GOVERNOR HASTINGS.

MATTHEW S. QUAY.

HASTINGS VS. QUAY

Announces His Intention of Becoming a Delegate.

THROWS BOQUETS AT CHAIRMAN GILKESON

Attributes Republican Success to the Efforts of the State Chairman—The Mysterious Interview—A Big Political Fight Is On.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Harrisburg, June 24.—Governor Hastings made a formal announcement to-night to the Tribune correspondent that he was a candidate for delegate to the next state convention from Center county, and that he would also be a candidate for permanent chairman of the convention. The governor stated further that he was for Bank Commissioner Gilkeson for re-election as chairman of the state committee. This announcement was made by Governor Hastings after he and Attorney General McCormick had a conference with Senator Quay. What passed between the parties to the conference none would disclose, except that the governor said he had told the Beaver senator that he favored Gilkeson's candidacy for re-election. Senator Quay is confined to his room at the Lehigh hotel with a badly swollen foot as a result of an accident while fishing last week at Briggantine. When Governor Hastings learned of Senator Quay's condition he sent him a note stating that he had expected the senator to call upon him, but since he was confined to his room he would call upon the Beaver statesman. Senator Quay replied that he had intended to visit the executive department to pay his respects to the governor, but if he did call it would be brief.

This evening Governor Hastings and Attorney General McCormick called on Senator Quay. After the conference between them the senator said to the Tribune correspondent he thought Governor Hastings would be chosen permanent chairman of the state convention without opposition, but that there would be a fight for state chairman. Governor Hastings says the fight against Chairman Gilkeson is a war in disguise against his administration for its stand during the recent legislature for a new apportionment of the state. He says: "Gilkeson is an able leader and a clean politician, and ought to be re-elected chairman for his success in increasing the Republican majorities in the state under his leadership."

Quay's Forces in Line. Senator Quay is getting his forces in line for battle with his enemies. He is in the fight to stay and will keep it up to a finish. He has been in absolute control of the party organization for fifteen years and is confident he will triumph over his foes in the impending contest. The senator remained close to his room this morning in consultation with Sergeant-at-Arms Harrah, of the state senate; James M. Clark, of New Castle, chief of the bureau of industrial statistics; Major Brown, of Erie, deputy secretary of internal affairs, and other loyal supporters. The plan of campaign has been mapped out and will be executed without delay. Senator Quay and his friends are on the aggressive and will wage a relentless war upon those who seek to overthrow him.

The Beaver senator suffers much pain from the accident to his left foot while fishing last week at Briggantine. It is much swollen and he moves about in a room with a painful limp. Barring this he is as well as he has ever been. He talks little about the political battle, except to his most confidential friends. To the newspaper reporters and department officials, who have seen him during his stay at the capital, the Beaver senator talked of nothing else but fishing. He delights in telling of the large catches of drum fish he has made at Briggantine with his faithful guide, Ben Sooy, of his successful landing tarpon in the streams of Florida, and of the large catfish he caught in the Missouri river before the war.

Desisted by Callers. Senator Quay had many callers during the day. They began arriving about 9 o'clock and all day his room was besieged by visitors. They had all come on the same mission—to tender him their support in the present crisis. This morning a delegation of Westmoreland politicians, who are here in the interest of the candidacy of James S. Moorehead, of Greenburg for the minority representative on the Superior court bench, called upon the senator to pay their respects. The party consisted of ex-Senator EDWARD E. ROBBINS, Richard Conlier, Frank Cowan, Doman C. Ogden, and John B. Heade, Mr. Moorehead's law partner. John S. Weller, of Bradford, the Quay leader in that county and its district attorney; Senator Coyne, of Schuylkill, the implacable opponent of the Quay county; ex-Senator Smith, of Lancaster, and many local politicians were also among the senator's visitors.

The feeling between the Quay people and the Martin-Magee-Hastings combination is very bitter and will become more intense as the campaign wages. Chairman Gilkeson is negotiating for the removal of the state headquarters during the convention from the Lehigh to the Commonwealth. This is because Senator Quay will have his headquarters at the Lehigh, and an office close to him would be in contact more than he can help with his former friend and the latter's faithful followers. For a quarter of a century the Lehigh has been the headquarters of the state committee. If satisfactory terms can be made with the Commonwealth people Chairman Gilkeson will close the contract this week.

Campaigning by Letter. Senator Quay is making a systematic campaign against his enemies. On last Friday evening there was great outpouring to the Lehigh hotel, at Washington, to the chairman of the various county and city Republican committees a typewritten letter, over his signature, stating that there was likely to be a bitter contest at the next convention and appealing to them to elect delegates friendly to him. These letters have gone all over the state and will be followed by a formal letter announcing the senator's candidacy for state chairman. Bank Commissioner Gilkeson has also written to the county and city chairmen, stating that he is a candidate for re-election and asking for their assistance.

Jack Robinson in Line. Media, Pa., June 24.—Congressman "Jack" Robinson came out today strongly for Senator Quay and will make a hard-fought fight in favor of Quay. Mr. Robinson has written a letter to B. F. Gilkeson, chairman of the state committee, asking him how he managed to expend $100,000 in the last state campaign. Mr. Robinson is a member of the state committee and he says he has the right to know how much money was spent.

An Increase at Lebanon. Lebanon, Pa., June 24.—The employees of the North Lebanon furnaces have been notified of a 10 per cent. increase in their wages to take effect July 1. The East Lebanon Iron company has notified the employees of the puddle and rolling mills that an advance of 10 per cent. will be made in their wages dating today. In all about 600 men are affected by the increase in the two works.

Slashed and Robbed. Norristown, June 24.—William Benson, a farmer, living near Howellsville, Chester county, while returning home this afternoon, was attacked on the highway by two colored men and robbed of $10. Benson was stabbed three times. His injuries are thought to be fatal.

Killed by a Trolley Car. York, Pa., June 24.—Helen Klinefelter, Little Patrick daughter of William B. Klinefelter, in attempting to cross West York avenue this afternoon was struck by a trolley car and dragged a hundred feet, she died half an hour later from her injuries.

STATE SNAP SHOTS. Runaway mine cart at Wilkes-Barre crushed lifeline Robert Richards. Sunstroke yesterday killed aged Samuel Ernst, a farmer at Mt. Bethel, Northampton county. Several young men at Mohonville were nabbed, accused of an attempt to wreck trolley cars. Little Patrick Maloney fell down an abandoned mine hole at Wilkes-Barre and his body has not yet been recovered. Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, of Brooklyn, preached the Baccalaureate sermon yesterday at the Hill school, Pottstown. Carnegie Steel company, at Homestead, has received an order for 37,000 tons of steel beams for the New York Elevated railroad.

LAWLESSNESS AT GREINA

Citizens Lynched and Property Is Destroyed.

ATTEMPT TO KILL A NEGRESS

The Woman Escapes, So Her House Is Burned by the Ruffians—An Old Negro Shamefully Abused. Other Victims.

New Orleans, June 24.—Lawlessness reigns in Greina, a suburb of this city. In Jefferson Parish, last night, as a result one man has suffered death at the hands of a mob of lynchers, another one is dying, a house was burned and the furniture demolished. There is revenge in the hearts of the law-abiding citizens, who no longer have faith in the powers of the guardians of the peace, and they have taken the law into their own hands. At 6 o'clock yesterday evening a gang of ruffians appeared on the streets and declared their intention of lynching a negress named Frances Woodson. Night came on, however, and they dispersed and were seen again for some hours. About 10 o'clock at night the crowd, who are said to be composed of six well-known young men in the community, went to Woodson's house, but she, having heard of their threats against her life, had fled and came over to New Orleans, where she remained until this morning. The hoodlums knocked at the door, but as this was not opened to them, they broke open the side gate and went into the rear yard, subsequently gaining entrance into the house by breaking in the kitchen door.

Set Fire to Building. Once in the house they immediately set to work demolishing the furniture. After finishing their work the crowd set fire to the building. They then ran away, but were seen and recognized. An alarm of fire was turned in and the flames were quickly subdued. As soon as the outrage became known white citizens organized themselves and determined to lynch the ruffians. The latter eluded arrest and at midnight committed a second outrage, when they ran across an old negro and beat him to the point of death. Officer Goodlett finally caught John Frey, a young white man, and one of the ruffians. The news quickly spread among the citizens who had gathered in force. They intercepted the officer and taking the prisoner from him lynched Frey to the nearest telegraph pole. Early this morning three others of the gang were arrested, and it is feared they may suffer the same fate as Frey.

MR. DANA'S LIBEL SUIT.

It Is Decided That He Need Not Go to New Orleans for Trial.

New York, June 24.—The decision in the libel case of Frank B. Noyes, editor of the Washington Star, against Charles A. Dana, was handed down today by Judge Pitkin, of the United States District court. The judge decided that Mr. Dana is not to go to Washington. The suit against Mr. Dana was instituted by F. Noyes, a resident of the state of Maryland, which fact was developed upon the presentation of the case to Judge Brown.

Noyes contended that he had been libeled in The Sun and took the matter before the Supreme court of the District of Columbia. The libel was published in the United States by the District of Columbia on March 7 last and forwarded here to United States District Attorney McParlane, and an effort made to remove Mr. Dana to Washington for trial.

The matter came first before Commissioner Shields and subsequently the application to remove Mr. Dana to Washington for trial came up before Judge Allison Brown in the United States District court. Mr. Dana there assumed all responsibility for the publication of the matter complained of and said to be libelous. On behalf of Mr. Dana, Messrs. Root and Lincoln argued that the removal of Mr. Dana to Washington was without warrant in law and a violation of the constitutional rights of a citizen. Mr. Root asserted that the attack on Mr. Dana was an attack on the liberties of the whole press of the United States, which would be a precedent for every newspaper in the country. He said that every newspaper was endangered and contended that if any offense had been committed it had been committed in New York and Mr. Dana should be tried there.

This is the second attempt that has been made to take Mr. Dana to Washington. The first was made by Boss Sheppard in a case almost similar to the last one. Justice Blatchford heard the argument at that time. Justice Blatchford ordered Mr. Dana to be discharged.

HOMES FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

A Boston Millionaire's Provisions For the Indigent.

Southern Pines, N. C., June 24.—A Boston millionaire named Turf has provided a resort for consumption several months ago. He was so favorably impressed that, after examining the country, he has bought 5,000 acres of desirable land, seven miles from Southern Pines, which will hereafter be devoted to the accommodation of indigent consumptives—those who desire to come here from the north, but who are financially unable to meet the expenses of living a comparatively idle life after they get here. His plan is to build about 500 cottages on the land purchased by him and to provide easy and light employment for the class of sufferers whom he provides homes for.

RHOADES WILL GET $20,000. His Injuries Caused His Engagement of Marriage to Be Broken Off. Philadelphia, June 24.—Judge Pennypacker, in the common pleas court, today directed that judgment be entered for $20,000 in favor of Samuel D. Rhoades against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company. Mr. Rhoades, in October, 1892, was a messenger of the United States Express company and

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILLS

Measures Considered and Approved or Rejected.

POOR DISTRICT BILL A LAW

The Important Measure Introduced by Mr. O'Malley Is Signed by the Chief Magistrate—Measures That Were Vetoed.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 24.—The governor this day signed among others the following bills: Senate bill, No. 142, providing for the creation of the office of fire marshal in cities of the third class, defining his powers and duties, fixing the penalties for neglecting or obstructing him in the discharge of his duties and providing for hearings before such marshal; senate bill, No. 139, to establish an intermediate court of appeal regulating its constitution, officers, jurisdiction, powers, practice and its relation to the supreme court and other courts, providing for the reports of its decisions, the compensation of the judges and other officers, and the practice and costs on appeals from its judgments; house bill, No. 219, to enable foreign corporations engaged in this state in the publication and sale of books, tracts, newspapers, etc., the not providing for any city of the third class shall constitute a part of the poor district of such city of the third class or of the poor district of which said city is a part.

House bill No. 234, introduced by Mr. O'Malley, providing that territory annexed to any city of the third class shall constitute a part of the poor district of such city of the third class or of the poor district of which said city is a part. House bill No. 340, authorizing the council of incorporated boroughs to change the destination of wards. Measures That Were Vetoed. The governor has vetoed these bills: An act to repeal the first section of an act entitled "An act relating to the election of pathmasters in the county of Erie and for other purposes" approved April 8, 1893. House bill No. 10, entitled "An act supplementing an act entitled 'An act to make the carrying on of the business of detectives' approved May 23, A. D. 1887, regulating the fees of detectives in certain cases." The governor says: "This bill, if it were to become a law, would give to detectives the same power to execute process in the name of the Commonwealth as is now possessed by constables and sheriffs. The act to which this is a supplement provides for the licensing of persons who desire to enter into the business of detectives, and who depend for their employment largely upon private interests. To give them the same power and fees as are attached to the office of the law would encourage oppressive arrests by a class of persons not elected by the people and not recognized in the administration of our criminal laws. Persons who establish detective agencies, or are employed as detectives by private persons or corporations should be paid by the persons employing them and not by the defendant or the county."

VISIT TO SACRED SHRINES.

Described by Rev. J. G. Eckman at Meeting of Ministers. At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Scranton Methodist Ministers' Association held yesterday morning in the Elm Park church, G. F. Price was in the chair, and the feature of the meeting was a talk by Rev. J. G. Eckman on "A Visit to the Sacred Shrines of Protestantism."

The talk was a history of the gentlemen's recent trip in Europe. The sacred shrines referred to are: The grave of John Hus, the martyr, who was burned at the stake on the 14th of May in the year 1415; a monument to Martin Luther, at Worms, where the great diet was held; and a monument at Oxford, England, to Hugh Latimer, Ridley and Bishop Cranmer, who were murdered during the reign of Queen Mary.

The address was very interesting, those present discussing the subject afterward in a manner complimentary to the speaker. The ministers were invited by the Wilkes-Barre conference to join in an excursion to Haverhill, Mass. The local divines accepted and, with their families, will attend the outing.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Rev. W. G. Watkins presided. At a previous meeting an election of officers occurred. Rev. T. J. Collins was vice-president; Rev. Mr. Douglas, moderator; Rev. Mr. Ellis, secretary. A banquet will inaugurate the opening of the conference in September, the meeting of yesterday being the last of the term.

"Socialism" was the subject of Rev. Warren G. Partridge's remarks before the regular meeting of the Baptist conference yesterday. Mr. Partridge treated the great question chiefly in an historical sense, telling of the past meaning and present distinction, not dwelling strenuously upon socialism's phases. At the conclusion of the reading of the paper, a discussion ensued by the divines present.

WAS HIS FALL ACCIDENTAL.

Amos Shipenski Says He Had No Intention of Throwing Himself.

Amos Shipenski, a young man resident of Dodgetown, fell off the Delaware and Hudson railroad bridge on South Washington avenue yesterday at noon and met with a deep gash on the forehead. The report quickly circulated that he had meditated suicide and purposely threw himself off.

The bridge is not more than five or six feet above the bed of the stream, and it is not enough of water flowing down the Roaring Brook at present to drown a person.

He was brought to the police station and he said last night that he had been drinking for three days and that his fall was the result of intoxication. He denied that he intended to destroy himself.

His funeral service will be held at 10 o'clock this afternoon at the home of H. H. Coston, 410 Clay avenue, where the deceased resided. Rev. Dr. Pearson will conduct the services. The remains will be taken to Hazleton at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The funeral will be private.
