MERRY LITTLE CHILDREN. They Gave an Entertainment at the Penn

An evening with the children was spent in the Sunday school room of night. The midsummer entertainment of the primary class of the school was held and the programme delightfully carried out. The decorations were tasteful, a profusion of flowers being arranged around the platform, on which the children were seated. Miss S. C. Krigbaum is superintendent, and to her untiring care is due the success that attended the exercises.

The opening number was the song, 'Holy, Holy, Holy," by the school. Then there followed juvenile recitations, dialogues and solos. The entertainment closed with the hymn, "My Country, Tis of Thee." The young voices were well trained and each number was ren dered excellently. The attendance was large and applause was very frequent. The programme lasted an hour and one half.
