The new navy dark blue uniforms of the band and hose company are very becoming. The coat is of square military cut pattern, and the cap is ornamented with gold cord. The entire cost of them will be from $25 to $30.

The new Lehigh Valley lunch cars have made their appearance on the road. They are an experiment in the line of traveling comfort, but promise to be a popular innovation. Instead of being obliged to purchase a regular meal at from 75 cents to a dollar, patrons may stop in and purchase sandwiches, coffee, cake, or any of the eatables usually found at a railroad restaurant. The beauty of it is that the traveler doesn't have to ride until half starved and then gulp down hot coffee and poorly maintained food lest his train should go off an embankment. He eats as he rides.

The band concert was not as largely attended as might have been desired, but the music was first-class and the women who took part fully sustained their reputation. The selections were all fine and nicely rendered. The boys cleared about $2.

Wade Jayne is home from Stroudsburg Normal school.

Joseph Lovelova was down from Lynn yesterday to take in Memorial Day exercises.

Albert A. Northrop and Frank D. Miller represent the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor society at the tri-county convention at Wilkes-Barre today.

Memorial Day was quietly observed here by J. W. Reynolds post and the citizens generally. In the forenoon squads of veterans who had been previously detailed for the purpose went to Eaton, Dixon, Lemon, East Lemon and other outlying cemeteries and decorated the graves there. At 12:45 the old soldiers formed at the post room and, headed by Temple Commandery band, marched to Gravel Hill, where the usual services were held and a short address delivered by Rev. W. M. Miller. Immediately afterward the band left for Lake Winola to fill another engagement and the vets sat around, smoked cigars and told how they traded hardback for tobacco with the Johnnies twenty-five years ago.

The Tunkhannock creek bridge abutments will be completed this week and the iron work will be swung into place as rapidly as possible thereafter.

PECKVILLE.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blackwell, last Wednesday evening, Miss Della Blackwell, eldest youngest daughter, was married to John Handerson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Guist, of the Baptist church. Miss Ida Wood, of Moosic, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Jennie Drake, of Ransom, also a cousin of the bride, was the groomsmen. The wedding march, by Mendelssohn, was played by Miss Jennie Telford, of Blakely. At 8 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor which was exquisitely decorated and the marriage ceremony was performed underneath a magnificent floral horse shoe suspended from the ceiling. The bride was attired in a gown of cream silk trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore a pretty dress of cream cashmere, and carried roses. After the marriage ceremony the newly married couple and their immediate friends and relatives enjoyed an excellent wedding past. Their young couple are well known and highly esteemed in society circles. About sixty guests

The Bethlehem Iron company made a record within the week ended Monday when its No. 6 blast furnace made an output of 1,020 tons of pig iron. Three-eighths coke was used in the manufacture. This is the biggest run of pig iron ever made by any furnace in the Lehigh valley.

The Lehigh Valley Coal company, which operates the Jenneville collieries, have ordered two new steam shovels for their stripmines. The company intends to do an enormous amount of work this summer. The new arrangement will furnish employment for a large number of men.

It is alleged by the Central Iron works of Harrisburg and others that the Pennsylvania Railroad company carries coal from points in the soft coal regions through Harrisburg to Philadelphia and Greenwiche pier at a rate of from $1.10 to $1.35 per ton, while it charges the Harrisburg purchasers $1.40 to $1.80 per ton.

L. H. Foster, engineer, representing the General Electric company in the construction of the Baltimore Belt Line railroad, says that the first electric locomotive to be used in hauling freight and passenger trains over this road has been successfully tested and will be shipped to Baltimore in a few days. This locomotive is the first of its kind ever built, and is expected to haul passenger trains at a minimum rate of thirty miles per hour. The electrical system will probably be an actual operation on this road about June 15.

During the nine months ending April 1 the United Kingdom was our largest customer in general of the most of the rest of lines of manufactures, and one of the largest in all. Out of a total of $7,589,000 of exported American cottons, England took $2,800,000, or more than all the rest of Europe and twice as much as Mexico. Out of the total of $3,200,000 exported manufactures of iron and steel, England took $200,000, or more than all the rest of the Argentine republic or Brazil, which have been supposedly our best customers for such goods.

The Lehigh Valley railroad has taken a firm stand for an increased percentage in the through west-bound freight pool. The percentages were much more three years ago and the company is now carrying a much larger proportion of the business than it did then, owing to the completion of its Buffalo extension. Vice President

Wilbur has approved this position, and the matter will come up at the next meeting of the Trunk Line association.
