SEVEN COUNTIES REUNION.

It Will Be Held at Montrose on Wedner day, August 21.

Captain H. F. Beardsley, president of the Seven Counties Veterans' association, has issued the following circular to the members of the association: Comrades: While this association was organized a number of years ago, there are doubtless some old vets and many outside the Grand Army of the Republic, who do not know what counties are embraced by these sevenfold bonds of fraternity and comradeship.

The following named counties comprise the association: Broome, N. Y., Bradford, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Wayne, Wyoming and Susquehanna; the six last being the "Northern Tier" of the old "Keystone," and the first being the first of the "Empire" state's "Southern Tier."

I am now enabled to announce the date for our reunion, which, owing to several reasons, I was unable to do before; the principle one being to fix the date when Governor Hastings could be present, and another, that it be held at a time when I could secure from the state such canvas as I contemplate he went upstairs to his bedroom, but using. COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Register of Wills Hopkins admitted to probate Saturday the will of Mary A. Covey, late of Abington township. Court made an order Saturday directing that in the suit of Lazarus Moyer against Horton Lee, the sum of $94.57 be paid into court. Before Judge Edwards and a jury of six Saturday evidence was heard as to the insanity of Mrs. Cornelia Edwards, of Moscow. The judge decided that there was not sufficient evidence to support the affidavit charging insanity, and withdrew a juror and continued the case until the next term of court. An action in divorce was begun Saturday by Taylor & Lewis for Mrs. Euphenia Jubuski to secure a divorce from her husband, Theodore Jubuski, on the ground of desertion. They were married on Jan. 31, 1894, and lived to-

SCRANTON CLUB CHANGES

Manager Barnie on a Hunt for Pielders and a Pitcher.

RELEASED AND ON THE BENCH

resident Betts Admits That We Are Not In the Race-Additional Pitcher and a New Outfielder and Third Baseman Wanted.

As predicted by The Tribune there be & shake-up in the Scranton Base Ball club, It was announced that if in a week or ten days the weak hitting and wooden playing of many of the men continued, some of them ting away from the place and imme would be benched or released in favor diately diclosed the practices of the of new players. The time specified has elapsed and Manager Barnie left yes-terday for New York, where he will try quittal of Scharre and his associates terday for New York, where he will try to procure an infielder and an outfielder and a pitcher. Today he will go to the prosecution of the monks, and th Philadelphia and try to sign Hodson or Gus Weyhing, or both of them, with that the police are obliged to protect the intention of keeping whichever is them from mob violence. the more effective after a few weeks trial. Said President Betts to a Tribune reporter last night:

We have no longer a reason to plead hard luck or claim that the poor showing of certain players was temporary On the contrary I will admit that the club owes its present position to poor playing and inability to hit the ball. For several days we have been in correspondence by letter and wire with agents in New York and Philadelphia, Rhine valleys. The hall which accomand in some instances with players possible that he will return with one, two or three players.

"I and the men associated with me do not need to be told that a losing club means lost money, but aside from this' feature we are personally anxious for the success of the club. We have thus are after them and will sign them and have a winning club if money and cf- homeless. fort can bring it about."

After a Promising Amateur. The New York papers have for several weeks mentioned the effective work of a young pitcher on one of the amateur clubs of Long Island City. This club was scheduled for a game at Recreation park, Brooklyn, yesterday, and Manager Barnie was present to fore he left Scranton Barnie had instructions to use his own judgment in the matter and send the young twirler to Scranton for trial if he appeared effective in yesterday's game.

Last week Pat Powers, president of the league, tried with poor success to plosion followed that startled the cominduce the New York management to loan or release Bannon, fielder, and Murphy, shortstop, to Scranton. satisfactory arrangement could be made between President Powers and the New York club, but Manager Barnie renewed the negotiations yesterday. The result will probably be known to-

None of the Scranton directors or officers care to specify the proposed changes, but it is understood that Captain Sweeney, Left Fielder Brady and Third Baseman Whitehead are candidates for release or the bench. The changes will necessarily depend on the number of new men procurred and their positions. If a new fielder is signed Brady will probably be put on third base, and Whitehead benched. It is thought that whatever advantage Whitehead has in batting will be more than compensated by Brady's live work on the bag. Whitehead probably is capable of clever base playing; his past countable reason he has of late played soon as a change in positions can be brought about. Three Who Will Stay. The signing of a new infielder does not mean that either Clark, Ward or Radford will be retired. Clark and Ward are fielding their positions well; the former is the heaviest hitter on the team and Ward the safest. Radford's batting average does not loom up well. but he reaches first base as often as any member of the team, except Ward and Clark, and next to Ward has scored the most runs. Runs are what win a game, and under no circumstances will the veteran shortstop be taken out of the game. This is positive.

There is another peculiar condition to be considered-Delaney's recent poor showing. He will not admit to Manager Barnle nor those closest to him on the team that his arm is lame, but those who know his style of pitching and the speed which he has shown at intervals, say that the popular little twirler's arm was weakened on the recent cold-weather trip. The only reason for Del's keeping the matter secre may be through fear of being taken out for a rest. It is evidently his pride that keeps him from admitting that his arm has gone wrong, but why he should fear disfavor by making his condition known is a mystery. With two lame arms the Scranton club would never set Delaney down. He is popular with the management and popular with the public, and should realize that if his arm is in a bad way he should say so. He would be used in the outfield or given a rest, and the result would benefit both him and the club.

Johnson, Quarles and Delaney. Johnson has proved himself an effective pitcher. He fields his position well. never has the flutters, is handy with the stick and is quick on the bases. There is no thought of sitting him down. Quarles has come around into good form and will take his regular turn in the box. His request to be

At first the doctor was afraid that phined the skull, elevating the bone section of bone that protruded into watch the young wonder's work. Be-

BRACING THE PORTE. Indications That the Sultan Is Backed by German and Austrian Influence. Berlin, June 9.-The North German Gazette, whose articles on the subject are in strong contrast to those of most other papers which denounce the porte, continues a mild defence of the sultan. Referring to the demands upon Turkey by the three powers, the Zeitung says terview with our genial adjutant general, regarding canvas, was equally satreligious hatreds which are disturbing the Turkish empire, and the Christian taken out of the game in the recent Providence game should not reflect upon his ability. He felt himself growing suddenly weak, in a physical sense, and made his condition known to Barnie. If the truth were told, the notoriously jumping-jack judgment of Umpire Hurst had considerable to do with That the management will not dispense with either Delaney, Johnson or Quarles is shown in the assurance that losing team of ball-tossers. The en thusiasts are tired of statements that "the club is in hard luck" or "the boys will soon hit the ball." It is now win or lose; if the association wants an average daily attendance of over a thousand, a club must be procured and a bid made for the pennant before the season is half over; if the desire is to smother an already gasping interest in the game, the way to do it is to continue to furnish the free lunch victory to vis iting clubs. There is now an opportunity for the association to show of what kind of business material it con-
