WILKES-BARRE.

[The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 28 Lanning building, Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, for the transaction of business. The publishers propose to extend the circulation of the Tribune in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding country and that end will present a very complete department of Luzerne county news. For success in this undertaking dependance is placed solely upon the support of the Tribune as a purveyor of all the news of the day—domestic, foreign, local, commercial and financial. The general interests of the people of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming valley will have in the Tribune an earnest advocate, editorially and otherwise. It is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver it to the people throughout northeastern Pennsylvania from three to five hours earlier than Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them.]

ACCEPTING THE INEVITABLE.

The people of Wilkes-Barre, who have so vigorously opposed the dismemberment of Luzerne county, are becoming more reconciled to the prospect of losing the lower end. The Hazleton people have no apprehension whatever that the new county will fall to the lot of the people in the territory directly interested. They reason that the more than 33,000 inhabitants clustered in and about the vicinity of Hazleton can outvote those residing in the more sparsely settled township of Luzerne and Schuylkill counties to be incorporated in the new county, and in this they are probably correct.

The political opposition to the new county in the Hazleton region will come from the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, and the heavy coal operators in that section who are apprehensive that increased taxation will follow. The individual property-owners appear to attach less importance to such considerations, especially those in Hazleton. They look forward to a new county for their city and not without cause.

A few of the townships proposed to be included in the new county will naturally vote almost against it, being so located that it will be more difficult for their people to reach Hazleton than it is to reach Wilkes-Barre. But these townships have only a small population and will be easily carried by a single Hazleton ward. It is quite safe to predict that when the question of erecting the popular vote it will carry by a decisive majority, but the majority will all come from Hazleton, Freeland, and Hazle and Foster townships. The portion of Schuylkill county to be attached will vote against the new county, but without avail.

BOOMING JUDGE RICE.

That the friends of Judge Rice are very much in earnest in their efforts to secure his appointment as one of the Judges of the new county court, is evidenced by the fact that committees of Luzerne attorneys are making tours into neighboring counties for the purpose of securing endorsements for him. This week a committee went to Stroudsburg and interested a number of prominent Monroe county men in Judge Rice's candidacy. Similar work has been or is being done in Columbia, Montour, Northumberland and Carbon counties. It may be said that Judge Rice's prospects are far from hopeless. Judge Rice's record as a common sense judge for fifteen years is without a flaw or blemish, and he would adorn the bench of any court.

POLITICAL POINTS.

There is considerable dissatisfaction expressed by numerous Wilkes-Barre Democrats on account of the action of the Democratic city committee in getting together on such short notice and selecting the delegates to the state convention. It has been alleged that less than a quorum of the committee was present, but of this the writer has no personal knowledge. The delegates chosen are Editor E. F. Bogert, of the Leader, Deputy Revenue Collector Brundage and Attorney E. F. McGovern. The delegation is a good one, however, and the Democrats ought to be satisfied. And, after all, what difference does it make whether the committee's meeting was at short or long notice? And what difference does the delegates are? One faction of the local Democracy simply succeeded in stealing a little march on the other faction, and that occurs frequently in Luzerne. One or the other of the factions always has a grievance of some kind. The same may be said of all political parties. Messrs. Bogert, Brundage and McGovern simply got the innings this year; next year the other fellows may get there.

TAYLOR.

The Taylor, Pyne and Holden mines will be paid today. Richard Griffiths, an old and respected resident of Pottsville, died yesterday afternoon at an advanced age. He leaves a wife and one child, a grown-up daughter. The funeral announcement will be made later.

The second team of the Scranton Young Men's Christian association played a team composed of members of the Price Library association a game of ball on Thursday afternoon on the Riverside grounds and were victorious by a score of 12-11. The game was exciting. Professor Weston, the physical director of the Young Men's Christian association, umpired the game and gave entire satisfaction. At the conclusion of the game the visiting team was entertained in the rooms of the association. A social was held to the public also, and proved a financial success.

Miss Grace Thomas, of Park Place, was a visitor in this city on Thursday. Mrs. George Hatfield, of Taylor street, is visiting relatives in New Milford.

PITTSION.

Fire was discovered in the Llewellyn block, on Luzerne avenue, yesterday morning at 4.10 o'clock. Mrs. Williams, who, with her husband and family, occupies the second floor, awoke with a choking sensation and found the room smoky. Although blinded by the smoke she grasped her infant child and escaped with it, while the husband rushed down stairs into the open air and gave the alarm, which was sent in from box 71. The West Pittston, Eagle and Niagara hose companies responded. As some of the hydrants in the vicinity of the fire were out of order, a general alarm was sent in, and the Eagles returned to the house for their fire engine. Even at the early hour of the morning our volunteer firemen responded with their usual promptness and the flames were soon under control. The building was owned by Prothromer G. J. Llewellyn, and was occupied by J. S. Llewellyn, lumber and hardware merchant, and Daniel Lazarus' confectionery store and ice cream parlor on the ground floor. The second floor was used for dwelling purposes, and the third was used by the Red Men as a lodge room. It is supposed the fire originated in the basement under the confectionery store. The interior of the room occupied by Mr. Lazarus was badly damaged, the walls and ceiling being destroyed as was also the stock of candies, cigars and an elegant soda fountain. The loss is about $1,300, on which there is $1,000 insurance. The hardware store of J. S. Llewellyn was badly damaged by smoke and steam. Mr. Llewellyn's loss is covered by insurance. The neighborhood effects of Mr. Williams were badly damaged by smoke and were not insured. The property of the Red Men was damaged by smoke, but is fully insured. The total loss will probably reach $3,000.

Suits for Damages.

The courts have recently had an unusually large number of suits for damages before them. The case of Dr. O'Malley against Parsons borough, for $10,000, came to a sudden ending yesterday, when the attorneys for the plaintiff entered a voluntary nonsuit and agreed to pay the costs. The suit was brought to recover damages for injury received on a neglected street, but the plaintiff could not prove that the borough had ever accepted the street.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The commencement exercises of the Pittston high school were held at Music hall Thursday evening. Another telegram from Fairbury, Neb., yesterday announced that Russel C. Graham, who was shot the night before, had died of his wounds. He always slept in the building, and it is presumed that the burglars made a raid upon the store and in the night he was shot. The fatal wound, which was in the chest, was in the region of the heart. TEVIOT SUITINGS

A Handsome New Fabric—Pre-Eminently an Ideal Costume Cloth—No End to the Purposes to Which It Can Be Put—Specially Adapted to Outdoor Wear.

The construction of this material somewhat resembles that of the Duck Suitings, so prominently in demand last season.

There is a distinguishing feature, however, about Teviot Suitings that separates them from any wash materials ever introduced to the American market. In fact, they are the most desirable cloth ever suggested for suit-making and walking gowns. In fact, they are almost indispensable, on account of the various uses for which they are adapted.

Their price, too, will meet the small, as well as the large purses. And their designs and quality are such as to insure perfect satisfaction to those who buy them. A little description may not be amiss.

An inspection is invited.

We might add that we control the sale of this fabric in Scranton.
