THREE THOUSAND FOR RICE

His Case Against the Scranton Traction Company Settled.

VERDICT IS AGAINST MR. JONES

R. Taylor Lacy Is Allowed $42.04 for the Injury Done to His Bicycle by Winn's Wagon—Other Cases Called Up in Court.

The case of John Rice against the Scranton Traction company reached an amicable settlement after being called for trial in the main court room yesterday. Mr. Rice was injured by being struck by one of the Traction company's electric cars. In settlement of the case the Traction company agreed to pay Mr. Rice $3,000.

Another case settled when called for trial was that of John Fern and John Malott against the city of Scranton. They are owners of property on one of the West Side streets and by the grading of that thoroughfare they claim that their properties were greatly damaged.

After the grading of the street views were presented to fix the amount of damage done, if any, and they awarded Mr. Malott $100. An appeal was taken from this award to common pleas court, but when the case was called up for trial yesterday an agreement of settlement was reached on the basis of the award of the viewers.

Verdict for the City.
The jury in the case of D. M. Jones against the city of Scranton, an action to recover damages for injury alleged to have been done to plaintiff's property by the grading of North Main avenue, came into court yesterday morning and a verdict was returned in favor of the city. The case of J. F. Trout against W. H. Hull, which was tried before Judge Searle, was given to the jury yesterday morning and a verdict returned in favor of Mr. Hull. Mr. Trout sued to recover the value of a consignment of Florida oranges which had been shipped to Mr. Hull. The defendant was that they were spoiled and decayed and not worth more than the $2 which Mr. Hull sent to Mr. Trout for them.

After court opened in the main court room the jury in the case of B. Taylor Lacy against the city of Scranton, an action for $42.04 in favor of Mr. Lacy for injury done to his bicycle by being run down by Winn's wagon on Washington avenue in July, 1893.

Mills Did Not Appear.

When the case of George W. Mills against James Twiss, an appeal from an alderman's judgment, was called for trial before Judge Searle in court room No. 2, Mr. Mills failed to appear and a noli prosequi was granted.

W. C. Townsend was the plaintiff in an action in assumpsit against Frank Carlucci & Bros. The Carluccis were the George Washington which ornaments the court house square at Washington and Linden street. This monument was erected in the early summer of 1893, and was unveiled on July 27th of that year.

The Carluccis awarded to Townsend the contract for furnishing the granite pedestal for the monument, but the stone failed to arrive in time, and when the monument was unveiled it rested on a temporary wooden pedestal. After the dedication the Carluccis placed a granite pedestal under the monument and refused to accept the stone which in the meantime had been shipped by Mr. Townsend. On the strength of the contract Mr. Townsend insisted on receiving $1,058.47, the price of the granite pedestal, but the defendant refused either to accept the stone or pay for it, alleging that the contract with Mr. Townsend had been broken by the failure of that gentleman to furnish the goods on schedule time.

The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys Willard, Warren & Knapp, and the defendant by Attorneys Mary & Diehl. After the case had been opened and one of the witnesses for Mr. Townsend heard an adjournment was taken until this morning, when the work of taking testimony will be resumed.

Contention Over a Note.

The greater part of the day was taken up in the main court room before Judge Gunster in the trial of the action of M. A. McCarthy, of Ashley, against Margaret Scanlon, administratrix of the estate of Martin Scanlon deceased. Mr. McCarthy seeks to recover on a note and the defense is that the estate owes him nothing whatever. Attorneys O'Brien and Kelly represent Mr. McCarthy and Attorneys Watson & Zimmerman and F. J. Fitzsimmons the defendant. When court adjourned the closing argument to the jury by Mr. O'Brien was being made. He will resume this morning.

Before Judge Searle in court room No. 2 the suit of E. Bicecl and company, wholesale hardware auctioneers of New York, against Henry Babin and company, of this city, was on trial when court adjourned for the day. The plaintiffs are trying to collect $700.42 which they allege is due them for goods furnished to the defendant.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

The Delaware and Hudson company declared a dividend last quarter of 1 1/2 per cent.
The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western will finish paying the trainmen today.

The reinforced brake is being put on the passenger coaches of the Pennsylvania's eastern division.
The Pennsylvania lines west have six district passenger agents and six assistant general passenger agents.

The Laconia Car company has closed a contract with the Boston and Maine for the construction of 600 freight cars, of this number 200 are box, 200 flat, and 200 coal cars.

The net earnings of the Erie for April were $278,872, as against $236,186 for the same period last year; for the seven months ending April 30, 1895, they were $2,735,541, and during the corresponding period last year, $2,324,243.

Mrs. J. A. Price yesterday presented to the Railroad Young Men's Christian association a beautiful picture of a Baldwin freight locomotive, which was highly prized by her husband, Colonel J. A. Price, during his life.

Richmond Locomotive works have delivered to the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad two wood-burning passenger engines, with cylinders 16x24. These engines are for fast passenger service and their performance is said to be highly satisfactory.

The locomotive works of H. K. Porter & Co., at Pittsburg, have recently shipped two standard gauge engines to the Brooklyn Bridge Railroad company. These engines have drivers forty-two inches in diameter and front

Death of Dr. Allen Norton Leete After a Very Brief Illness.

TYPHOID FEVER CAUSED IT

He Had Been Ill Only Since Friday and on Saturday Did Work for the Sunday News, of Which He Was the Editor.

Dr. Allen Norton Leete died at his home, 629 Adams avenue, at 11:15 last night of typhoid fever. He had been ill only since Friday, and his death was wholly unexpected by his wife and son, who are plunged into the deepest grief by the sad event.
Dr. Leete was born in New York on Dec. 15, 1839, and received his early education in the public schools of that city, performing himself for the battle of life at Williams' college, which institution conferred on him the title Ph. D.
Seeing the advantages that the oil business at that time afforded to young men of judgment and energy, Dr. Leete embarked in it, and was one of the pioneers of that industry in the western part of this state. In a disastrous fire which the works in his factory were interested in, he was almost entirely ruined, but he was not discouraged and he went to work again, and in a short time he had accumulated a large fortune. He was one of the most successful figures in the history of the journalism of the country.

HER FOOT CRUSHED.

Carbondale Trolley Car Runs Down Two Women Near DeWanna's Bridge.

A distressing trolley accident occurred near DeWanna's bridge, below Carbondale, at 10 o'clock last night, by which a woman's foot was crushed so badly as to make amputation necessary.
Ezelle Gilmarth and her sister were going homeward from Carbondale. The noise made by an Ontario and Western train passing over the bridge drowned the clang of the bell on the trolley car going south and which was just bearing down upon the two women. The sister heard the warning in time to escape injury, but Miss Gilmarth was run down and her foot was badly crushed. The car was guided by Motorman Patrick Walsh.

The trolley company officials urged that the unfortunate woman be taken in a car to the Emergency hospital, in Carbondale, but the young woman's relatives would not give their consent and she was removed to her home.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

M. J. Lover's new house on Pittston avenue will soon be completed.
A cut in dress goods. Come and see. You will be surprised at the low prices.

Mrs. Hagen and Mary Hagen will be married in St. Mary's German church next Monday morning with a nuptial mass.

Connell park is visited every evening by parties from every part of the city to enjoy the pure, refreshing air that permeates that vicinity.

Gabriel Murphy has so far recovered from the injury he sustained last Saturday at the lower steel mill as to be up and around his home.

Herbert J. Ernst, of Cedar avenue, it will be seen in another column, has been elected secretary of the Granite Provident association. It is a responsible trust, and Mr. Ernst is well qualified to fill it; he is a young man of uprightness and ability, ever obliging and courteous.

John F. May, of Prospect avenue, went to the house of his brother, Martin J., late Monday night and behaved in anything but a fraternal manner. He kicked and swore and was anxious to clean out the entire household. Patrolman Sartor was a short distance away and he went to the scene of the trouble. The young man was disposed to resist arrest, but he was finally taken in the lockup. In police court yesterday morning he professed penitence for his action and was let go, promising not to repeat the performance in future.

Lent Him Five Hundred Dollars.

Doctor Leete lent Carey $500 and the latter started for the west. He never afterwards communicated with his benefactor, but as he was prospering in the west from the start he received, he remembered Dr. Leete in his will to the extent of $50,000. Mr. Carey died at Los Angeles, Cal., during the winter, and his executors conveyed to Dr. Leete the pleasant information that he had been left a fortune.

Dr. Leete started for Los Angeles on Feb. 13 last and proved his right to the property. He was gone about six weeks, and during his absence obtained real estate work for the county, and California, which he was preparing to assist in developing. In July he would have received $12,500, the first installment of the fortune left him, but fate decreed that he should not enjoy it.

He is survived by a wife and one son, Edward A. Leete.
