WRANGLE OVER GARB BILL

Piece of Legislation.

MR. SEYFERT'S PIERY ADDRESS

He Claims That the Bill Will Fill On Schools With Irreligious Teachers. Senate Amendments Agreed To.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 3.-The house net at 3.45 p. m., Mr. Harvey, Luzerne, offered a resolution asking for a spe cial order for the senate bill to repeal the law of 1878, for the division of counties. It is intended by this bill to shut off the people of lower Luzerne county. who are urging the passage of the Quay county bill, from having the power left to create a new county by petition, should the Quay county bill fail on final passage. The order was granted. The general appropriation bill was called up by Mr. Marshall and passed finally. The bill passed second reading appropriating $4,000 to the West Side hospital, at Scranton. The following house bills on the gen eral calendar passed finally: Regulating the admissions to the soldiers' orphans schools, raising the ages from 14 years to 16; giving preference of appointment or employment to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who fought for the union.

When the house met this evening the committee on rules reported the following order: First, senate bills on second reading; second, senate bills on third reading, and final passage.

Unanimous consent was given to take up the bill relating to the indigent insane of poor districts and providing for the same allowance for treatment as is now given by the commonwealth to state asylums, and it passed finally Religious Garb Bill.

The religious garb bill was returned to the house from the senate with the amendment imposing on the school directors a fine for employing teachers who were a religious gorb.

Mr. Smith, Philadelphia, moved that the house concur in the senate amend-

Mr. Seyfert, Lancaster, arose and said that the house should not agree to the amendment nor the bill, for it was the most damnable piece of legislation ever presented in this commonwealth. ### DOUGLASS AND HIS PLOW. The Irascible Individual Again Tears Up the Turf. Special to the Scranton Tribune Hallstead, June 3.-This afternoon

John R. Douglass, who claims to own Hallstead park, resumed his work of tearing up the sods and marring the beautiful green which for over a century has been undisturbed. Mr. Douglass at first sent his son to tear it up and pile it into a heap. After he had been at work for a while Officer Gage. who had been notified, appeared and compelled him to desist.

The boy went home at once, and Mr. Douglass appeared with blood in his eye and went to work very vigorously tearing up sod in one place and laying it down in another.

Officer Gage once more arrived and Flemming. They asked him to desist in the work in which he was engaged. He refused and indulged in various epithets, calling the officers names, which he probably used in his school boy days. As Douglass woud not stop, the officers proceeded to arrest him. He vigorously resisted the officers and a lively scene followed. Notwithstanding all of Douglass' talk and uttermost resistance, the officers walked him to the lockup.
