POOR WILKES-BARRE.

Scranton Wins the First of the Series in a Very Ragged but Exciting Contest. There Were Errors and Hits Galore.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 1.-Scranton and Wilkes-Barre played a see-saw game today, which was one of the most interesting contests of the season, even though ragged fielding predominated. Wilkes-Barre tried Wynne, a college pitcher from New York, who made a good impression, but he was scored unmercifully on balls and strikes by Snyder in the first part of the game, and this with ragged support lost the game. Delaney pitched for Scranton and was unusually wild. He hit Betts a terrific crack on the elbow of his pitching arm. disabling him so that he could not pitch the game for which he was reserved. Diggins was injured in the neventh in running bases and retired. Meaney finished the game for Scranton sater the fifth inning, but the fact that het won out was due to errors of the

BASE BALL IN THE WEST.

English Language Taxed to Describe the Quincy-Oma a Game.

The possibilities of the English lansuage have frequently been taxed to describe the great American game of base ball, but for striking illustration this from the Herald of Quincy, Ill., has rarely been equaled:

"The glass-armed toy soldiers of this town were fed to the pigs yesterday by the cadaverous Indian grave-robbers from Omaha. The flabby, one-lunged Reubens who represent the Gem City n the reckless rush for the base ball pennant had their shins toasted by the pasilisk-eved cattle drivers from the west. CYCLISTS WILL GO TO LAW. Sue a Hotel Which Refuses Them Admittance to Its Dining-Room. Minneapolis, July 1.-Lawsuit of a most unusual character was begun in this city this morning. Platt B. Walker, jr., the lumberman, and W. H. Ellis, the well-known lumber newspaper man of this city, are the plaintiffs and a big summer hotel at Spirit Lake, Iowa, is the defendant. While bicycling through Iowa last week Walker and Ellis stopped at Spirit Lake for dinner. What was their surprise on attempting to enter the dining-room, to be informed that they would not be allowed in the room with their bicycle trousers on. At first the objection was taken as a joke, but the management insisted that they would not be allowed to walk through the dining-room wearing knee pants while there were ladies present.

They now propose to get even for ruffled dignity in a most substantial manner.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. DAVID'S

Remarks Addressed to Those Who Re ceived That Rite by Bishop Rulison. Recital by the Pupils of Miss Brown-I, Dando Stabbed.

[The West Side interests of The Tribun have been placed in the hands of Emer-son Owen, to whom all news announce-ments and complaints may be addressed.]

Confirmatory services were conducted last evening in St. David's church by Rt. Rev. N. S. Rullson, D. D., assistant bishop of the diocese of central Pennsylvania. After the short devotional services the bishop confirmed the following: Misses Annie Warren, Agnes Warren, Annie Moore, Sarah Parsons, Nellie Shaw, William Parsons, John Morgan, Charles Dorsey, Oliver F. Leeds, Harry Reilly, Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, Mrs. Daniel Elsinger, Mrs. John Morgan and Mrs. W. H. Sant.

After the above named persons had been confirmed Bishop Rulison preached. The eminent divine's remarks were directed especially to those who had been confirmed. In brief, he said:

"You are now engaged in a work which can be called the Lord's business. Everyone is a partner in this The work is to be about, lift up fallen, care for the sick, save souls and other results of taking on the armor of God. Somethink that after confirmation the great transaction is done, but this is false. The work or responsibility begins at our birth, not at the baptismal font. The chief object is the salvation of men. All are obligated by the everlasting law of God. As the athlete strengthens his arm, so spiritual man should strengthen his spirit, by exercise." The sermon was listened to with rapt attention. Rev. Frank S. Ballentine of Green Ridge, assisted in the eervices. This evening services will be held in St. Luke's, at which severa candidates will be confirmed, and City Missionary F. O. Jones, of St. David's diocese, will be made a lay brother.
