JUDGE RICE RESIGNS.

lis Modest Retirement from the Benel He Has Graced So Well

After thirteen years of most hone able service as president judge of the Luzerne county courts, Judge Rice yesterday retired from its judicial duties At 10.15 he came on the bench and handed down several papers to the clerk. He then returned to the bar office for a few minutes, leaving Judge Lynch on the beach. An attorney approached of Dr. Mudge's book on "Sanctification" him to argue a case, but was told that and concluding with a personal illustrathe judge had resigned. Judge Rice then as to the culture of roses and the then finished up his work and arranged desire to increase them when successall the business of the office of president fully we raise a few so we will desire judge and at 11.30 stepped into the court | to increase Christian graces as honest-

AN EXPENSIVE TIME.

It Costs an Out-of-Town Citizen $65 to See the Elephant.

Last Saturday night a resident of one of the neighboring towns came Wilkes-Earre to spend the evening and see the elephant. He saw it before he got through, but it cost him more than he liked to pay to see the big animal. By some mischance the man from out of town fell in with a bad crowd at DEED OF A BRAVE FIREMAN Lizzie Jones' place, on South Fel street. He spent part of the night with a gentleman of color, Gabriel Anty who is a white washer by occupation Yesterday morning the visitor to our city found himself short just $65. He couldn't stand that and immediately had recourse to the law to recover his cash. He procured a warand from Alderman Thomas and Constable Evans was sent on the case. In the afternoon, assisted by ex-Alderman Rooney. Anty was corralled in one of his haunts.

Before 'Squire Thomas he had a hear ing, but previously he was searched, but no money was found. The prosecutor being sworn, told of his travels on Saturday night; of how he became well "saturated" and then went to Lizzie Jones' with two companions and met Anty. Sunday morning his money was gone. Anty refused to be sworn and was committed to jail.

The property holders on Broad, Fulon and William streets and the Scranton and Pitteton Suburban Railway company are still unable to arrange matters to the satisfaction of the prop erty holders. The company have expressed a willingness to lay the girder rail and pave on Broad street, which the citizens of that street appreciate, but owing to the relations of the cooperation of the citizens of William and Fulton streets in the street railway matter they feel that it would be an injustice to the people of the above nentioned streets, to agree to such an arrangement. They propose to hold to
