Is Released from Further Duty by Queen Victoria.

THE RUSSO-FRENCH ALLIANCE

Will Join Forces in Case of an Attack from Germany or Austria-Danier to Cardinal Gibbons--Other Foreign News.

London, June 23.--The court circular contains the following: The Earl of Rosebery, first lord of the treasury and president of the council, arrived at Windsor castle Saturday and tendered his resignation to Her Majesty, by whom it was accepted.

Speaking to his constituents in Battersea last night, Mr. John Burns, a socialist member of the house of commons, urged the government to stick to the word it had undertaken to perform and not go to the country until a vote of want of confidence was carried against it.

London, June 23.--It is officially announced that the Rosebery government will resign. Lord Salisbury will be summoned by the queen to form a ministry and the cabinet will proceed with the routine business of the house, obtain provisional supplies and then dissolve parliament.

It is expected that the elections will take place about July 10. The second meeting of the cabinet yesterday afternoon began at 4 o'clock and lasted until 5.45. The meeting was held to decide whether the government should resign or dissolve parliament. It was decided to resign.

After dinner at Windsor castle last night Lord Rosebery had a long private audience of the queen, and communicated to her the decision arrived at by the government.

St. Petersburg, June 23.--The czar, in conversation today with a member of the foreign office, expressed himself as displeased with the unworthy behavior of the French fleet to Kiel. He indicated that the emperor had a serious distrust of the French squadron.

BROWNE AND HIS BRIDE

Coxey's Son-in-Law Journeys Toward Washington.

Massillon, O., June 23.--Bridgeman Browne, according to his latest information, is proceeding to Washington by special train, where he expects to be the central figure in the reunion of the plain commonwealth. Browne's proceeding by "easy stages" is plain, in view of the fact that he was obliged to borrow 25 cents to get as far as Canton, O. A complete private judge provided for him with the marriage license, for which no fee was paid, and an easy-going justice tied the knot on the same evening.

The bride, Mrs. Coxey, travels from town to town in street attire with her bridal outfit in a carpet bag. This troupeau was secured by Browne through an obliging acquaintance and consists of a gown of pail, a cheap white veil and a pair of white shoes, all of which cost exactly $12.

Browne's programme is to deliver daily speeches, while his wife sells "reform literature." He has dropped Coxey's bills and after devoting a year to his cause, has now inspired from on high new ideologies there.

Chester then cut Wilson's throat and stabbed him in several places. Charles Minze was arrested as an accomplice. Chester is at large. Wilson claimed to be a son of G. F. Wilson, of New York, of the banking firm of Wilson, Larabee & Co.

FOUGHT OVER CHECKERS. Probable Cause of the Death of John Watterston. Media, Pa., June 23.--John Watterston, white and colored, a day laborer, was shot and killed some time last night by John Miller, colored, aged 50 years, in the cabin of the latter in South Media. Miller is a cobbler and lives in a movable boat into his cabin and he shot and killed him.

From the condition of the room, however, it is thought that the two men got into a dispute over a game of checkers and in the fight that ensued Watterston was killed.

The number usually shipped was 300,000 baskets, and during the phenomenal season of two years ago they averaged 650,000 baskets. EXPLOSION ON A STEAMER

Four Persons Fatally Injured by Escaping Steam.

NO CAUSE FOR THE ACCIDENT

This Is the Explanation of the Engineer but Passengers Think That Preparations for a Race Were Being Made.

Chicago, June 23.--The white-back steamer Christopher Columbus met with a very serious accident on her return trip from Milwaukee last night. The wind was blowing from the north and she was making fast time until about 7 o'clock, when directly in Wisconsin there was a terrible explosion, followed immediately by a flash of flame, and the boat was immediately enveloped in a cloud of steam. Many persons were injured, some of whom were fatally.

Fatally injured--Robert McKonkey, coal passer, badly injured; James Lorimer and John Hopp, firemen; Stolt, coal passer.

Others injured--Miss Boxheimer, pianist; H. H. Damsch, musician; George W. Kohl, waterman; George W. Keesh, servant; Arnold Klein; Frank Bosner, fireman; J. E. Ryan, fireman; Nix Soter, waterman; Miss Jessie L. Stone, seaman.

On the arrival of the steamer at her dock this morning the injured were taken to St. Luke's hospital, where it was said all but two of the men will recover.

The cause of the accident, as explained by engineers, was the fitting on the main steam pipe "let go." This caused the explosion and the escape of steam. The accident was unavoidable and unaccountable. The boiler, it is said, had not been tested for a long time and was found to be all right. The Christopher Columbus went into commission for the season yesterday morning. She left on a trip to Milwaukee with 500 passengers on board and left the Cream City on Sunday.

It is asserted by passengers that she was racing with the Virginia, of the Goodrich line, but Captain Robert Smith, of the Columbus, emphatically denied this, saying that the boat had new engines and that he was not foolishly enough to race with any other boat. As soon as the explosion took place the utmost excitement ensued among the passengers, and the captain and steward fled in haste along the deck, but were disconnected at once from the boiler and the boat came on slowly under reduced steam with three boilers in operation.

An agent of the steamship company stated that a race was in progress at the time of the accident. Boatmen, however, say they were looking for a race between the rival steamers and they fully expected a brush when the two boats got their noses together pointing over a good course such as may be found between Chicago and Milwaukee.

A member of the Virginia crew said that when the two boats came abreast of each other on the down course last evening there were evidences to his mind that a race would be imminent if not actually in progress at the time. "Then," he added, "the whiteback fell behind us. Why, I could not say, but it was not long before it was away astern of us."

LOWERED ITALY'S FLAG. Lovers of Old Glory Object to the Operations Rag. Syracuse, N. Y., June 23.--A special from Superintendent Briggs, N. Y., to the Standard says: The contractors building the new trolley line in the gorge on the American bank of the Niagara river have brought great crowds of Italian laborers, accompanied by their families, to the city and ordered the Italian flag lowered.

Italians to the number of 500 crowded about and gesticulated. "Take that flag down, or I'll shoot it down," said Wilson. The sons of Italy rallied to the men were in earnest and complied.

HE FEARED LYNCHING. A Robber in Du Page County Jail Committed Suicide. Chicago, June 23.--Three hundred farmers of Du Page county organized themselves into an armed posse to capture a gang of thieves who had been stealing everything movable on their farms in Du Page county for the past two months. One of the band was run down yesterday after a midnight chase and taken to the Hinsdale jail by thirteen of the farmers. A crowd continued to surround the lock-up after the prisoner was in his cell. The demonstration frightened him into believing he was to be lynched and he took a piece of glass from a broken window and cut the artery in his left wrist. When the marshal opened the door he found the man dead.

HELD FOR ROBBERY. Nineteen-Year-Old Russian Rests in the Tombs Police Court. New York, June 23.--Louis Friedman, 19 years old, a Russian Jew, was held in Tombs police court to await requisition papers on the charge of conspiracy and robbery. The complainants are Nathan Mopschick, Louis Bernstein and Hyman Goldberg, who owned a hat and cap factory in Hurlerford, N. Y. They charge Friedman and other robbers with conspiring to rob their factory. Lawyer Hahn told Justice Voorhis that the Cloth, Hat and Capmakers' union, of this city, to which Friedman belonged, had ordered the blowing up of Bernstein and Goldberg's factory with dynamite.

"We had two detectives initiated in the Cloth, Hat and Capmakers' union," said Lawyer Hahn. "They were present when the union decided on the daring deed. We have the very minutes of the meeting at which the members so decided."

It is said that efforts will be made to have Friedman confess and appear against the others.

OBSTINATE COKE MEN. Will Not Join a Movement to Put Up Prices and Advance Wages. Connellsville, Pa., June 23.--The condition of the coke market warrants an advance in the price of coke which would have been accomplished at the recent meeting of the operators in New York, but for the opposition of W. J. Tinsley. All the other producers were in favor of the advance, but Tinsley, who had not been treated fairly and was able to sell all the coke he could produce at a profitable figure. This put a damper upon the operators' scheme and nothing further has been done. If the price of coke is advanced now, the H. C. Frick company will have to make the move. And this they are reluctant to do because as soon as they put furnace coke up $1.25 per ton, the coke of the miners and coke workers will be advanced accordingly. The Frick company would have no hesitancy in making such a move were it not that they have no guarantee that the operators would follow their example. There would be no advantage in advancing coke to $1.50 and wages in proportion and then have the other proprietors cut the rate down 20 or 30 cents.

POWDER MILL EXPLODES

Fourteen Hundred Kegs Go Up in Smoke.

HOUSES ARE BADLY WRECKED

The Valley Shaken Up For a Distance of Twenty-Five Miles--Not an Unbroken Window in Hingham.

Shenandoah, Pa., June 23.--The powder mill operated by Robert T. Fetter, Bedea, containing 1000 kegs of explosive, blew up last night, demolishing the buildings, shook the valley for twenty-five miles around and caused a loss of $16,000. It is supposed to have been touched off by a fire bug.

It was located in the Catawissa valley, four miles from here. No lives were lost so far as is known. The village of Hingham, two miles from the scene of the disaster, suffered terribly. The inhabitants were thrown from their beds and some fled from their homes in terror. There is today not an unbroken window glass in the town, and many of the houses are so badly wrecked that they will have to be abandoned until repairs are made. In Shenandoah, which is four miles from the mill, hundreds of people were awakened by the fearful shock. Many ran out on the streets, thinking some great catastrophe had occurred. The powder mill was new, having been put in operation May 1. It is completely demolished, as are the outbuildings at the place.

CASHIER MURDERED. C. B. Bierch Is Shot Down by Robbers Who Wanted Cash. Chicago, June 23.--The cashier of the West Chicago Street Railway company, was murdered in his office in the car barn at Milwaukee and Armitage avenue at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The cash drawer was robbed of $1000 to $2000. Bierch was alone in his office when the robbers entered. There were men in the barn, but no one was within calling distance. The cashier was in a wire cage, but had left the door open. When the robbers entered, Bierch was in the drawer Mr. Bierch reached for his revolver and was immediately shot. He fell to the floor, but managed to fire one shot, which went wild. The burglar fired three more bullets into his body and then, emptying the cash drawer, ran out with his contents and escaped. The safe in the office contained $5,000 in currency and the door was open, but this money was not touched. Mr. Bierch died at 7 o'clock, and while he was able to give a good description of his murderer, no trace of him has yet been found.

SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS. The Bodies of 102 Merged Babies Found in London in Eight Months. London, June 23.--Revelations of the existence of wholesale infanticide have startled London within the last few days. Within its precincts the bodies of sixteen infants have been found in London, and during the past eight months 102 bodies have been found in the same district. The most of these babies had been strangled by tying a cord about the neck or suffocated by taping a towel over the face.

One little one had a large rosebud forced down its throat to cause death. The police assert that unqualified nurses are hired in most of these cases for the purpose of disposing of the newly-born babies. These persons, they say, are easy to find, and are ready to do anything required of them for a fee ranging from two shillings and sixpence to seven shillings and sixpence. "The nurse checks the child, if possible, by a more rigid examination and registration of nurses, but the police declare that it will be impossible to reach the root of the matter without special legislation.

IDENTIFIED AS MURDERERS. Sensational Testimony Given in the Barrett Scott Case. Butte, Neb., June 23.--Four witnesses were examined in the Barrett Scott murder case yesterday. Miss McWhorter related the assault at Parker and positively identified Mulligan as the man who did all the talking and who exhorted Scott to give up the Holt county money. She also identified Harris. On cross-examination she admitted she never saw either of the defendants before, but testified she could not be mistaken as to their identity. The cross-examination of the witnesses by the defense developed the fact that they expected to prove that other persons committed the murder, and that Dell Akin, Stockberry and others were interested in putting Scott out of the way.

Found with His Neck Broken. Somerville, June 23.--Farmer Vanderveer Perlee, one of the oldest and best known citizens in Somerset county, was found dead in his barnyard field with his neck broken yesterday afternoon. Mr. Perlee lived on the north branch road, two miles from this place. He started for the hayfield driving a spirited team of horses. An hour later the team had the hayfield without a driver, drawing a wagon half filled with hay. It is thought that the team started suddenly, throwing the aged farmer to the ground.

Saved by the "Squire." An Atlantic City, June 23.--While out yachting today "Squire" William McMillen, of Philadelphia, with a colored boy was in a yawl attached to a yacht. Four miles from the shore the yacht backed suddenly, upsetting the yawl and dumping the occupants into the sea. The "Squire" went to the rescue of the colored boy who was struggling in the water until the yacht came about and picked them up.

Temperance Women Leave London. London, June 23.--A number of the American delegates to the great temperance convention for Baltimore, during a dense fog at 8 o'clock this morning ran into and sank the brigantine Willie, off Portland. Two of the crew of the brigantine scrambled aboard the Stuttgart, and the other four managed to get their small boat clear of the vessel before she went down.

The occupants of the small boat were subsequently picked up by the Stuttgart, and, with their companions, were handed over to a pilot boat, which landed them at Seaboard. The steamer apparently was undamaged and proceeded on her voyage.

CHINA'S LOAN

It Is Said She Has Not Ratified the Contract.

London, June 23.--The Statist and the Pall Mall Gazette contradict the telegrams from St. Petersburg saying that the Chinese loan contract has been signed. China withholds the ratification, though she is pressing in Russia to conclude the treaty. China may finally refuse to ratify the convention. She objects to the conditions imposed by France that further loans must be borrowed in Paris. She also refuses to hypothecate any part of her customs revenue for loan.

According to the Pall Mall Gazette, the real reason for this situation of affairs is that, on April 22, a special Chinese envoy signed a contract with a London firm granting the Bank of England the option of arranging the great loan. The bank immediately placed at the disposal of the authorities at Peking the sum of $5,000,000, which was drawn upon. Russia and France regard it as a loan and tried to spoil the London contract.

The double dealings on the part of the Peking authorities led the British government to remind them that the customs revenue of the treaty ports, on which the loan must be secured, was already practically in the hands of the British, whose rights must be protected. With a view of fixing matters the Russian-French syndicate again tried to induce the Rothschilds to join the syndicate, offering them $100,000 of the loan. This offer the Rothschilds declined.

MURDER IN WARREN COUNTY. Aged Widower Found Dead in Bed with His Back Riddled with Buckshot. Lake George, June 23.--News of another murder in Warren county has just reached here from the village of Chertown, eighteen miles away, in the northern part of the county. District Attorney Lyman Jenkins of Glens Falls, and Sheriff Courtney Collins left for the scene of the tragedy at 4 o'clock this afternoon. August Mead, 65 years old, was found dead in his bed with his back riddled with buckshot. Mr. Mead was a widower and lived alone in his house on the Warrensburg road, about one mile this side of Chertown village.

He was a man of hermit-like habits, and was supposed to have concealed about his premises considerable money. The house showed evidences of having been ransacked, and as no money was found either about the house or in the dead man or in the house, the motive of the murder is attributed to robbery. Some of Mr. Mead's neighbors, observing that the house had not been opened today, broke in the front door with the result as stated.

KILLED HIS WIFE. Before He Got So He Advertised for Another Matrimonial Partner. London, June 23.--A man named Robert Hudson, who has been arrested for the murder of his wife and child, is likely to prove another Deering. He took lodgings for himself and family on Hemlock Moor, Yorkshire, in a remote and secluded spot on the moor he dug the graves of his wife and child, and, after burying them, vanished. A man living on the moor, noticed the freshly turned earth, investigated and dug up the bodies.

Hudson is a young and highly educated man who ran through his own and wife's fortunes. His anxiety to get rid of his wife is shown by the fact that before he killed her he advertised for another wife under the name of Hunter. He was tracked for five days before he was captured.

SANK A BRIGANTINE. Collision in a Dense Fog Off the English Coast. London, June 23.--The German steamer Stuttgart, Captain Kothenbeck, from Bremen for Baltimore, during a dense fog at 8 o'clock this morning ran into and sank the brigantine Willie, off Portland. Two of the crew of the brigantine scrambled aboard the Stuttgart, and the other four managed to get their small boat clear of the vessel before she went down.

The occupants of the small boat were subsequently picked up by the Stuttgart, and, with their companions, were handed over to a pilot boat, which landed them at Seaboard. The steamer apparently was undamaged and proceeded on her voyage.

AMERICAN TURNERBUND.

Large Crowds Witness Events at Clifton Track.

Petersen, N. J., June 23.--Fully 15,000 persons were at the Clifton track to see the events in the second day of the turn-out of the Atlantic division of the North American Turnerbund. Preliminary exercises were held by the various societies in the forenoon, and in the afternoon there were contests of the society teams on apparatus and in games, mass calisthenic drills by the senior classes, ring exercises by 500 ladies, and an iron band drill by the most notable features of the day, and the manner in which they were executed elicited great applause.

Seven-pound nickel-plated wands were used by the "De Wolfe" farmers. In the evening a gigantic pyramid with brilliant illuminations was executed by 100 Turners under the direction of the Swiss Turn Verein of Paterson. Intellectual and vocal contests were held at Turner hall. The judges of the fencing contests have practically decided that the laurel wreath for this exercise shall go to George Dohs, of the New York Turn Verein, of Bloomingdale, or to W. Friedman, of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde. All the societies will parade and Governor Werts is expected to review them.

FROM "EZRA, THE KING." Judge Woods Is Advised to Reduce the Punishment of Debs. Indianapolis, June 23.--Judge Woods received a letter today from Chicago in which the writer, signing himself "Ezra the King," advised the judge that while Eugene Debs had exhausted his rights under statutory law, he still had the right of appeal to the king. Judge Woods, the writer said, was king of the Ninth Judicial district, and it was advisable that as such district king he should reduce Debs' term to one month, or otherwise the prisoner would appeal to the people and the people would set Debs and themselves right of their own motion.

The writer intimated that the means were at hand. Judge Woods holds the suggestion under advisement.
