THE CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICES

Arrangements That Have Been Made at the Elm Park Church--Baptists Are Forging Ahead--Rev. George E. Guild Going to Europe.

With the coming of hot weather one would suppose that ministers and church workers would be inclined to lessen their labors...

Rev. W. H. Pearce will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon at Cazenovia college Sunday, June 16. Dr. Pearce's brother, Rev. L. H. Pearce, of Cortland, N. Y. will preach at Elm Park on that day.

There was a very pleasant incident in connection with the securing of the Schlager farm at Lake Ariel as a summer home for convalescents by the Men's Guild of St. Luke's.

There will be two special Gospel meetings held at the Island or Smith's grove, Piceburg, on Sunday under the auspices of the Christians that meet in Co-operative hall at 2:30 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. each Sunday, to which all are welcome.

Grace Lutheran Church--Rev. Foster U. Gift, pastor. Services at the Young Men's Christian association at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach at both services.

scn and Thomas E. Jones, from St. Lukes; J. M. Everhart, H. W. Kingsbury, Samuel Hines, A. D. Holland, Charles McMullen, James W. Oakford and W. T. Smith. The convention opens on Tuesday.

The Dunmore mission has been given the name of St. Mark's. Proposals for building a parish house and rectory are being advertised for. The plans and specifications have been adopted.

Floral Sunday or children's day will be observed in the Elm Park church tomorrow by a specially prepared programme. Floral Sunday will be universally observed tomorrow by all Methodist Episcopal churches.

Children and flowers will have possession of Elm Park church Sunday morning at 10:30, it being children's day. Recitations and songs will mingle with sweet odors from roses and lilies.

The Sunday school will run its annual excursion to Lake Ariel June 27. The Baptist church organization is still forging ahead, as shown by the year's report which Rev. Warren G. Partridge gave last Sunday morning of the national Baptist convention at Saratoga.

Rev. Vernon Clyde Byers, a graduate of this year's class at Princeton Theological seminary, has been called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Peckville. Mr. Byers has already been on the field three weeks. He will in the near future be examined for ordination by the presbytery and formally installed as pastor of the Peckville field.

The outlook for the Peckville church, with its new building and energetic pastor and the large population surrounding the town, places that church among the most promising within the bounds of the presbytery.

Tomorrow will be observed as children's day in the Presbyterian church. The exercises will be held in the evening and will be very interesting. The programme will include violin solos, recitations, sacred pantomimes, solos, etc. Willard Benjamin, of Scranton, will render several violin selections.

Rev. William G. Finney, of Oriskany, Pa., will occupy the pulpit Sunday, June 16.

The report of the delegates who attended the twenty-seventh convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, at Wilkes-Barre, will be given tomorrow evening at the Young People's meeting.

The Bible school of the church will observe children's day tomorrow. An interesting programme has been arranged of music recitations, and addresses. The parents and friends of the members of the school are cordially invited. Exercises commence at 10:30.

Rev. William Parsons will preach tomorrow evening in the church.

Rev. George E. Guild is being congratulated on every hand on his contemplated trip to Europe. Mr. Guild hardly knows whether to be pleased most with his trip or with the kindness of two or three of his appreciative church members, who decided to have him go and who furnished the means to do it with. He will sail on June 28, to be gone six or eight weeks, and will tour from Queenstown to the north of Ireland, Scotland, Wales, and the principal cities of England. In Germany he will visit Heidelberg and other university towns. He will spend a week in "Paris, the Magnificent," and expects to look upon Luther's old pulpit in Geneva. Among those who will supply Mr. Guild's pulpit during his absence are Rev. W. H. Stites, of Wyoming, moderator of the presbytery; Rev. W. H. Swift, of Honesdale; Rev. William Dunning, of Gilbertsville, N. Y.; and Rev. Raphael Kessler, of Brant, Pa.

In connection with Children's Day tomorrow morning the sacrament of baptism will be administered to a number of infants. In the evening a special programme of music will be rendered by the choir, special parts being taken by Mrs. Edith Richards-Heckel, Miss Louise Parry and Professor T. J. Davies.

Calvary Reformed Church. Rev. W. H. Stubblebine and wife are living at Lake Ariel for the summer. During the hot months the morning preaching and Sunday school service will be dispensed with. Sunday evening Mr. Stubblebine will preach a number of illustrated sermons. The illustrating will be done by means of large paintings made expressly for the purpose. The first course will be on "Scenes in the Life of Daniel."

IN WORLDS OF MELODY

Matters of Interest to People Who Are Musically Inclined.

A NEW OPERA BY DR. J. J. MASON

Will Be Produced by Wilkes-Barre Amateurs Next Week--Mr. Carter's Coming Recitals--Miscellaneous Musical Topics of the Day.

The Wilkes-Barre Record gives the following in reference to Dr. Mason's new opera, which will be rendered at Wilkes-Barre next week: The opera of Dr. J. J. Mason, entitled, "Catin, the Maid of Cavenyda," will be sung at the festival of the Oratorio society on Wednesday evening of next week. Naturally a work of its dignity and character will be heard with great interest and pleasure, and particularly so since it has been composed by one of our townsmen, and one who has done so much throughout his life for the cause of noble music.

The Schumann club, composed of pupils of the Hardenbergh pianoforte school, will give a musicale and reception at the Bicycle club house on June 14. The club members will be assisted by Miss Draeger and other soloists in the rendition of the musical programme. The patronesses are Mrs. J. E. Dickson, Mrs. James Archibald, Mrs. E. N. Willard, Mrs. Joseph A. Scranton, Mrs. George L. Dickson, Mrs. Ezra H. Ripple, Mrs. A. L. Urban, Mrs. Matthew H. Holgate, Miss Augusta Merrill, Mrs. Harry Connell, Mrs. Frank P. Christian, Mrs. L. G. LaBar, Mrs. Frederick D. Price, Mrs. Edwin E. Clark.

SHARPS AND FLATS: Mme. Albani is to sing for Queen Victoria. "The Lay of a Lobster" is the title of a new opera by Percy Gaunt.

Harry MacDonough is a member of Camille D'Arville's company. Maurel, the singer, is said never to lose his temper and to possess a repose that is admirable.

Dessau, Germany, with 25,000 inhabitants, boasts a season of eighty-one operatic performances.

Last Thursday G. W. Chadwick, the American composer, produced his new overture, "Melpomene," at the Philharmonic concert in London.

The great violinist, Ysaye, has completed his tour in this country and will sail for Europe next Saturday. He has made a small fortune for himself and his manager.

Joachim, who has never been in Rome, is awaited there with great expectations. He will be accompanied by the young 'cellist Hensel, who is a nephew of Mendelssohn.

M. Henri Marteau, the young and famous violinist, is touring in Norway, together with Mile. A. Dalma, the soprano, whose voice has been so well trained by Mme. Laborde. "To get the greatest enjoyment from the piano," says Paderewski, "the music must not only be heard, but the performer should be seen. There is nothing I have more than a listless, careless posture of the body while playing."

Miss Sullivan, composed by W. W. Jones, a young Scrantonian, and dedicated to Elm Park Sunday school. The title is "Where Are the Angels, Mother?" and a familiar air accompanied by the voice, ingeniously arranged, constitutes the second subject. Solos by Miss Draeger and Mr. Wooler will also be rendered.

George E. Carter will give organ recitals in Jamestown and Olean, N. Y., and Bradford and Coudersport, Pa., June 17 to 21, assisted by Miss Winifred Sullivan and Alfred Wooler.

The Symphony society, composed of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre musicians, under leadership of Mr. Hemberger, will be reorganized next fall. It is probable that a few rehearsals will be held during the summer months, but no concerts will be given until winter. Scranton music lovers are exhibiting more interest in the efforts of this excellent organization and promise better support during the coming season.

Miss Katharine Bloodgood, the contralto, who charmed Scrantonians at a concert at Elm Park church several weeks ago, was one of the soloists at the Binghamton music festival this week. Miss Bloodgood made a hasty call upon Mr. and Mrs. Carter on Wednesday last, while on her way from New York to the Parlor City.

The Schumann club, composed of pupils of the Hardenbergh pianoforte school, will give a musicale and reception at the Bicycle club house on June 14. The club members will be assisted by Miss Draeger and other soloists in the rendition of the musical programme. The patronesses are Mrs. J. E. Dickson, Mrs. James Archibald, Mrs. E. N.
