persons who were property owners. She contended that the taxes were not raised with the intention of relieving such persons, and suggested that some action should be taken by the board for future guidance. Mr. Gibbons, in referring to a case which had been before the board, said that it was not a difficult matter to exercise individual judgment in all applications. People who were in want of food, whether property owners or not, must be relieved, and they could take it for granted that anyone possessed of $10,000 worth of property would not receive assistance.

Cannot Morally Refuse.

There were many cases where poor people had an interest of $200 in property, where the board could not morally refuse their support. After some further discussion it was decided that the president appoint a special committee of two directors to report upon all future cases.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Swan, Gibbons and Williams, was appointed to visit the different orphanages in the city and report to the board as to the children whom it would be advisable to indenture.

A plot of land near the home purchased in May, 1894, by Superintendent Beemer on behalf of the board, was formally transferred yesterday and the deed ordered to be recorded.

GRAY-HAIRED SINNER.

He Was Not to Be Wondered At, Being from Luzerne's County Seat.

John McDonald, 73 years of age, a hardened old Wilkes-Barre sinner, was found drunk and asleep in the rear of Reeve's store on Washington avenue, Thursday afternoon. It required the united efforts of Patrolmen George and Reese Jones to convey McDouald to the station house.

He resisted and tugged and insulted every person they passed on the way to the lock-up. Alderman Millar fined him $10 yesterday for exhibiting his Wilkes-Barre manners. He paid the fine, and when he got outside again made the air blue with profanity.
