WAVERLY SCHOOL CASE

Called Up in Equity Court on Final Hearing.

MANY WITNESSES EXAMINED

Arguments Made by Attorneys A. A. Voburg and H. M. Hannah—Plaintiff's Arguments Will Be Heard Today. Franklin Avenue Case Heard.

Before Judge Edwards in equity court yesterday morning the injunction proceedings of George E. Stevenson against Professor F. C. Hanyon, principal of the Waverly graded school, and N. C. Mackey, J. L. Stone, Lester Stone and Joseph H. Hanyon, members of the Waverly school board, came up for final hearing. The court is asked by the plaintiff to prevent the reading of the Bible and the holding of what he believes to be sectarian religious exercises prior to the opening of school each day.

The case has aroused great interest, and there was a large delegation of Waverly men and women in the court room all day who listened with great interest to the proceedings and the arguments of the array of legal talent. Attorneys Hulslander and Voburg, H. M. Hannah and A. D. Dean represent the defendants, and Attorney E. C. Newcomb and Attorney John F. Kelly represent the plaintiff.

The case was heard yesterday morning, and the plaintiff, Mr. Stevenson, was called to the stand and gave his testimony.

Cause of the Trouble.
He said that on March 1 he visited the Waverly graded school and was present during the opening exercises. There are three rooms in the building but the pupils of all met in Professor Hanyon's room for the morning exercises.

On the day he was present the scholars sang a hymn which was written on slips of paper, the first line of which was, "We shall never say goodbye in Heaven." A reading from the King James version of the Bible followed, and then the thirty-second Psalm was read in a responsive way.

Next a hymn was sung from the "Happy Hours" song book, after which the first Psalm was repeated by the teachers and pupils in concert.

C. Mackey, 10 years of age, a pupil of the school, was the second witness, and testified that the order of opening exercises were usually as testified to by Mr. Stevenson. They frequently were requested to sing, "We Shall Never Say Good-bye in Heaven" and "Benedictus in the Shewards." Last December Rev. Mr. Thomas visited the school and at the request of Professor Hanyon made an address. He spoke on religion and asked those who were followers of Jesus to hold up their hands in the building, gave testimony to reform at the earliest moment possible.

Mahoney's Made Complaints.
Rev. Mr. Broe also visited the school and addressed the pupils by request of Professor Hanyon. He spoke on the necessity of knowing that the future lives of the pupils depends on their education. Witness and his parents objected to the form of worship indulged in at the school and lodged a complaint with Mr. Stevenson. On cross-examination Mr. Mahoney said that it was the custom of Professor Hanyon to invite all visitors to address the school. On one occasion Father Driscoll called and was asked to speak. He said he did not want to urge his convictions on the pupils, but would like to tell them the meaning of the cross.

Andrew Mahoney, father of the previous witness, said that himself and wife objected to the exercises in the school because they did not think that the proper place to impart religious instruction. Rev. Mr. N. Vall is an old school Baptist pastor and a member of the school board. He declared that he was opposed to the religious exercises and after he heard of the visit of certain clergymen to the school, he drew up a resolution and presented it to the board, forbidding any person to address the pupils on religion or politics.

Misses Sadie and Sophia Mahoney enumerated the songs sung in opening the school and the general character of the exercises. Miss Catharine, one of the teachers in the building, gave testimony as to the exercises complained of and the plaintiff testified.

Versions Were the Same.
Professor F. C. Hanyon was the first witness called for the defense, and testified as to the nature of the opening exercises at his school. His story was substantially the same as that related by the witnesses for the plaintiff.

Rev. A. B. Broe was recalled to the stand and examined the "Happy Hours" hymn book. It was contended that this is a Methodist hymn book. Mr. Broe, after his examination, said that it did not contain one selection usually found in the Methodist hymn books. That closed the testimony, and Attorneys A. A. Voburg and H. M. Hannah made the closing arguments for the defense. They said that the King James version of the Bible had been read in the public schools of this state ever since they were first founded; that such reading was not sectarian teaching, but that the Bible is the foundation of all Christianity, and far removed from the taint of sectarianism.

Mr. Hannah did not conclude his argument when court adjourned and will resume this morning. He will be followed by Mr. Newcomb, who will present the arguments of the plaintiff.

Franklin Avenue Injunction.
Before Judge Gunster in chambers argument was heard on the injunction asked for to restrain the People's Street Railway company from laying a track on Franklin avenue alongside of the track of the Suburban company.

Attorneys Horace E. Hand and J. Alton Davis, who represented the People's company, offered in evidence an ordinance authorizing the track of the Suburban company on Franklin avenue to be moved to one side to admit of the laying of a track by the defendant company. Attorney I. H. Burns, who represents the property owners of the avenue, objected to the ordinance on the ground that the title is not in harmony with the body of the ordinance.

Mr. Burns also produced a decision of the supreme court which prohibits two companies from laying tracks on the same street. Court took the papers and will hand down its decision later.

THREE HUNDRED GIRLS.
Received the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Three hundred little girls were confirmed yesterday morning at St. Peter's cathedral. It was the feast of Ascension Thursday, and after the children had been seated in the center aisle a high mass was celebrated. The church was crowded with friends of the happy little ones.

After mass Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Rourke ascended the altar, and seated there imparted the sacrament of confirmation upon the children. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Leonard acted as sponsors in the service, as they did for the boys last Sunday.

The bishop addressed the children and spoke to them of the graces and blessings that God would bestow on them with the reception of this sacrament. They were asked to open their hearts and receive the bountiful mercies that are ready for the pure souls.

The children marched to the altar and knelt before the bishop. Rev. Fathers O'Reilly, Campbell, Milne and Feeley assisted in the ceremony. Each young soldier was presented as is the custom, with a silver medal as a memento.

MR. HEWITT'S VERSION.
The Fertilizing Works Near Taylor Have Been Officially Approved.

Proprietor F. H. Hewitt, of the Hewitt Fertilizing establishment, is inclined to take exception to the published reports of the proceedings before Alderman Wright, so far as they indicate that he has disregarded the interests of the community in the matter of offensive odors. He says that more than a year ago he consulted Dr. W. E. Allen, of the state board of health, health officer for this district, as to the sanitary condition of his plant. Dr. Allen, Mr. Hewitt says, made a number of visits to the plant, and the result of his examination was that the plant was in good sanitary condition, and that the use of improved machinery, added that the plant as it stood was not deleterious to the community.

The Hewitts, however, have ordered an entire outfit of new machinery. The boiler is already in place, and by Monday next, it is expected that a steam drier, with a deodorizer and other improved attachments, will be put in. This machinery, Mr. Hewitt explains, was ordered several months ago of Smith & Brothers, Newark, N. J., and should have been in readiness by the middle of April, but unavoidable delays prevented. The case, unless settled in the meantime, will probably come before the next grand jury.

JAMES CAVILL KILLED.
A Belated Explosion Caused His Death in Pine Brook Shaft.

James CAVILL, of New street, was killed at the Pine Brook shaft last evening by a shot which exploded at a short distance from the place he was standing.

Cavill had prepared two holes and made the charges and retired to a safe distance after they were fired. Hearing a report he waited some time, and not hearing the second report, he decided that the two charges had gone off simultaneously, and went back to the scene. Scarcely had he arrived before the second charge exploded, scattering huge pieces of coal and rock in all directions, and striking him in the head. Two large holes were found and pieces of bone were forced from the skull. His companions conveyed him to the surface and he was rushed to the hospital for the ambulance. He was taken to the Moses Taylor hospital, but died before reaching the institution.

He leaves a widow, but no children, and was well-known as a member of Bauer's band.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

Ordinance Creating Such Department Introduced by Mr. Chittenden.

CHANGES IT PROPOSES TO MAKE

Funder Ordinance Passed on First and Second Readings—Proposals to Furnish Hose for the Fire Department—Passed on Third Reading.

Mr. Chittenden, chairman of the streets and bridges committee, at last night's meeting of select council reported favorably an ordinance creating a board of public works and enlarging and regulating the powers that now vest in the street commissioner. The gentleman stated that the ordinance was brought about in deference to the agitation by the boards of trade for better street repaving.

The text of the ordinance provides that beginning with the first Monday in April, 1896, the city engineer, building inspector and street commissioner, together with a councilman elected by and from each branch of the council, shall constitute a board of public works, of which the mayor shall be an ex-officio member.

The board shall have supervision and direction over all money expended for street and bridge repaving, cleaning and repairing of sewers and for the maintenance of public buildings and the placing and erection of street lights.

The ordinance gives the board the power over the consideration of expenditures and estimates. Each year, about March 1, a list of the most necessary and pressing improvements and repairs will be placed by the board before the estimate committee of council.

The board shall have power to employ and discharge workmen, but no man can be engaged for a longer permanent time than that which will entitle him to an amount of $720 for wages.

The city engineer can appoint inspectors of construction who must be competent and experienced men. The streets, bridges and culverts, sewers, drains and lights shall be divided for administration purposes into four districts as follows: First district, First, Second, Third and Thirteenth wards; Second district, Fourth, Fifth, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards; Third district, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth wards; Fourth district, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth wards.

No Alarms Need Apply.
One foreman will be appointed for each district and the preference to laborers must always be given to residents of the district in the following order: First, property owners; second, full naturalized citizens; third, aliens who have got out their first papers; fourth, aliens.

The street appropriations shall be increased as much as possible, but the appropriation for each district shall not be less than the amount of the present appropriation for the wards comprising each district.

The ordinances were referred back to the streets and bridges committee in conjunction with the city solicitor to frame it so that it will be thoroughly constitutional.

Proposals were received for the furnishing of hose for the fire department from Boston Woven Hose and Rubber company; W. P. Connell & Sons; S. F. Hayward & Co.; New York; Eureka Fire Hose company; New York; Eureka Fire Hose company; Gutta Percha and Rubber Manufacturing company, of New York; Pacific Fire Hose company; and Mineralized Rubber company, of New York. The bids were referred to the fire department committee with instructions to award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder.

The resolution that came over from common council awarding the contract to the lowest bidder was referred to the Economy Steam Heat company, was concurred in. The contract price per annum is $1,327. W. P. Connell & Son received the contract for changing the heating system of the city hall for $954.

The Funder Ordinance.
Common council passed at last night's meeting on first and second readings the ordinance requiring street railways companies to use fenders and wheel guards. It provides that from and after the approval of the ordinance that it shall not be lawful for any railway companies using the streets of the city of Scranton to run any car or cars unless provided with the most modern improved fender, or fenders, with both front and wheel guards, and the same must at all times be securely attached to the cars. The companies will be required to comply with the provisions of the law within sixty days, and any failure will subject such company discharging them to a penalty of $5 per day for every car operated without fenders.

Ordinances that passed on third and final reading were as follows: Providing for the grading of Webster avenue from Mulberry to Vine streets, and the appointment of viewers to assess the expense of grading, paving and the construction of a lateral sewer on Ferber court from Mulberry street in a northeasterly direction to Olive street, and providing for the construction of the approaches to the Spruce street bridge.

Mr. Keller introduced a resolution directing the attaches of the city building and city police and engine houses to hereafter not use electric lights. The resolution passed, but was afterwards reconsidered and sent back to committee.

LEYBORN UNDER ARREST.
He Ignored the Warning Given Him by the Court.

John Leyborn, of the Palestine hotel, North End, was arrested last evening and arraigned before Alderman Llewellyn Roberts upon a charge of selling liquors without a license. The prisoner waived a hearing and entered bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court.

Two years ago Leyborn was granted a license by the court, but failed to take it out, and it is claimed sold drink in the meantime, in defiance of the law. He made another application at the last license court, when it transpired that he had broken the law, and his application was refused. He was warned at the time to discontinue his illegal practices, and was notified that the county detective would keep his establishment under surveillance.

Mr. Leyborn made investigations, and on May 11, when Buffalo Bill's Wild West show was performing at the Drive-in park, Constable Timothy Jones and himself honored the Palestine house with a visit and tasted of the intoxicating beverages sold by Leyborn. Other men were drinking at the same time and sufficient evidence was obtained to secure a conviction.
