By losing to the Ponies Saturday, Syracuse drops into practically a tie with Buffalo and Wilkes-Barre for second place, where one day's playing may change the positions of these three clubs into any possible combination. During last week's game, Scranton gained on Providence and pulled away from a position uncomfortably close to the tail-enders.

TWO OUT OF THREE.

Scranton and Buffalo each won a game Saturday afternoon—Queer Base Running Lost the First—Delaney Won the Second.

Fully 2,500 persons saw Buffalo and Scranton play two games and split even at the Base Ball park Saturday afternoon. The two contests might be termed a consomme bouillabaisse, as they included a little of everything.

The first game was chuck full of good plays, but plays, lightning double plays, heavy hitting and a kind of base running new in Scranton. In fact, the base running was imported from New York by Tommy Bannan, the new fielder. It was of the shipwrecked egg variety, but enough to make a very grand-father. Once it resulted in getting Bannan himself put out, the second time it caused a double play; in each instance Scranton was robbed of a run. "It" didn't count in the game, but "it" Sir Thomas Bannan had played less to the grandstand and more to the spirit of the game. Scranton probably would have won the first sitting. To the new fielder, however, is due the credit of good field work and reliable hitting. He always found the ball, and found it hard, and out of eight times at bat made four hits. He showed him a very capable of getting over several acres of field territory in a very brief period and leaves only a cloud of dust and a pale blue streak behind him when he cavorts around the bases.

First Game.
With one out, on third and Bannan on first in the second inning, Bannan was tipped at second. Rogers got a walk to first, stole second, and with Huston scored on Brady's single. Johnson singled, and with two on bases Radford struck out. A double and a single had earned Buffalo a run in the second.

In the fifth, with one out, one run in and two on bases, Bannan scored Meany and advanced Huston to third. Bannan reached on a single. On Rogers' force hit Bannan crowded Huston off third and both were caught in a double play. Buffalo came within one of tying the score in the sixth, and in the seventh got a lead of one run, which was tied in the eighth.

With one run in and two out in the seventh, Meany was coached to make home on Bannan's error of Bannan's fly, but was caught on assists by Bannan and Wise to Urquhart. Buffalo earned its winning run in the ninth.

Second Game.
The last game was a pitchers' battle from the beginning. Until the sixth inning only two scattered singles had been made off Delaney, and until the fifth only three old "Hoss" Vickers. In the fifth a single, a base on balls and Egan's double scored two Scranton runs, and in the sixth another tally was made on Clymer's running muff of Huston's fly. Smith's single and Brady's force hit.

Buffalo had scored once on the sixth on Field's single, a wild pitch and Egan's excusable running muff. With two out Urquhart was hit and filled the bases, but the side was retired by Lew's forcing Urquhart. In the eighth a single, a base on balls and Egan's double scored two Scranton runs, and in the sixth another tally was made on Clymer's running muff of Huston's fly. Smith's single and Brady's force hit.

With one run in, two out and three on bases Vickers fanned out in the eighth.

Yesterday at Providence.
Providence, R. I., June 23.—Providence again defeated Rochester today in a free batting game. There was a strong wind blowing and it made it hard for the fielders at times. Lovett pitched for Providence and had fairly less support, except in the fifth inning, when Dixon, playing in Stricker's place, lost two grounders on the left diamond. Duryea did not hold the Providence batsmen down as usual, but most of the hits were done after the side should have been retired by perfect support. Attendance 3,000. Score:
Providence.....0 0 2 0 0 0-10
Rochester.....1 0 2 1 0 0-6

Hits—Providence, 12; Rochester, 12. Errors—Providence, 2; Rochester, 6. Batteries—Lovett and McAuley; Duryea and Warner. Earned runs—Providence, 1; Rochester, 2. Two-base hits—Knight, Rogers, Hamburg, Breckenridge, Three-base hits—Knight, Daly, Stolen bases—Lyons, Bassett, Knight, Conney, Warner, Rogers, Hamburg and Breckenridge. First base on balls—Bassett, Conney, Warner, Rogers, Hamburg and Breckenridge. First base on errors—Providence, 5; Rochester, 2. Struck out—By Lovett, 2; by Warner, 1. Wild pitch—Lovett. Umpire—Gaffney and Doerscher. Time—1:30.

Pitcher Luby, released by Louisville, and who is wanted by Pittsburgh, reached Scranton Saturday afternoon and is at the Westminister. His wife is with him. Springfield Union: "Pitcher Luby, who has been secured by Scranton, has not made much of a showing in the big league, but few pitchers could win in a club like Louisville's."

Huston will be put in the box once this week, probably against Rochester. As a pitcher Huston has shown great speed, but, like Betts, he is apt to get broken if sent too long to the mound.

An injustice has been done Pitcher Luby by an enemy in Chicago who started the fairy tale that Luby is suing for divorce on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Luby is with her husband in this country and between them there has been no estrangement.

It is almost a settled fact that Jettett Meekins is to be numbered among the has-beens of the base ball profession. His arm has at last given way to the strain he labored under in the latter part of the last year, and experts say that he will never be the twister he once was.

Catcher Smith in 27 years old. Last night he remarked that he had played in the American association, but that he had this season been described as "young."

Smith, he said that some writer had described him as a youngster who gave promise of becoming a good player.

Egan was the only one of eighteen players in yesterday's second game to make two hits on the hit and reached third, but a ground rule had been made that a blocked ball was only good for two bases and Egan would have gone back to second.

Afterwards' rest Delaney showed great speed and splendid control of the ball. His work indicated that the cold-warmer kind has been taken out of his arm. With only two games a week this clever little twister will compare favorably with any in the league. He has a rare combination of speed and control, and his delivery is a perfect model of what a pitcher should be.

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: "Mack wants the services of Jack Luby, who has been released by the Louisville club, but whose ten days are not yet up. Mack cannot discover when the ten days expire, and McKelvey for some reason or other will not tell him. Mack will take Luby along and pitch him against the Chicagoans on Tuesday. According to this programme Hawley will pitch on Tuesday, Luby on Wednesday, and Hart on Wednesday." Luby will pitch today for Scranton against Toronto.

Four Carondelet players went on strike Saturday and refused to accompany the club on two games at Scranton. The strikers are Pitchers Flannagan and Callahan, Hens and Patchen. They claim that several weeks' pay is due them. To Hess alone they demand $1,000. The other three demand $500 each. They are now in New York and telephoned Manager Swift that the men would be paid as soon as they returned. The Carondelet players will not play until they received their back pay.

INTERFERED WITH AGAIN.
Pittsburgh Authorities Will Not Allow Leonard Fight to Take Place.
Chief of Police Loftus, of Pittston, notified those in charge of the boxing exhibition that has been billed to take place this evening in Arroyo hall, that that city, that the bout between James Judge and Mike Leonard will not be allowed under any circumstances; therefore the historic debate between these two athletes will not take place for the present.

The forfeit money was staked in such a way that either of the principals or their backers could withdraw it any time if the emergency arose as the intervention of the authorities.

Chief Loftus said to both men that he would cause their arrest and also that of every man connected with the affair, and Judge and his friends immediately made up their minds to live with the law and withdraw. There has been no intimation given that the "go" between Professors Judge and Leonard has been arranged to come off in private.

When the hall at Pittston was secured and the exhibition advertised, it was done, as reported, with the guarantee that there would be no police interference. There are many lovers of the manly art in Scranton who would journey to Pittston this evening to see the mill, and it was determined to knock him man out.

Judge sent word to this office last night that he withdrew from the fight at Pittston. As both men have gone to New York, it is probable that they may go to some point where they are more favorably received.

Awaiting to Receive Him.
Benjamin Griffiths has received a letter from a friend in Wales, telling him of the expectation and interest with which the Welsh people await the coming of Judge Edwards, who will leave shortly for his native land. The misadventure says that every demonstration will be made to honor their guest by the native Cymro. Everything is in readiness for the big event, which will be held at Llanelli during Judge Edwards' visit and over which he will preside. Scranton and its representative Welsh citizens are well known in Wales, and active preparations are being made in Gwalia for a suitable reception to Judge Edwards and party.

At Far-Famed Campbell's Lodge.
Pupils of Professor David Owens, in No. 14 school, composed a party which went to Campbell's lodge Saturday in quest of pleasure and a final meeting of the room students after the close of school. The fine day just suited the outing, and upon arriving at the lodge lunch was partaken of by the young folks. After lunch, the party, including Kellow, Sadie Bick, Agnes McNeerney, Sadie Edwards, Edith Beaver, Jennie Davis, Lily Morris, Bessie Fraunfelder, Bessie Phillips, Hattie Coons, Emma Thomas, Rita Thomas, Anna Lewis, Margaret, Mary, Cora Hand, Virginia Powell, Margaret Williams, Mary Owens, Will Acker, Will Williams, Robert Carson, Griffiths Rogers, Will Harris, Ed Morse, Sanford Phillips, Morgan Thomas, and Walter Jones.

The Last Meeting.
This evening will be the last of the present term in which the Hyde Park Literary and Debating society will convene. The society will hold a special event for members only. A programme has been prepared and several members will give impromptu addresses. Cake, ice cream and other delicacies of the season will be served at the conclusion of the literary exercises.

Almost a Serious Mishap.

If the endeavor is successful the same thing will be done every year, in order to keep awake school-day affections and companions
