This Tribune is for Sale Daily at the D. L. and W. Station at Hazleton.

SCRANTON, MAY 24, 1895.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money.

Carlisle's Memphis Speech.

The widespread interest manifested by all classes of people in the financial question is a sufficient excuse for the publication, elsewhere in this issue, of the complete text of Secretary Carlisle's speech, delivered yesterday before the sound money convention at Memphis, Tenn.

The gist of this second utterance of Mr. Cleveland's official representative is embodied in its concluding paragraph.

where, in general terms, he declares his belief that the federal government should cease to exercise supervision over the banking business.

This is no doubt meant as a compromise for the benefit of the Southern Democrats and Populists who desire to return to the old system of wild-cat state banks.

It is also a direct encouragement of the nearly abandoned subsidiary warehouse scheme. Both these projects are nominally designed to "afford the people an ample opportunity to supply their own currency based upon their own means and credit."

The matter of Apportionment.

If the congressional reapportionment bill reported to the senate be a fair sample of what the present legislature would be likely to do if called upon to renew their efforts at reapportionment, then the commonwealth may well be rid of the whole business.

Whittlings of Wit.

A man arrested and looked up for being full can always be bailed out.—Galveston News.

Men of might are often those who might have made a success in life, but didn't.—Byracuse Post.

The most profitable business in this world is getting other people to work for you.—New York Record.

When a man goes out between the acts to tolerate further evasion, equivocation or jugglery.

The average citizen has gone about his routine duties blissfully indifferent and perceptibly unmindful.

For a Board of Public Works.

The Chittenden ordinance creating a board of public works, to comprise the mayor, the city engineer, the building inspector, the street commissioner, and one councilman from each branch of councils, and vesting in this board the power to supervise and direct the expenditure of all moneys relating to street and bridge repairs, sewers, public buildings and lights is obviously a sensible proposition.

That Tax on Beer.

At a time when even those high in authority in this state are driven by the scarcity of available revenues to recommend the cutting of the school appropriations, in order that the state's asylums and hospitals may not be crippled, it is satisfactory to note the success in the house of the movement to impose a special emergency tax of 24 cents per barrel on all beer brewed within the state.

Wise and Otherwise.

While public attention is being centered upon the silver question, some facts presented in a Washington letter to the Herald will possess interest.

COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

An elderly man knocked the ashes from his cornucop and said with a deliberation worthy of his years.

Will Have to Hustle.

It stands the Wilkes-Barre choir in hand to be up and doing.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD

The Philadelphia Record appears to take great pleasure in poking sarcasm at Admiral Meade, who is a brave soldier, a considerate gentleman and a patriot.

THE REPORT THAT COLONEL DAN LAMONT

contemplates an early retirement from Mr. Cleveland's discredited cabinet would, if confirmed, prove a compliment to his discernment.

SOME OF THE BASE BALL GAMES played in the Eastern league would seem to indicate that even robust professionals are at times subject to that tired feeling.

THE WILKES-BARRE BASE BALL CLUB

would confer a favor upon Manager Barne's pets by notifying them in advance whenever it intends to lose.

One of the pleasant duties which will probably devolve upon the next president will be to restore gallant Admiral Meade to active service and thus give the lie to Grover Cleveland's churlish reprimand.
