

Our Neighbors Down the Valley.

WILKES-BARRE.

The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 23, Lawrence street, Erie Square, Wilkes-Barre, for the transaction of business. The publishers propose to extend the circulation of the Tribune in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding towns, and to that end will present a very complete department of Luzerne county news. For access in this undertaking dependence is placed solely upon the support of the Tribune as a purveyor of all the news of the day—domestic, foreign, local, commercial and financial. The general interests of the people of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming valley will have in The Tribune an earnest and editorially independent, otherwise it is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the Tribune of Philadelphia and New York papers can touch them.

THAT INJUNCTION.

Returnable Next Monday—The Commissioners of Luzerne County, Norton and Dullard say they are not in the least disturbed by the preliminary injunction granted by the court restraining them from letting contracts for the erection of the new court house under the Meyers plan. There is not much doubt, however, in the mind of any one that the injunction will be made permanent after the hearing next Monday. The petition of the erectors complains that the commissioners have advertised for bids for the erection of a new court house and propose to award contracts according to plans and specifications prepared by one E. E. Meyers; that the said commissioners have not secured a site on which to erect such court house, nor have the plans been accepted by them; nor have the plans and specifications been submitted to the judges of the court of common pleas as required by an act of assembly; whereas the judges have no legal authority to enter into a contract to build a court house according to said plans or to accept bids for the construction of the same.

The commissioners therefore pray that the county commissioners be restrained from accepting any bid or bids for the construction of a court house or any part thereof, and from expending any of the money of the county in the erection or construction of such a building until plans and specifications have been submitted to the judges of the court of common pleas and approved by them, and until a suitable site for such a building is secured by them. Attorneys L. H. Bennett, G. L. Halsey and Henry W. Palmer are counsel for the petitioners and will make a strong case.

The commissioners laugh at the proceeding and seem to regard it as something in the nature of a joke. One of them remarked that the judges were not new court houses and want an elegant building, and will interpose no serious obstacle to the plans and purposes of the commissioners. Doubtless, the judges appreciate the necessity of a more convenient and commodious court house, but they also have some respect for public sentiment. They know there is no necessity for a million dollar edifice, nor will they place the stamp of their approval on the reckless manner in which the commissioners have proceeded. They are confident that the people look for and expect a permanent injunction early next week.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Tri-County Convention at Memorial Church Today.

One of the largest and interesting Christian Endeavor conventions ever held in this section, will assemble at Memorial Presbyterian church in this city this morning at 9:30 o'clock. It will be an all-day convention, an afternoon session being held at 1:45 and an evening meeting at 7:30. The convention will be composed of delegates representing the Christian Endeavor societies of Luzerne, Lackawanna and Wyoming counties. Thomas F. Wells, of Scranton, will preside over the convention. George H. B. Manning, of Pittston, will act as vice president, and J. C. Manning, of Pittston, as secretary. One of the special features of the sessions will be the singing of Professor and Mrs. J. J. Lewis, of Bethany church, Philadelphia, who have a national reputation as evangelistic singers. Those who arrived in the city last evening, and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dreisbach.

Rev. Dr. James McLeod, of Scranton, will preach the convention sermon at 11 o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. J. Lewis, of Wilkes-Barre, will give the address of welcome. J. J. Parkhurst, president of the Wilkes-Barre union, will make some remarks, and the response will be by Thomas F. Wells, of Scranton.

At the meeting, an evening one of the principal addresses will be given by J. T. McCarty, of Pittsburg, on "Good Citizenship." He is said to be an admirable speaker, and has been an earnest worker in various reforms in the city of Pittsburg. The convention will be of great interest.

MEMORIAL DAY.

How It Was Observed in Wilkes-Barre—The day's devotion to the memory of the fallen heroes of the grand army of the Republic, decorated the soldier graves in the several cemeteries in the usual way. Flowers were not as abundant as was desired, owing to the backwardness of the season, but every soldier grave was beautified. In the afternoon Coneyham post, Grand Army of the Republic, decorated the soldier graves in the several cemeteries in the usual way. bids. This story has not been verified, but no complications that can arise in connection with this new court house middle will occasion surprise. It may well be doubted if the local contractors would have a case against the commissioners in any contingency. Probably there is not a contractor in the city who has at any time seriously believed that the new court house would be erected in the immediate future, or by the present commissioners, or according to Architect Meyers' second-hand plans. For that reason very few contractors in the city even so much as examined the plans. A few, however, have figured on estimates.

THIEVES AND FIRE BUGS.

Daring Hobberies and Reckless Incandescence.

The people of this city and surrounding towns are gradually becoming aroused to the fact that the community is infested with the most serious and incendiary thieves and firebugs. The importance that the utmost vigilance be observed not only by the public authorities, but also by the citizens themselves. Extra efforts should be put forth to capture at least some of the desperadoes who unquestionably have established their headquarters in this locality. The attempt to fire four different buildings in a single night has already been noted in these columns. It was also the robbery of Albert Lewis' store at Harvey's lake, and others of smaller magnitude. To these crimes must now be added the daring burglary at the residence of Richard Martin, of this city, when $1,000 in money and silvers were taken. The long enough to conclude a case that was on. The court house presented a deserted appearance for the first time in many weeks.

A SLIGHT EXPLOSION.

Six Men Burned, but None of Them Severely.

An explosion was occurred at No. 3 tunnel of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company yesterday morning, by which six men sustained burns, but fortunately none were seriously injured or caused any injury to themselves. The explosion was caused by a gas which was ignited by a match. The explosion was caused by a gas which was ignited by a match. The explosion was caused by a gas which was ignited by a match.

An Oratorical Contest.

An interesting contest took place in the A and B grammar grades of the Parish street public school yesterday morning, under the direction of Principal Harvey and in the presence of Superintendent Coughlin, and many parents of children attending that school. In Grammar A department the contestants were Ethel Coronway, Francis P. Hunt and John R. Williams. All three declaimed Lowell's "Vision of Sir Raoul." The adjudicators were Superintendent Coughlin, Cora Hutchinson and Daisy M. Boone. All did remarkably well. The first prize, a handsome copy of the "Vicar of Wakefield," was awarded to Ethel Coronway, and a beautiful bouquet of roses to John R. Williams. In Grammar B department the contestants were Matilda Maier and Anna Glida. "The Black Horse and His Rider," was recited. Matilda Maier was awarded the first prize, a copy of "Arabian Nights." After short addresses and the singing of some patriotic songs, the pleasant entertainment came to a close.

Booth Coming.

It is officially announced that Commander Booth, of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Mrs. Booth, will come to this city about June 12 and conduct a campaign here. The Salvation Army have given up their hall at the corner of Jackson and Canal streets, and have erected a large tent on Dana street, near Grove, where they will hold their services hereafter. The first meeting in the tent was held last evening. The officers of the local Salvation Army announce that they will wage a lively campaign in this section during the summer months, and special work will be done while Commander Booth remains here. Major Hapkin will have charge of the meetings from now until the commander arrives. One great meeting will be held in the Grand Opera house.

Seared the Burglar.

An attempt was made to burglarize the bakery of H. L. Moore, on South Main street, on Thursday night. A candle was lighted, and the burglar, who was working his way through a window and hurled an iron mallet at him and he speedily took to his heels.

MORE TROUBLE.

Local Contractors to Have Some Fun With the County Commissioners.

The Record is authority for the statement that several local contractors who have spent a good deal of time at the court house examining the plans of Architect Meyers, and who have put in bids for contracts on the new court house, propose bringing suit against the commissioners for damages in case they are permanently enjoined from accept-

Who Took the Century Run.

The century run from Wilkes-Barre to Danville and return was successfully conducted yesterday by the West End wheelmen. Those who made the run were: George Pasfor, pacer, Kari Robert, Harry Lynd, Lloyd Peffer, and Taylor, aids; William Newberry, Charles Ruetter, Harry Garrison, Will Wagner, Charles Bertles, Edward White, Bert Hoessler, Will Hessler, M. Hertel, Will White, Thomas Thomas, M. Keizer, Z. Moyer, Fred Reutheuber, F. P. Owen, Phil Hessel, Jesse Boyd, Robert Johnston, Oscar Smith, Harry Whitman, Harold Frantz, John Hier, James Smith, Thomas Derr, Fred Smith, B. Jackson, G. A. Dewitt, Will Schlunman, George W. Laycock, William Cray, C. A. Lumsden, E. L. Kilple, Thomas McDermott, J. F. Nicholson.

Holiday at the Court House.

There was little business done at the court house yesterday. Sheriff Walter served notice of the preliminary injunction on the county commissioners restraining them from awarding contracts for the erection of the new court house, and then closed his office for the day. The grand jury met in the morning and adjourned without transacting business. Judge Rice held equity court in the forenoon, but long enough to conclude a case that was on. The court house presented a deserted appearance for the first time in many weeks.

The Sopranos Engaged.

The board of managers of the June festival have completed their list of artists by the engagement of Miss Katherine Hilke, of New York city, to sing the solo part in "The Seasons," and by that of Miss Anna Walker, of Brooklyn, who will take the soprano part in Dr. Mason's opera. Both of these singers come highly recommended. Robert Bauer, of Scranton, has the contract for the instrumental accompaniment. A first-class orchestra will help the chorus interpret "The Seasons." The festival promises to be one of the most successful ever held in northeastern Pennsylvania.

To Prevent Vandalism.

It is not very greatly to the credit of this community that Mayor Nichols has deemed it necessary to appoint a large force of special policemen for duty in the cemeteries to prevent the stealing of flowers placed on the soldiers' graves yesterday by loving and reverent hands. It seems incredible that such vandalism is possible, but the exactions of former years warrants the action of the mayor. The persons who would thus despoil a soldier's grave deserves to be drummed out of the community by the living comrades of the dead veterans.

Burglars Again.

On Wednesday evening thieves entered the house of Richard Martin, a coal agent, on the corner of Weller and South streets, and made a clean sweep of almost every article of value in the house, including a pocket-book containing $100 in cash. All the silver, jewelry and a gold watch were missing. Mr. Martin at once notified the police, who have been constantly on the lookout for the perpetrators.

Stockholders' Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Vulcan Iron works yesterday the following were elected officers for the year: E. H. Jones, president and general manager; H. Baker, secretary; Fred G. Smith, treasurer; directors: N. Kuttig, M. W. Morris, H. E. Hillman, A. J. Davis, Charles Morgan, E. H. Jones, J. A. Stearns, Thomas H. Alther, Charles P. Hunt, Richard Sharpe, and Daniel Edwards.

Say It Is Not True.

The county commissioners deny that they have given Architect Meyers an order for the second instalment of $10,000. They will have to give it to him, however, whenever he demands his money. His contract with the commissioners is valid and having complied with his obligations under its conditions he will have to be paid, unless fraud can be shown.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Judge Woodward is at North Mountain for a few days. Hon. George W. Shonk is quite seriously ill and unable to give it to him, Mrs. Annie Thomas will lead a female choir from Pottsville at the Oratorio estedford in June.

make the baby fat? For the thin baby is delicate, and is not half so cunning. Give the thin baby Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Scott's Emulsion is as easy a food as milk. It is much more effective in making thin babies fat, and they like it. If all the babies that have been made fat and chubby and well by Scott's Emulsion could only tell their story to the mothers of other sickly babies! There wouldn't be enough to go round.

BOTTLES OF LEATHER.

The Most Antiquo Form of Liquid Convenience.

Bottles of leather have been employed in Asia and Africa from the earliest times. In the modern world they are the receptacle for water or wine in use not only in those countries, but to a considerable extent in Spain, Italy and Greece. Made of the skins of sheep, goats, calves, heaves, are employed, and a refreshing coolness is imparted to the water within by the constant evaporation from the outside.

PITSTON.

Memorial Day was observed in a very quiet manner at Pittston and vicinity yesterday, as the usual parade was dispensed with on account of the several excavations on Main and other streets, caused by the laying of sewer and gas pipes. The day was extensive and the veterans of the grand army of the Republic, assembled at the post headquarters at 10 a. m. and were conveyed in wagons from there to the three cemeteries where the usual decorations were made. The veterans of St. John's parochial school had gathered at Market street cemetery to assist in the exercises, and sang several patriotic songs and appropriate hymns in a manner which did great credit to their tutors. The veterans next visited the Pittston and other cemeteries. The West Pittston cemetery the veterans gathered around the monument erected to the memory of Dr. N. G. Nugent, and paid their usual tribute of honor.
