THE WORLD OF BUSINESS

STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, May 25.—On favorable crop news and a further break in wheat stocks showed a rising tendency in the early trading. The Grangers were the strong features; conlers also were strong. The rise in all these shares was equal to \(\frac{1}{4}\)assume and the special ties was due principally to purchases for commission houses. In the closing deals wheat suddenly shot up over 3 cents on alarming reports from the west. Speculation closed rather weak in tone. The list shows losses of \(\frac{1}{4}\) to \(\frac{1}{2}\). Total sales were 10,000 shares.

The range of today's prices for the active stocks of the New York stock market are given below. The quotations are furnished The Tribune by G. du B. Dimmick, manager for William Linn, Allen & Co., stock brokers, 412 Spruce street, Scranton.

What is claimed to be one of the biggest shipments of iron ever made in America is now going out of the Phoenix Bridge company's works. Last Friday the company sent a train load of structural iron to the Lake Street Elevated raidroad, of Chicago. This is the second train load. The first train consisted of twenty-six cars and carried 600 tons. The second train consisted of twenty-sight cars and contained 700 tons of iron. On next Saturday another train will start for Chicago with the balance of the structural iron. The three trains will make an aggregate of eighty-five cars and over 2,000 tons.

TUNKHANNOCK.

The repairs and improvements to be made upon the county bridges at Forks-ton and Lovelton were let to Apollas Ferris and Harry Jennings for a total of $191. The work consists of building wing wall and approaches to the Forks-ton bridge and cribbing to protect the abutments under the Lovelton bridge. Eleazer Dana is building a large porch on his residence.

Miss Mary Macy, who spends the winters in New York city, has returned to her summer home here.

About 2 o'clock Saturday morning Miss Sarah A. Whipple, an unmarried lady who keeps the toll house at the river bridge, was awakened out of a sound sleep by the bursting in of her door. Jumping out of bed, she was confronted by a masked man, who pre-sented a revolver and gruffly told her to climb back into bed again. Another to climb back into bed again. Another lady, Miss Electa Harding, was sleeping with Miss Whipple, the only occupants of the house, while the robber was reinforced by two pals, each wearing a mask. The terrified screams of the ladies were cut short by the men, who told them that they would not be harmed if they kept their mouths shut. "It's money we're after," explained one of them, "and we're going to have it." The quaking mistress of the house told them that there was not much money them that there was not much money in the house, but what there was, was in the kitchen. One man stood guard while the others searched the house ransacking bureau drawers, emptying chests, and even raking out the ashes from the stove and shaking out the pillow cases on the bed in which the wo-men were lying. They secured from $30 to $35 belonging to the bridge com-pany which had been collected as toll during the week, and $53 of Miss Whipple's own money, a gold watch, chain, and other articles, amounting to about $100 in all. Then bringing in ropes, they began preparing to bind and gag the defenseless women, but the latter plead so hard that they were finally let off with a promise not to give any alarm under two hours. The women alarm under two hours. The women lay still until daylight before venturing out to awaken anyone. A pick, file, raliway torch and a heavy pole used in battering in the door were found lying about. There was nothing to give any clue to the identity of the robbers, but it is not improbable that they are the same gang that has been operating in Bradford and Sullivan counties, supplemented possibly by lo-counties, supplemented possibly by lo-cal talent, for they evidently knew the ground they were working. The bridge tolls are allowed to accumulate during the week and taken in charge by D. Billings, the treasurer, Saturday night, and they doubtless had knowledge of this when they planned the burglary. One man is described of short heavy lambs, $3.50a5.75.
