STOCKS AND BONDS.

New York, June 1.—The transactions at the stock exchange today aggregated only $9,000,000. Speculation was featureless, and the changes in the main lines, grain and anthracite, coalers being confined to the fractions. Industrials, however, were in demand, and some of them scored material gains. Distillers were strong for a time, but near the close became dull. Speculation closed quiet and steady, with net losses for the day of 1/4 per cent. The specialties and Industrials, except sugar and distillers, however, gained from 1/4 to 3/4 per cent.

HONESDALE.

Saturday's New York Herald contained an elaborate account of the capture in New York city Friday afternoon of the thieves that robbed the Scranton postoffice last August. Honesdale people rejoice with Scranton in the capture of these men, not only because such dangerous men are now in the pale of the law, but also because it removes all unjust suspicion cast upon the characters of the Scranton postoffice clerks.

DOOMED TO DEATH.

Tortured by Untold Misery—No Pen Can Describe His Sufferings—A Terrible Stricture Cured by Dr. F. B. Smith, the Only Magnetic Physician Located in Scranton—312 Wyoming Avenue.

Mr. Charles Dana, who resides at Archbold, has given us permission to publish the following account of his sufferings and may be referred to in person or by letter.

Seven years ago Mr. Dana suffered from an attack of typhoid fever which was followed by a serious affection of the bladder, which terminated in a stricture. It is impossible to describe his sufferings, and after his recovery from the fever he began to experience great difficulty in passing water. The difficulty increased until one day he found it utterly impossible to void a drop of water. His family physician was called and tried to draw his urine with a very critical condition, with death staring him in the face. A consultation of physicians was called who decided that the only means of relief was to draw the urine by means of an aspirator. The needle was inserted in the bladder through the walls of the abdomen and proved successful. After the immediate danger was over an effort was made to pass a steel sound into the bladder, but proved a total failure, and for more than six years Mr. Dana remained in bed, his health gradually growing worse until he became bed-ridden. The aspirator at this time refused to relieve him and he was on the verge of the grave. When he sent for Dr. F. B. Smith and staff he had little if any hope of ever finding permanent relief in this world. Dr. Smith, after a careful examination, told him that he felt confident that his magnetic treatment combined with medical, and if necessary surgical treatment, would give him permanent relief. With this understanding the treatment was then and there commenced. The patient was placed in a hot bath which had no effect whatever. The doctor then placed his right hand over the lower part of the abdomen, the left hand in the small of his back and immediately the urine began to flow. This treatment was continued once in eight hours for four days, when the doctor succeeded in passing a sound into the bladder. Eighteen cubs from a magnetic battery was then used with the most gratifying results. Mr. Dana was speedily cured and is today a well man. Dr. Smith remains from business. They treat all forms of strictures and without pain or tenderness from business. They treat all forms of chronic diseases and may be consulted free at No. 312 Wyoming Avenue, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., except Sundays. Letters of inquiry must contain postage.

Miss Nell Moran, of Dunmore, visited Minooka friends yesterday. The handsome residence of John P. Unlinger, on Main street, is rapidly nearing completion. The Greenwood Nos. 1 and 2 collieries will resume their old schedule: Idle three first days of the week. The school board will meet this afternoon.

This is Crowell. From the Wayne Independent. Montrose papers are indignant because we gave John Smith Miller's residence Montrose. John was the printer who sojourned up in Hotel Murphy after Washburn's circus. He gave Montrose as his residence and it so entered on "Squire Smith's" docket. He probably thought Montrose so near to New York that it would not be discovered that town was not his residence.

One of the coldest and most pleasant places to spend Friday evening will be at the home of Mrs. Nye, near Williams street. The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will give a lawn party on that evening, with ice cream and other refreshments. All will be made to feel at home, and a good time is guaranteed all. The Reading Coal and Iron company will hold in the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening at 6.30. The grounds of the tennis club are now in good shape, and some good games can be seen every evening between 6 and 8.

NEW MILFORD.

The New Milford dramatic society presented "Hickory Farm" at Jackson on Memorial evening, and was greeted with a crowded house. Those who had the pleasure of attending say good things for the entire company, with special emphasis regarding the singing of Lew McCallum. A pleasant dance followed the entertainment. It is whispered on the quiet that our street lamps have arrived in town and will soon be placed in position. The cornet band, of Halletts, will be among our musical aggregation to assist in the celebration of the "Ever Glorious." The Misses Belle McCollum and May Butterfield are on a visit to Detroit, Mich. Mrs. P. F. Jay, of Elmira, N. Y., is visiting at the Jay house. Mrs. L. A. Smith, of Kingston, Pa., is visiting in town. Mrs. Charles Doolittle died at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. E. Cornell, in this place on the 27th of May. Interment was made at Fair Hill, this county.

Mrs. Hand, of Buffalo, returned to her home at that place last Friday, after spending a few days with friends at this place. P. J. Davoport, of Passaic, N. J., is visiting at this place. Mr. Fairchild is moving to Scranton, and the new proprietor, Mr. Charles, has moved into the Dalton hotel.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

William Jones, of Plymouth, inside fire loss at Lance colliery, will leave on Saturday for a few months' stay in Wales. The record was broken at Jersey No. 8 on the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Co. company at Ashley on Friday, when 450 cars were hoisted from the mines and run through the breaker, the largest in the history of the colliery. The Reading Coal and Iron company's coal storage yards at Mahanoy City and Larderville, with an aggregate capacity of nearly 400,000 tons, are filled with surplus coal. It is said Reading now has more coal on hand than for months past.

Shipments of Lykens Valley coal over the Summit Branch railroad last week aggregated 9,975 tons, an increase over the same week last year of 1,516 tons. For the year to date shipments were 203,469 tons against 207,811 tons for the corresponding period last year, a decrease of 4,341 tons. The Lehigh Valley railroad has appealed from the decision in the fight for the right to run its business over the Lehigh, which has been rendered in favor of the Jersey Central. The Lehigh Valley had a monopoly of the traffic for ten years, but last winter the Jersey Central wanted to put in a siding, to do which it was necessary to cross the Lehigh Valley tracks at grade. Counter suits were then started in court, and Joseph T. Biery, who was appointed referee, decided in favor of the Jersey Central. The business amounts to $200,000 per annum. The Hanover Coal company's colliery at Sugar Notch has shut down for an indefinite time on account of the low prices that coal sells for in all markets and the limited quantity of coal remaining in the property yet to be mined. Mr. Driesbach, of the Hanover Coal company, stated to the Wilkes-Barre Record that if the large companies continue to overlook the market and sell their coal at any price the buyer chooses to pay other collieries of individual operators and companies will soon be obliged to stop mining in order to stop heavy losses. The Reading collieries made a spur last week, increasing their output about 14,000 tons, compared with the preceding week, while the increase, compared with the same week last year, amounted to 107,308 tons. Production for the first twenty-five days of May (partly estimated) aggregated 855,955 tons, divided as follows: First four days, 157,968 tons; week ended May 11, 234,534 tons; May 18, 229,700 tons; May 25, 243,863 tons. Last week's tonnage was the
