CITY NOTES.

The auditing committee of select council will meet Monday night.

Ward pay-rolls in all but the Third and Tenth wards will be paid today.

Miss Gussie Reilly was yesterday discharged from the county jail under the insolvency act.

The funeral of Mamie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dolan, of 716 Quincey avenue, will take place this afternoon at 2:30.

The Penn Avenue Baptist church and Sunday school go to Fairview Thursday June 27. Tickets, 50 cents; children, 30 cents.

Rev. Warren G. Partridge will read a paper on "Some Latest Phases of Socialism" at the Baptist Pastors' conference on next Monday morning.

Thomas Derschler yesterday petitioned the court for permission to adopt Ralph Doron Letchworth, the 6-year-old son of T. P. Letchworth, as his son and heir.

A special meeting of the managers of the Home for the Friendless will be held Monday morning, June 24, at 9:30 o'clock. A matter of great importance will be considered.

Max Weiss and his wife, Katie Weiss, began an action yesterday against Sarah Anonowitz, of 27 Scranton street, to recover $100 damages for defamation of character.

In the estate of Erasmus C. Swingle, late of Jefferson township, letters of administration were granted to Angeline S.

Swingle yesterday by Register of Wills Hepkins.

The Lucy Logan mission band will hold a cake and candy sale in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Admission 5 cents.

The examination of the Sabbath school children of the Congregation Anshe Chesed and the awarding of medals will take place Sunday, June 23, at 9:30 a. m. at the Linden Street temple.

Marriage licenses were granted by the clerk of the courts yesterday to Patrick J. Hayes and Hannah Gilligan, Dunmore; Lewis W. Covey, Chinchilla, and Colla Lamoreaux, Justus.

Mrs. Ellen J. Aldigan began an action in equity yesterday against John W. Williams to recover possession of land in Fell township that she alleges she is the owner of, but which is held by Mr. Williams.

Children's Day will be observed on Sunday at the Penn Avenue Baptist church. Elaborate preparations have been made for this occasion. There will be special music, floral decorations and printed programmes for every party.

Mrs. Margaret Barry began suit against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company yesterday and Mrs. George M. Barry, on June 5, 1893, insured her father, Daniel Green, in the company for $500. He died May 1, 1895, and the policy has not since been paid.

The front of Davies & Griffin's former place of business on Lackawanna avenue has been ornamented with flags and bunting and a bust painting of General Philip H. Sheridan. An announcement of the coming excursion of the Monument association is made underneath.

Woodlawn Park is a plot of ground at Clark's Summit, suitable for a summer residence or an all the year around home. There is plenty of pure spring water and the improvements now in progress promise to make Woodlawn Park one of the most desirable places to live in this part of the state.

For the Young Women's Christian association tomorrow afternoon, at 2:45, special music has been prepared. Mrs. Frank Weiss and Mrs. George M. Barry will sing solos, and a quartette is also expected. The lesson for the day is to be drawn from John 1, 40-43, "Finding and Following."

For the matinee today at the Frothingham the new Tassel company will present "Tennessee's Partner." Ten cents admission to all parts of the house. By special request the company will present "Leah, the Fossilifer" in the evening. The Frothingham theater is most pleasant and cool.

Commencing Tuesday evening and continuing during the absence of Superintendent Santoro, the musical part of the service will be in charge of the choir, under the direction of D. C. Richards. This means a grand song service every night. Mr. Guinley will have charge of the speaking and Miss Mattie Munson will preside at the organ.

At Calvary Reformed church, Monroe avenue and Gibson street, Rev. W. H. Stubbins will begin a course of illustrated sermon on Sunday evening on "Scenes in the Life of Daniel." The first sermon is entitled "A Nation in Chains." Three paintings six feet high are used to illustrate the truths presented, and are both interesting and instructive.

At St. Luke's church Sunday there will be a special offering received for the work of spreading the Gospel in our own district. This is needed among those people and in those places in our own state and diocese where it is impossible to support a clergyman without some outside help. Every one connected with the parish is requested to give at least five times their usual offering.

Marshall H. Van Bosten began suit yesterday against Andrew R. Raub, administrator of the estate of the late John W. Raub, of this city, to recover $300. He claims that he had a verbal agreement with Raub by the terms of which he was to receive $50 a year for acting as agent at Mr. Raub's farm at Dimick, Susquehanna county. The $50 is the amount of the principal and interest due him.

Now We Have Them.
This morning we will open a new assortment of Ladies' Shirt Waists, Black and White Stripes, Blue Stripes and Linen.

TIME TABLE CHANGES.
Will Go Into Effect on the D. L. & W. Railroad Monday.

On Monday the following changes in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western time table will go into effect:

Main Line—Train No. 3 for Utica and Scranton, which now leaves at 1:23 p. m., at 1:21 p. m.; train No. 6, which now leaves Scranton for New York and Philadelphia at 2:50 p. m., will leave at 2:31 p. m.

Bloomburg Division—Plymouth and intermediate stations—Train, which now leaves at 2:30 p. m., will leave at 2:25 p. m.

OPERA AT THE PARK.
Company Will Sing the Bohemian Girl Next Week.

Monday night the summer season of opera will be inaugurated at Laurel Hill park, when the Laurel Hill Park Opera company will sing "The Bohemian Girl," under the direction of Professor Richard F. Lindsay. The cast is a strong one and a fine rendition of the opera may be expected.

Enoch, the phenomenal water king, will give his wonderful exhibition afternoon and evening. Next week "Amorita" will be sung by the company.

THE LORRAINE TRIP.
How to Put in a Pleasant Afternoon Profitably.

Police wishing to combine business with pleasure will be glad to know that there is a good chance of making $50 out of the Lorraine excursion this afternoon as well as a certain prospect of having a real good time. The ladies' man is going to drop a hundred envelopes among the crowd at Lorraine and one of these holds an order for a $50 lot. The finder of the envelope gets the lot totally free of cost. It will be a bona fide instance of "finding money."

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

They Made a Splendid Appearance at the Frothingham.

EXERCISES WERE SUCCESSFUL

Theater Was Crowded by Those Who Were Anxious to Hear the Efforts of the Promising Young Pupils.

Names of the Graduates.

Gilt around with pretty mounds of natural green, with an artistic forest scene forming a harmonious background, the class of '95 of the Scranton high school was launched upon the turbulent seas of practical life from the dock of school-day existence at "Old Liberty." Never before in the history of high school commencement exercises has so large an assemblage of friends of the graduates gathered at the attendance last evening at the Frothingham, and it was noticeable that more enthusiasm was displayed than usual, the number of recalls being frequent and evidently sincerely sought.

LOYD COOPER,
Valedictorian of the Class of '95.

The theater was very cool, the thermometer standing at 76 degrees.

In the box farthest away from the stage, in the lower tier, on the right, sat Professor George Howell and Miss Eliza Chase, accompanied by friends. The other boxes were occupied by School Controller George Carson and family, and official dignitaries with friends. Every loge was occupied, the upper gallery also being filled. When the curtain arose shortly after 8 o'clock the scene on the stage brought forth involuntary applause from the audience present. Seated on the four upper tiers and surrounded by potted plants and a sylvan scene, the under-graduates, to the number of about fifty persons, the young ladies attired in white, presented a charming picture. Then, to the accompaniment of Bauer's orchestra, thirty-five graduates entered in the rear of those already on the stage, and stepped down a central aisle in pairs, each member turning at right angles at places previously assigned them.

Opening the Exercises.
When the applause which this movement had occasioned had subsided, Rev. Roger Israel requested the audience to arise and stand with an earnest inventor who was being pronounced by the reverend gentleman. At the conclusion of the prayer the school, led by Professor C. B. Derman, sang an inspiring initiatory song, applause continuing at its finish. Professor C. L. Vance, principal of the High school, as chairman of the evening, introduced Miss Mary Daniels, the class salutatorian, who, in behalf of her class, welcomed the friends present to the evening's exercises. Following the salutatory proper Miss Daniels discussed the subject: "What is a Nation?"

The speaker defined the word "nation," stating that a government was constituted by the individuals in it. Our government, she said, rests upon its common school system, and the result of the recent China-Japan war is a victory for education. In closing, Miss Daniels recited the famous lines of Goldsmith, "Hail fares the land, to hastening I'll go, when wealth accumulates and men decay."

Charles Teal, a young man who showed himself conversant on national topics, gave an oration "The Niagara Canal." The speaker said that there are two alternatives: either the British or American governments would control the Pacific ocean. He showed the danger of allowing a foreign fleet to creep into Central America, by means of a canal owned by its government, and gave a brief history of the agitation and referred to the benefit of the passage-way. A chorus by the school, entitled "Welcome Song," was given, the following young ladies composing a sextette, which rendered special parts: Cecelia Fellows, Perry, Joseph, Powell, Kamm, Estelle. The piece, though difficult, was given in a faultless manner.

Miss Graves' Essay.
An essay by Miss Mary Graves, on the subject, "Our National Lack of Reverence," was a gem in itself. Miss Graves mentioned the American's want of respect for a labeled aristocracy. Foreigners are amazed at our indifference in this respect, but, said the speaker, if we look back at our history such a coalition seems inevitable. The talk was given with a naturalness that was thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Maud A. Estelle, an exceedingly winsome young lady, recited an eccentric piece called "Oh, Sir." Miss Estelle has the natural talent of an elocutionist. Last evening her selection told of a young lady who was transformed from a school girl to a "madame," and of her subsequent trials with "Oh, Sir," "Cheerfulness," a song, was given by the school, the male members being heard to advantage.

The oration of Charles Whittemore, on "Looking Forward Fifty Years," was the best enjoyed endeavor of its kind on the evening. The speaker imagined the condition of Scranton in the year 1945, and told his dream to the audience. Certainly we had parks dotting the city at many places, and to his surprise the streets were kept clean. We had a model city and our city fathers were untainted with bribes. It was a maxim that only a philanthropist could be a councilman, and to be mayor "one must be almost an angel."

At the Training School.
The following graduated from the Training School for Teachers, Thursday: Rose Bechtold, Luella Cofring, Belle Doud, Tattle Falkows, Anna Gaughan, Katherine Gibbons, Tessie Gibbons, Anne Jones, Lizzie Kelly, Mary Keenan, Mary Mahon, Eliza McNally, Kate Orr, Helen Richards and Grace Rose.

Will Open Gospel Tabernacle.
The new Gospel tabernacle near Adams avenue and Duane street will be opened tomorrow with divine services at 10:30 a. m., 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. The regular all-day monthly Pentecost service on Tuesday, June 25, commencing at 10 a. m.

HAVE YOU A BABY?

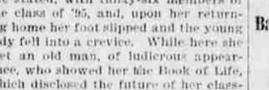

Guard the Child Against Cholera Infantum.

Heat and Poor Food Invite the Dread Disorder.

Largely Accountable for the High Death Rate.

Lactated Food the One Safe Diet for Tender Years.

Babies Thrive on It, and They Take it with Relish.

MARION RUSSELL,
a baby born die on account of improper food.

The first thing a baby can do is to eat. The question of a baby's food is most important up to the age of 5. Half of the babies born die on account of improper food. On its nourishing quality and its absolute freedom from contamination depend the growth, health and very existence of the little one.

In June, July and August unusual precautions must be taken, and the weak, delicate babies fall victims to that deadly disease cholera infantum, which will kill off so many precious ones this summer.

Medical skill can do no more to save babies' lives and to keep them well than it has done in the preparation of lactated food. It is a matter of careful record that "lactated food babies" are the healthiest in the world.

"After using lactated food for five years in cases of children suffering from cholera infantum, and in debilitating or wasting diseases, during which time it never failed me, I have pleasure in calling attention of physicians to it, and in recommending its use," says A. P. Orinell, M. D., the dean of the medical faculty of the University of Vermont, in a statement published in the Ladies' Home Journal.

It is of inestimable value to mothers to know this.

Medical science has been able to do nothing so good as lactated food to take the place of mother's milk. It is made for the express purpose of forming a perfect substitute for healthy mother's milk. It is pleasant to the taste, and has the unusual virtue of inducing delicate babies to take nourishment when other food disagrees with their weak stomachs. Lactated food has saved thousands of babies from falling victims to cholera infantum by keeping up their strength without increasing, as most food does at such times, the irritation in the intestines that is accountable for most of the fatalities among children during the heat of season.

There is no parent in the land but can read the following letter with profit. It is from Mrs. S. J. Russell, of Ogdontown, Maine, who writes:

"Little Marion is the picture of health and strength, and we attribute it all to lactated food. She has an fine set of white teeth as one will see and is never sick a day. She still uses your food and will for some time to come. I need not say anything of her vitality, as I think her photograph expresses evidence enough of that."
