

A Frank Confession

They're seconds. We make no bones about this fact, but you could not tell in five cases out of every six had we not voluntarily stated the fact.

STARTLING VALUES

represented in these Shirt Waists, and here are the facts of the case in a nutshell:

A MANUFACTURER

offered us

300 DOZEN

LADIES'

SHIRT WAISTS

at a price for spot cash. After a little dickerer we bettered his figures in our favor by a good big discount, and on Saturday last took delivery of the goods.

Now that we've looked them over, sorted them out, we wish that there had been 600 dozen, but no more are procurable on the same terms, and all things considered, we consider ourselves fortunate in being able to make the deal we did.

THE ONLY FAULT

the most badly damaged of these 200 dozen bargain shirt waists consists in an occasional oil stain, a badly finished seam, or some such trifle. Cloth, patterns, cut and make are as good as any we carry in stock, and we warrant every garment to be of this season's manufacture. Now for the

CONDITIONS OF SALE

which opens on

TUESDAY MORNING,

JUNE 11, AT 9 A. M.

We've sorted them out into three lots.

LOT 1—Represents Waists that show the damage, or of only medium quality.

LOT 2—Are all high class Waists and the shortcoming which led to their being classed as seconds is hard to find.

LOT 3—Could be placed on any counter as perfect goods, and only Waists of the choicest quality are to be found therein.

$1 to $1.25 is a fair average for these waists taken overhand. Here are the

SALE PRICES.

LOT 1 - 50c

LOT 2 - 75c

LOT 3 - 85c

SALE NOW ON

Early buyers have decidedly the advantage, as at the outset of the sale the selection is the biggest and best ever offered in the city, and there isn't a size or a pattern wanting.

WAR SHIPS FOR FLORIDA

The Coast Will Be Guarded by the Raleigh.

WATCH FOR FILIBUSTERS

The Opinion is General That Such a Step is Unnecessary—Filibustering Now Fully Defined—The Situation at Havana.

Washington, June 10.—Secretary Herbert said today that it had not yet been determined whether a war vessel should be sent to the Florida coast to prevent a filibustering expedition going to assist the Cuban rebels. Naval officials generally are of opinion that there is no necessity for any such action by the United States.

The opinion of the state department heretofore has been that it is the duty of the United States to prevent an armed expedition going to make war upon a nation or the possessions of a nation with which we are at peace, but there is nothing to prevent the sale of arms or the munitions of war. It has been held heretofore that a torpedo boat taken apart and shipped in sections could not be prevented by this government, but if the torpedo boat should be fitted and sailed from port of the United States, this country would be responsible. It also has been held that this government could not be required to prevent men from taking passage on a ship bound for Cuba, unless they were drilled and armed forces.

It is apparent that a nice distinction may be made between what is and what is not filibustering expeditions, if attempts should be made by Americans to assist the Cuban rebels.

Havana, June 10.—Captain General Martinez de Campos is to leave this city today for the Province of Puerto Principe.

Colonel Canellas, in command of a detachment of troops, has had an engagement with a band of insurgents at Sebaruco de Cuba. The insurgents were commanded by Jose Maceo. On the side of the troops Lieutenant Nieto and two soldiers were wounded. The insurgents lost two killed and had seven wounded. The troops also captured some arms and ammunition.

The insurgents have fired upon a coast guard vessel which was watching the coast between Punta Gorda and Sabana de Matanzas. One volunteer was killed and one was wounded.

Washington, June 10.—Late this afternoon, Secretary Herbert settled all doubt as to the course to be taken by this government by issuing orders to the Raleigh to proceed at once to Key West, Fla. She will be retained there to watch the filibusters and see that no more expeditions leave this country for Cuba with contrabands of war for the insurgents.

STUDENTS IMPROVING.

Princeton Men Shot by John Collins Will Probably Recover.

Trenton, N. J., June 10.—John Collins, the colored man arrested for shooting Garrett Cochrane and Frederick Ohi, Princeton students on Saturday, made a statement in jail this morning. He says that he was attacked by the students, and that they were striking him in a hallway when he fired. He also claims that he had no intention of killing them, and only fired to scare them. Besides, the other colored man arrested, says he was in the saloon and did not see the shooting.

The condition of the two students is a matter of great interest in Princeton today. While their chances of recovery have improved, and though each passed a good night, there is still great anxiety felt for them. The commencement exercises go on as usual.

ARE MISSIONARIES SAFE?

Hopes Expressed That the Reports of a Massacre Are False.

THE DISPATCH FROM CHENG TU

It Indicates That the People Are Alive, Though Their Property Has Been Destroyed—The Authorities Endeavor to Protect Christians.

Shanghai, June 10.—No definite news has yet been received here in regard to the reported massacre of the French, English and American missionaries at Cheng Tu, capital of the province of Se Chuen, Western China. The reports say that all were killed, neither women nor children having been spared. It is known how serious rioting had occurred at Cheng Tu, as recently cabled to the Associated Press, but affairs there are believed to have quieted recently, although rioting has been spreading in the country southward.

Washington, June 10.—The Chinese legation has received no information as to the reported massacre of all missionaries in Cheng Tu, and strong hopes are entertained that the affair may be less serious than the reports indicate.

Recently, however, by the treaty of peace with Japan, this interior city is one of several places opened to foreign trade and commerce. This has probably agitated the people who have lived by themselves from time immemorial. The number of missionaries who have settled there is not known, but it is said that in the entire province of Se Chuen, of which Cheng Tu is the capital, it must be less than 100, including all nationalities.

COACHESMAN IN TRAINING.

Coach Woodruff and the University of Pennsylvania Crew at Poughkeepsie.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 10.—This was another fine day for the training of the college crews. The Pennsylvania and the Columbia crews, "Varsity and freshmen, were all out and rowed up the river. The University of Pennsylvania's had a long row this morning. Coach Woodruff pulled bow in place of Peterson, who is still suffering from the abscess on his right hand, and Peterson occupied a position on the crew's launch, May. The boys hugged the west shore and pulled to Hyde Park, a distance of six miles. An average of about thirty-one strokes was attained until West Park was reached, when the boys boarded the launch and the shell was towed back to the crew's quarters.

The Quakers are on the anxious seat, and will be until Peterson's hand will permit him to resume his position in the crew. The crew has no substitute here, and will not have until the Pennsylvania freshmen row the race at Ithaca on Friday next. They will then come to this city, but it will be too late to start training for the great race on June 21.

OPENED BY KING HUMBERT

Speech from the Throne to the New Italian Parliament.

RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM

The National Finances Must Be Strengthened—Finances of All—Many Reforms May Follow—Other European Topics.

Rome, June 10.—The new Italian parliament was opened today with great ceremony by King Humbert in person. The city was decorated for the occasion, and huge crowds of people were assembled. King Humbert and Queen Margaret were enthusiastically cheered as they drove through the streets, which were lined with troops. The king in his speech from the throne said: "The Italian people have so clearly manifested their opinion at the polls that no doubt remains regarding the questions which require the promptest discussion by the assembly. The people recognize that the finances of Italy occupy the foremost place in this connection, and that the most strict retrenchment of the expenditures is necessary in order to raise Italy's credit abroad. Parliament will then be asked to devote itself to the important questions of communal finances and administration and to judicial reforms."

He also said that he trusted that this and other legislation would do much to draw together the various classes of the population. He dwelt at length upon the friendship existing between Italy and Great Britain and upon the co-operation in Africa, saying that the policy of Italy in Africa hereafter would be one of consolidation of her possessions, and not of adventure. He concluded by remarking that he relied upon the efforts of the members of Parliament to maintain the office of national unity erected by his father, Victor Emanuel.

The speech was applauded on all sides, and there were repeated cheers for the king. Only the Socialists were absent from the opening of parliament.
