SITTSER-DUNHAM CONTEST. Judge Archbald Sat as a Member of Commission During the Week. Judge R. W. Archbald and Court Stenographer H. H. Coston returned yesterday from Laporte, Sullivan county, where the judicial commission had een during the week taking testimony in the Sittser-Dunham contest. The testimony of the contestants in Sullivan county was finished on Thursday. Judges Rice, Archbald and Searles were appointed to hear evidence in the that they must sit in Sullivan county, The judicial district consists of Sullivan and Wyoming counties, and in order that the witnesses from Wyoming will not be forced to travel over to Laporte, the judges have appointed Mr Coston commissioner to take testimony in Tunkhannock on June 17. The commission could not sit and take testi mony in Tunkhannock for the reason before given, but the judges will go there and look on so that they can observe the character of the witnesses.

Mr. Coston will take the contestants' testimony on June 17 and 18, and that of the respondent on June 19 and 20. On June 24 the commission will sit at respondent in Sullivan county.

but they will be there not in an official

An interim of perhaps a week or more will then elapse and a time will be fixed when the judges will count the ballots that were cast for each of the judicial candidates at the last election. Events of a Social Nature That Have Transpired During the Week-Surprise Party Tendered to Dr. Matt Ross-Personal Montion.

There is absolute stagnation in so Lily Bell's Little Sister of the Wilderness ciety circles. The season of post-lenten gayeties is over and we are now in the calm of the valley between spring and summer. This respite is being used by many in planning for the summer outing and in the supervision of fetching gowns for walking, riding and driving that will be displayed at the mountains and seaside resorts during the summer months. Quiet New England nooks, far from the madding crowd, are great favorites with many of Scranton's society people, and arrange-ments are already being made by a number of persons who will seek rest and recreation amid the hills or along the shores of that portion of the coun-

> Summer resorts hereabouts are renovating in preparation for the season and within two weeks all of the hotels at Mount Pocono, Thornhurst, Lake Carey, Harvey's lake, Lake Winola, Lily Lake, Crystal Lake, Lake Sheridan and the other resorts in this part of the state will be open and prepared to receive the rush of persons anxious to escape from the heat and strife of the

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning a party of Scrantonians left for Harford, Susquehanna county, to attend the commencement exercises of the Soldiers' Orphan school at that place. Those who comprised the party were Commander S. B. Mott, wife and daughter, Colonel E. H. Ripple, Major J. B. Fish and grandson, William Love and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. William Blume, Mr. and Mrs. John Fern, Willram Kelper, David Nelson, Decker M. Glles, D. D. Jones, A. J. Clark, Moses Morey, Stephen Sloat, L. J. Northrup, D. W. Brundage, Joseph Harper, S. H. Stevens, W. P. Schoop, John Westpfahl, John Anneman, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe, James F. Greene , Henry W. Loftus, E. W. Pearce, George Preston. They returned to this city at midnight.

At the cosy country home of ex-Representative and Mrs. W. K. Beck, near Moscow, an interesting celebration took place Thursday night. It was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Beck, and they invited their friends to join with them in observing the occasion. Beautiful decorations, artistically arranged about the house and grounds, gave the place a festal appearance and lent inspiration to the occasion. The guests were entertained in a most hospitable manner. Those from Scranton who attended were: Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wint, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Guernsey, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carr, Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. Kate Hawley, Mrs. B. F. Killam, Misses Emalene and Yolande Killam, Miss Francia Killam, Dr. E. M. Green, Attorney S. W. Edgar.

For the past year Dr. Mathew R. Ross, of Short avenue, has illustrated the sessions for the Park Place Methodist Episcopal church by crayon drawings on the blackboard, and after-wards briefly explaining his illustrations to the school. As he has considerable talent as an artist his pictures have been highly interesting. To show their appreciation for his work the members of the Sunday school gave him a surprise party Thursday night, and spent an enjoyable evening. During the festivities Rev. George T. Price, in behalf of the Sunday school, made a brief speech, thanking the genial doctor for his work in their behalf, and at its close presented him with a purse of money, a couch and an office chair. The doctor responded in a short speech in which he unsuccessfully attempted to tell of his high appreciation of the gifts, also of the good will shown him. Before departing the guests were served with refreshments which the ladies in week. the party had provided. The doctor has now completed arrangements by which he will draw the illustrations Laporte and hear the testimony of the for some of the leading Sunday schools of the city.

> At the Methodist Episcopal church at Throop Wednesday evening a very pretty wedding ceremony took place, which bound together for life Miss Ansley Mae Banfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Banfield, and Joe Benton Fahringer. Rev. F. S. Ballentine, pastor of the church of the Good Shepherd, of Green Ridge, performed the ceremony. Miss Tillie Birtley attended the bride, and the groomsmon was Frank Fahringer, brother of the groom.

The home of John W. Schultz, 1318 Ash street, was the scene of a pleasant surprise party Wednesday evening, the occcasion being his sixty-second birthday. Rev. Hendiges presented, in behalf of Mr. Schultz's friends, a very handsome rocker. After refreshments were served the party dispersed, wishing Mr. Schultz many happy birthdays.

The musicale and dance to be given in the Scranton Bleycle club house Tues-day night by Miss Wilcox for her pupils and their friends promises to be a large and enjoyable affair.

A party was given by Mrs. G. A. Hill, of South Hyde Park avenue Thursday afternoon in honor of the elevently birthday of her miece, Miss Myrtle Morning and Was Followed by Attorney E. C. Newcomb for Plaintiff.

Ex-Senator M. E. McDonald, City Editor James O'Connor, of the Truth, and Mr. Fontaine, of the New York World, spent yesterday fishing in Wayne county. Attorney Hannah resumed his argument in the waverly borough school district equity suit yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. George Hills, of Nanticoke before Judge Edwards. He said that the supreme court of Pennsylvania and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hills, of Pitts burg, were in the city yesterday attending the funeral of Edmund Lucker. forces every citizen to observe Sunday as the Sabbath, notwithstanding the Dr. J. The speaker deprecated the amount of stress laid upon the decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin by the attorneys for the petitioner. No word was spoken, he said, in the Waverly school by Principal Hanyon which touched or grated upon the consolence of any of the pupils. What the constitution says with reference to raising money for the support of the public school does not mean that the Bible shall not be read in the public school. If it was the purpose of the makers of the constitution to exclude the Bible from the school they would have said so plainly. Mr. Hannah quoted from debates in the constitutional convention to show that the Bible is not a sectarian book and from speeches made by delegates to the constitutional convention and afterward discussed the question whether or not the Bible is ectarian book.

Attorney Newcomb Argues. George Lane, of Honesdale, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. S. R. Henwood, On the part of the plaintiff Attorney E. C. Newcomb concluded the arguments of the case. He began with the remark that the opposing attorneys would have the impression prevail that the court was asked to allow a reign of religious terror to prevail in Waverly if the Bible reading by Professor Hanyon shall be stopped by law. The plaintiffs do not deny that the laws of Christianity are co-ordinate with the laws of the constitution but it is only in so far that no person shall be permitted to publicly or in any shame ful way revile Christianity or the founder of Christianity, and the plaintiffs only seek that the court shall de cree a freedom of the public schools from secular influences according to the section of the constitution which says that "all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship God according to the dictates of their con-sciences. The Jew is not compelled to relinquish his right to worship on the seventh day according to his belief, but his social surroundings and the law of the state makes it sometimes mandatory upon him to attend courts on Sat-urday. Yet his right to worship on that day has not been interfered with. The Supreme court of Wisconsin, Mr. Newcomb said, had laid down three Mercer County Case. The only case that has been tried guest of friends on the West Side during heretôfore in Pennsylvania was one out in Mercer county, and the court decided that reading of the Bible was city Thursday looking after his business for the moral benefit of the pupils. If these exercises are distasteful to any one or number of pupils they cannot returned from a visit with Waverly remain away from school because the law just enacted makes it imperative upon them to attend school.

Mr. Newcomb referred to the fact that there are certain chapters in St. Mathew which would wound the feelings of a Jewish pupil; and there are many Catholic children who would be offended when Professor Hanyon would undertake to propound any part of the Scriptures, because it is a cardinal point of Catholic belief that no one but one ordained is capable of interpreting the Scriptures.

In conclusion he urged upon Judge Edwards to dispose of the case in the interest of harmony and peace in the schools and borough of Waverly. Court was asked to give due weight to the opinions of the Wisconsin Supreme court. The briefs were submitted and the argument in one of the most fam ous cases of the state ended at 11.30, when court adjourned.
