WILKES-BARRE.

[The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 25, Laning building, Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, for the transaction of business. The publishers propose to extend the circulation of The Tribune in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding towns, and to that end will present a very complete department of Luzerne county news.
For success in this undertaking dependence is placed solely upon the superiority of The Tribune as a purveyor of all the news of the day—domestic, foreign, local, commercial and financial. The general interests of the people of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming valley will have in The Tribune an earnest advocate, editorially and otherwise. It is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver it to the people throughout northeastern Pennsylvania from three to five hours earlier than the Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them.]

A HEAVY LOSS.

The Oratorio Society Runs Far Behind with Their Festival Accounts. It is now definitely known that the Oratorio society lost in the neighborhood of $2,000 at their recent musical festival. The attendance from out of town was far beyond anybody's expectations, and it is to the people of Wilkes-Barre themselves that this unfortunate financial condition is due. The exceedingly slim attendance at the production of "The Seasons," was a great disappointment to the projectors of the festival. Had there been a large attendance on this occasion it is probable that enough money would have been raised to meet all the bills, but it is disgrace to the city of Wilkes-Barre to allow so excellent a production of a classic work like "The Seasons" to be heard by as scanty an audience as was present on Tuesday night.

That the eisteddfod was a success musically is a nice thing to say, but it doesn't cut much of a figure in settling the bills. The expenses of a two days' festival like this were naturally very heavy, as the large orchestra, adjudicators and soloists alone cost over $1,000, to say nothing of the expenses of printing, advertising, rent of the armory and the thousand and one other minor expenses always incurred upon such an occasion. In a city of the size and culture of Wilkes-Barre, there was every reason to believe that enough people would attend the sessions to pay expenses, but this is not the first time that the Oratorio society has been deceived in regard to the number of music lovers of the city. These bills are imperative and will have to be met at once. The Oratorio society has no money, and so it will have to be raised by popular subscription. The Oratorio society seems to be working in bad luck somewhere. It has been a long time since they made any money or even cleared expenses at their concerts, but it is to be hoped that in the future they will do better. An organization with the aims of this society should do more than find a scanty living in a city like Wilkes-Barre.

THREE BIG DAYS.

The German Catholic Association to Meet

in Wilkes-Barre Next Week.
On Monday, Tuesday and Wednes-day of next week the German Catholic association will hold their annual convention in this city. Among the towns to send delegations are Lehighton, Catasauqua, Ashland, Girardsville, Shenandoah, Minersville and Tremont. Carbondale will bring its society and Honesdale two societies and band; Scranton three societies and band; Pittston one with band; Nanticoke one with band; Allentown two societies and band; Bethlehem one society and band; Easton one eoclety and band; Pottsville two societies, and Hazleton one with a band.

The five societies from this city-the St. Nicholas, St. Joseph's, St. Peter's, St. Conrad's and St. Francis-will also

The convention will be held in St Conrad's hall. The first session will open at 8 o'clock Monday evening. Sessions will also be held Tuesday morning and afternoon. On the evening of the latter day the visitors will be banqueted at St. Conrad's hall. Judge Gunster, of Scranton, will speak on "Our Country;" Rev. A. Schweninger, of New York, and Rev. Koeber, of Williamsport, will also be present and make addresses. C. A. Miller, of Cleveland, president of the orphans' fund, will speak on that branch of the organization's work. On Wednesday the big parade will be seen. The first division will form on Washington street with right resting on Main; second on South, right resting on Main; third on Ross, right resting on Main. The line of march will be: South Main to Ross, to Washington, to Northampton, to Main, to square, to West Market, to Franklin. to union, to North Main, to square, to East Market, to Central Railroad of New Jersey station, where cars will be in waiting to take the visitors and others to Mountain Park for a monpicnic. The officers of the German Catholic societies are: President Philip Weiss; first vice-president, Jacob Miller, of Allentown; second vice-pres ident, Peter Krontz, of Carbondale; secretary, George Schwesinger, of Honerdale; financial secretary, August Becker, of this city. The following compose the executive committee: A. Korves, of Bethlehem; Theodore Gelger, of Catasauqua; Edward Schwel-birz, of Mauch Chunk, and R. Retzbach, of Erie.

The graduation exercises of the Harry Hillman academy took place last evening. There was music by the school orchestra and some very creditable singing by the glee club. B. D. rus read the class history. After a selection on the violin by Ruliph Carpenpoem, after which the class paper was read by W. D. White, jr. The principal, Professor H. C. Davis, then presented the diplomas, and Rev. W. H. Swift, of Honesdale, made an excellent ddress to the graduating class, one full of good sense and of hints to their future conduct as collegians and business men. The exercises, which were attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the pupils, were concluded with the award of the school prizes. The room was tastefully dec orated and the exercises much enjoyed by the crowd who attended.

Alice Philips Surrendered Some weeks ago when Alice Phillips was arrested Mrs. Stewart went secur-rendered Miss Phillips. Mrs. Stewart wanted her locked up, but consented to wait for awhile and Miss Phillips secured her liberty by depositing $500 with her attorney, on receipt of which, he went her ball. It is said that Mrs. Stewart surrendered her because she was afraid that Alice would leave town, as she has sold all her property

A Prize Fight Stopped. Alderman James J. Thomas, of the Ninth ward, and ex-Alderman Jerry Rooney, ex-justice of the Ninth, by an act of signal bravery prevented either Walter Johnson or Henry Miller from being punched by the other late on Thursday night. These young gentlemen had met in a barn on Lincoln street with the amiable intention of having a fight according to Queensbury rules. There was quite a crowd present, and some money was up. In the meantime, however, one of Miller's ackers discovered that his man was showing the white feather, and so, to save his own "long green," he got out a warrant for the arrest of the amateur crappers. There wasn't a constable within sight, so Alderman Thomas deputized ex-Alderman Rooney to accompany him. Now, Mr. Rooney is lame, and was therefore useless in a chase, so Mr. Thomas stationed him at the rear door, where he stood like Ho ratius at the bridge, ready to nab any or all law-breakers that might come his way. Then Mr. Thomas boldly charged the mob. Terrified by his presence they fled by the other door, putting out the lights. But here 'Squire Rooney had formed a hollow square of himself, and with Mr. Thomas on the other two sides of the square, they marched sixteen of the miscreants down to Mr. Thomas' office. Here the alderman delivered a brief but emphatic address on, the evils of prize fighting, and on pay-go. All bets were declared off. Before the Mayor. Mrs. Eager, a North Fell street dress

ment of the costs they were allowed to maker, has been complaining for some time that two young colored men named Lee and Enty have been annoying her. Yesterday they did so again, and she sent one of her boarders, named Carr, after an officer. When he and the officer returned. Lee and Grosser, of this city; treasurer, John Carr had trouble, and Carr hit the colored man. Then Officer Smith collared the three of them and took them before the mayor, where they were given a hearing. There was no evidence against Enty and he was discharged. Lee was fined $2.50 for indecent language, and Carr $3.50 for fighting. The latter did not have the money and Mrs. Eager generously came up with the amount. Jacob Cohen and his wife have had trouble that landed both before the mayor yesterday morning. Cohen was charged with wife beating, but he said Johnson delivered an oration on "Alex- that he was the punished one, and his ander Hamilton," and George F. Laza- wife beat him. A host of witnesses were called, half of which swore that Cohen beat his wife nearly to death ter, Louis S. Weaver read the class and the other half that Mrs. Cohen licked her lord with unfailing regularity. The mayor compromised by requiring both to give ball to keep the peace, which was done.

TEVIOT SUITINGS

A Handsome New Fabric—Pre-Eminently an Ideal Costume Cloth—No End to the Purposes to Which It Can Be Put-Specially Adapted to Outdoor Wear.

The construction of this material somewhat resembles that of the Duck Suitings, so prominent-resembles that of the Duck Suitings, so prominently in demand last season.

There is a distinguishing feature, however, about Teviot Suitings that separates them far above any wash materials ever introduced to the American consumer, in that they are the most desirable cloth ever suggested for gulf, cycling, tennis and walking gowns. In fact, they are almost indispensible, on account of the various uses for which they are adapted.

Their price, too, will meet the small, as well the large, purses, And their designs and quality are such as to insure perfect satisfaction to those who buy them. A little description may not be amiss.

FOR INSTANCE—Stripes of lavender, black, pale blue, salmon, pink and navy are seen on white grounds. Over these stripes are woven a white check-like figure which gives the design the appearance of a basket weave. Self-colored patternings in stripes are seen in various colors, the stripe being brought into prominence by showing a darker thread than that seen in the ground colors. There are many other combinations such as ors. There are many other combinations such as diamond figures, chevron stripes, tweed effects, etc., which must be seen to be appreciated.

An inspection is invited.

We might add that we control the sale of this fabric in Scranton.

It Looks That Way. From the Indianapolis Journal.

"Pillam's bill came back today," said the bookkeeper. "What did he have to say?" asked the merchant. "He didn't have anything to say. It was his widow who did the saying. She writes: 'Don't you think that in sending a bill to a man who has been buried three months you are rather running it into the ground?"
