PERSONAL.

Harry Hushey, of the Axle works, is visiting his parents at Elizabeth, N. J.
George Tobert, of Duryea, is spending a few weeks with his brother in the city.
Professor Bernard Priest, of Taylor avenue, left this city yesterday for Paterson, N. J., where he expects to make his future home.

A Coincidence.
Said one little girl to another little girl, As proudly as could be,
"I'll tell you something very nice
That my papa told me.
He said to me the sweetest girl
That ever there could be."
Said the other little girl to that one little girl:
"Why, now, how can that be?
For that is just the very same thing
That my papa told me."
(And neither was as sweet as my little girl,
As anyone could see.)

TWO LITTLE SKEEZUCKS.

There were two little skeezucks who lived in the tale
Of Bo in a southern sea;
They clambered and rumbled in heathenish style
In the boughs of their coconut tree.
They didn't fret much about clothing and such
And they recked not a whit of the life
That sometimes accrues
From having to do
With tailor and laundry bills.

The two little skeezucks once heard of a Fair
Far off from their native isle,
And they asked of King Fan if they might go there
To take life's sights for awhile.
No, said old King Fan, "No, no, no!"
Was a good-natured man
(As good-natured monarchs go),
And howbeit he swore that all Fair were
A bore.
He hadn't the heart to say "no."

So the two little skeezucks sailed off to the Fair
In a great big gum canoe.
And I fancy they had a good time there,
For they tarried a year or two.
And old King Fan at last began
To reckon they'd come to grief.
When, glory to him!
They sailed into the bay
To the tune of "Hail to the Chief!"

The two little skeezucks fell down on the sand,
Embracing his majesty's toes.
Till his majesty graciously bade them stand
And salute him nose to nose.
And then quoth he:
"Divulge unto me,
What happenings have hap to you;
And how did they dare to indulge in a Fair
So far from the island of Bo?"

The two little skeezucks assured their king
That what he surmised was true;
That the Fair would have been a different thing
Had it only been held at Bo!
The folk over there in no wise compare
With the folk of the southern seas;
Why, they comb out their heads
And they sleep in beds
Instead of in caverns and trees!"

The two little skeezucks went on to say
That children (so far as they knew)
Had a much harder time in that land far away
Than here in the island of Bo!
They have to wear clo'es
Which (as every one knows)
Are irksome to primitive ladies.
While, with forks and with spoons, they're
Denied the sweet boon
That accrues from free use of one's pad-die!

"And now that you're speaking of things to eat,"
Interrupted the monarch of Bo,
"We beg to inquire if you happened to meet
With a nice missionary or two?"
"No, that we did not; in that curious spot
Where were gathered the fruits of the earth,
Of that special kind
Which Your Highness has in mind
There appeared a deplorable dearth!"

Then loud laughed that monarch in heathenish mirth
And loud laughed his courtiers, too,
And they cried: "There is elsewhere no land upon earth
So good as the island of Bo!"
So good as the island of Bo!
Of the journey they'd had,
Climbed up in their coconut trees,
Where they still may be seen with no shirts to keep clean
On treacherous that bag at the knee.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS

Way the Day Was Observed by Enthusiastic South Siders.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. CONNELL

Death of Stephen Rudolph, a Well-Known Resident of Fifth Avenue—Events of the Day in the North End of the City and Minooka.

SOUTH SIDE.

Although an unusual amount of fireworks was consumed on the South Side yesterday, fortunately no serious accidents have been reported. A group of Polish boys on Prospect avenue had a tin can filled with gunpowder and they set it off; one of them was standing five or six feet away, but the breeze carried the flame to his face and the outer covering of the tin peeled off. It did not affect his eyes, and he will not be very long laid up. The usual number of drunken men was seen at large, but they did not misbehave sufficiently to warrant any extended arrests.

On the green near the Meadow Brook breaker a half dozen young men spent the night of the third and the morning of the fourth firing off two cannons, alternately. One of their number is a musician and he rattled music from an accordion. A keg of beer was tapped at a safe distance from the cannon, and with due diligence they journeyed toward it, so that yesterday morning the keg was empty, the powder burnt up, the cannons silent and the cannoners in the embrace of Morpheus.

Funeral of Mrs. Jessie D. Connell. Attended by only the relatives and immediate friends, the funeral of Mrs. Jessie D. Connell was held from the residence of her mother, Genet street and Prospect avenue, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. E. L. Santos, of Lackawanna, formerly pastor of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the services at the home, briefly and impressively. Floral offerings were sent from friends and acquaintances. The funeral was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Death of Stephen Rudolph. At the age of 62 Stephen Rudolph, of 211 Fifth avenue, died early yesterday morning. He was known by young and old throughout the South Side, having been engaged in straw peddling for over a score of years. He was an upright citizen and an honest man, and through industry acquired quite a competence. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning with a high mass of requiem at St. Mary's German Catholic church, on River street. Interment will be made in No. 5 cemetery.

Shorter Paraphrase. Conrad Reheiser and Mrs. Angeline Sykes were wedded yesterday morning at the parsonage of the Hickory Street Presbyterian church by Rev. August Lange. A reception followed last evening at 909 Pittston avenue. Michael A. Donahoe, of Cedar avenue; John McGee, of Cedar avenue; and Professor John E. O'Malley will sail next Wednesday for Ireland. Fine line of ladies' shirt waists, 50 cents, Meares & Hagen.

A break in the rolls at the North Steel mill has caused a temporary suspension of operations. Thomas A. Donahoe is able to be around after a two weeks' retirement with a sprained ankle. Ample accommodations were provided by the Traction company on the South Side and Moosic lines yesterday.

NORTH END.

Walter Bryden, of West Pittston, spent the Fourth with friends in the North End. The Women's Home missionary society of the Providence Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. P. Osterhout, on Oak street, at 4 o'clock.

Miss Frances Winton, of North Main avenue, will leave today to visit friends in Paterson. Dr. Dawson, of North Main avenue, spent the Fourth at Philadelphia. John Mitchell, of North Main avenue, will leave next Wednesday for a two months' tour in England. Mr. Mitchell will sail on the Teutonic.

Mrs. J. R. Peck and Miss Clara Peck spent the Fourth at Susquehanna. Mrs. Theodore Von Storch had a very large display of fireworks at her pretty residence on North Main avenue, last evening. There was also a handsome assortment of fireworks at the residence of Mrs. N. P. Osterhout.

The Providence Epworth league sold a large quantity of ice cream and cake yesterday afternoon and evening. Owing to the showers it was sold in the church parlors, instead of on the lawn. A large crowd enjoyed the picnic and clam bake of the Excelsior Hose company at Peare's grove, all day yesterday.

The alarm for fire which was sent out from box 85 Wednesday evening, was caused by a blaze in the barn of John Jennings. The fire companies responded quickly, but the barn was nearly consumed. Mrs. John D. Green and family, who have been visiting Miss Belle Green, of West Market street, will leave this noon for Buffalo, where they will meet Mr. Green and go to Kalamazoo, Mich., where they intend to live.

Things were unusually orderly about the North End yesterday, and up to a late hour last evening there had been no arrests. Fine line of ladies' shirt waists, 50 cents, Meares & Hagen. A large number of North End people attended the excursion to Lake Ariel yesterday, and all reported a good time. W. B. Christmas, of North Main avenue, has improved his residence by the use of blinds.

MINOOKA. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murphy, of Hyde Park, visited Minooka friends yesterday. John Fitzhenry, of Mulberry, spent Independence Day with Minooka friends. P. F. Cusick, Times representative, spent yesterday at Lake Ariel. Bert Hanks, manager of the Newport store at Lee, Pa., circulated among Green-wood friends yesterday. The picnic of Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was a decided success socially and financially. John McCrea, of Pittston, visited his parents on Main street yesterday. The Minooka Base Ball club would like to play the Eureka, of Providence, on July 7. Answer through The Tribune. John O'Neill, captain.

The Coary Hollow sports painted the town a vermilion hue Wednesday evening after the race. Mr. and Mrs. Cotter, of Carbondale, spent the Fourth with their parents on Davis street. The Fourth was passed quietly in this vicinity.

The Minooka Gun club held a sweet-stake yesterday at the cemetery grounds, 22 yards rose, 30 yards boundary, 50 yards apple. Con Fallon won first prize, killing five straight. The second prize was divided up among four; third among two. Score:

Murray 1 0 1 1 1-4

SENSATION IN BUFFALO.

Prosperous Real Estate Dealer Found to Have Two Households.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 4.—A decided sensation was caused here yesterday evening when it became known that Cyrus J. Wheelock, a prosperous real estate dealer, was maintaining two households. He has a wife and several children and had just left them to take a spin through the park on his bicycle when he was overtaken by Miss Fannie Johnson, with whom he became entangled five years ago. She caused him to enter the carriage with her, and in the controversy he attempted to choke her, but was prevented by the driver.

Miss Johnson says Wheelock lived with her in New York and at Cleveland and later sent her to Europe. He finally entered into an agreement with her whereby he was to pay a certain sum toward her maintenance, but she feared he was endeavoring to break the contract and came to Buffalo to see him about it. Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock, Buffalo immediately after the occurrence last night. Miss Johnson will commence legal proceedings against him at once.

SAVED BY WOMAN'S NERVE.

Slack Wire Performers Have a Narrow Escape from Death.

Middletown, N. Y., July 4.—A woman's nerve saved herself and her husband from death this afternoon. While Miss Da Costa was riding a bicycle on a wire suspended over the Walkill river, her husband sitting in a trapeze hung from the bicycle, the wire gave way and the main strand sank twenty feet. Miss Da Costa remained in her seat and plunged down the loop.

The rear wheel left the wire and the front wheel started up the incline. The bicycle resawed several times and finally stopped. When the performer climbed down, and her husband hanging by his feet, lowered her arm at length and she dropped into the launch. Da Costa remained in her seat and plunged down the loop.

NO GAMBLING AT SARATOGA.

President Sturges Gives Notice That Laws Will Be Enforced.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 4.—A bombshell has been thrown into the camp of the gamblers who haunt this resort every year by President Sturges, of the village, who has announced that he will see that the laws relative to the evil are strictly enforced. While he has no power over the chief of police, he will see that the police commissioners do their duty.

The question was of greater interest this year than ever before, owing to the special legislation enacted at Albany and which invests the president of the village with greater powers. The police commissioners will meet tomorrow evening and an edict will go out all forms of gambling in Saratoga is expected.

FOR TRAIN WRECKING.

University Students Masten and Young Bound Over to the Grand Jury.

Tuscola, Ill., July 4.—On the afternoon of June 21 George E. Masten, a student of the University of Illinois, and Elmer Young, of Boone, Ia., were arrested on a charge of attempting to wreck a passenger train on the Illinois Central Railway. Their preliminary hearing occurred today, and at a late hour tonight the case was brought to a close. Justice Lamb bound them over to the grand jury in bonds of $100 each. Masten furnished bail, but Young is still in custody.

Some Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

WAY FOURTH WAS OBSERVED

Large Number of People Left the City for Nearby Pleasure Resorts—Fire on North Main Avenue—Those Who Saw the Game in Wilkes-Barre.

[The West Side interests of The Tribune have been placed in the hands of Emerson Owen, to whom all news announcements and complaints may be addressed.]

The Fourth was celebrated on this side in the usual way. Many attended the Phil Sheridan Monument excursion to Lake Ariel. Others visited Laurel Hill park and passed the day with the Caledonians. The base ball cranks went to Wilkes-Barre, and Lake Winola received a full share of the day's celebrators. A party visited Mountain lake, but the rain spoiled much of the day's fun at that place. Numerous evening parties were in order. Railroad torpedoes were in great demand on the streets. These noisy cylinders were placed on the street car tracks and the cars did the rest. Several young men placed a wooden water pump over a dynamite cracker. The result was disastrous to the pump. A large cannon cracker was placed between the outspread feet of a peaceable citizen, and at its explosion the man's trousers were torn, destroying the garment for all time. The unfortunate's legs were scorched and blackened by the powder. The use of miners' souls was not general, owing to the watchfulness of Lieutenant Williams and his men. Zimmerman's saloon was bombarded, several hundred crackers exploding there, and to some extent damaging property.

We were lucky as to disastrous fires, only one alarm being sent in. An account of this blaze is given below. Accidents were fewer than usual, though several small boys were slightly burned by powder.

At Pleasant Lake Winola.

Among the many young people that visited the shores of Lake Winola yesterday were Misses Cora Burcher, Florence Gibbs, Helen Mott, Bertha Whetstone, Lou Deppon, Abby Belle Sweetzer, Margaret Phillips, Miss Evans, of Wilkes-Barre; Annie Kelley, Hannah Harris, Maggie Hughes, Will Luce, Al. Turner, George Winans, George Lowry, Alvin W. Beers, Frank Beers, George Schoen, Charles Mansel, Boyd Smith, George Keene and Horace Keene.

Fireworks Accidents.
William Thomas, an Eynon street boy, bought a cannon yesterday morning and was ramming powder into it with a nail, when the charge went off, badly lacerating one of his thumbs.

A son of John Francis, of Bellevue, was badly burned about the eyes by powder yesterday. Last evening Barber Thomas Price was giving a fireworks display from the porch of his residence, on South Main avenue, when one of the rockets became unmanageable and pierced the awning and glass in the room of Le Long's store. A lady who was sitting in the store had a narrow escape from injury.

A Slight Fire Extinguished.
An alarm of fire was sent in from this side at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The blaze was a slight one, in a building on North Main avenue formerly occupied by Rod's butcher shop. The flames were extinguished without the aid of the fire department. The origin a mystery, though boys with firecrackers is supposed. Little damage was done.

West Side Cranks Were There.
A few of the base ball enthusiasts excused to Wilkes-Barre yesterday afternoon and witnessed the great game there. Among them were Undertaker Will Price, John H. Reynolds, Tallie Phillips, Will Williams, John Stevens, Eli Harris, Lewis Howell, G. A. Williams, Ben Evans, Al. Corson, John Edwards, David Davis, Reese A. Phillips, John H. Phillips and Jack Neat.

Other Events of the Fourth.
Hundreds of Sunday school children plinked at the Round Woods yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the First Welsh Baptist church with its branches at Bellevue and Garfield avenues. The day was delightfully spent, even the drizzling rain in the afternoon failing to chill the sport of the gathering. Peanuts and candy were distributed in paper bags, and ice cream was sold on the grounds. A party of pleasure seekers visited Bald Mount, and George Brown's wagons conveyed two parties of happy ones to Lake Winola.

Coming Entertainment.
An entertainment will be given Monday night in the Summer Avenue Presbyterian church. Talented amateur entertainers will be present to amuse, and among the special features will be the well-known selection, "The Druids," by the Druid Glee society. Hon. H. M. Edwards will preside and probably this will be the last opportunity to hear the judge, preceding his departure for Europe for a few months' stay. Refreshments will be served by the young people of the church Sunday school, classes 4, 5 and 9.

Called in Haste.
Little, if any, interest is being shown here in the coming Utica extended.

A lawn social which was to have been held last evening at the residence of William Fowler was interfered with by the rain.

Professor W. George Powell is in the same despairing condition. The funeral of the child of Mr. McClave, of Chestnut street, occurred yesterday. Interment was made in the Hyde Park cemetery.

George Barrowman and Percy Watres were at Fairview yesterday. John Harris and family, of Washburn street, are at Lily Lake.

Howard Davis, of North Main avenue, was in Hiramton yesterday. Professor Daniel Phillips is in Wilkes-Barre.

The Jackson Street Baptist church will hold an excursion in August. Will Reynolds has taken to a bike.

Professor George Howell displayed a handsome silk flag in front of his Scranton street residence yesterday. Fine line of ladies' shirt waists, 50 cents, Meares & Hagen.
