

Neighbors Down the Valley.

WILKES-BARRE.

There has opened a branch of the Lanning building, Public Library, at the public expense, for the circulation of the Tribune in the surrounding towns. The public library will present a very complete collection of the works of the Lanning county news, and also a complete set of the Tribune as a purveyor of all the news of the county, local, national and international. The general public will find in the Tribune a valuable source of information, and the people of the metropolitan district will find in the Tribune a valuable source of information, and the people of the metropolitan district will find in the Tribune a valuable source of information.

BLOODED MURDER.

Shots and Kills a Prominent of Nanticoke. A man named Abramson of Nanticoke school and instantly killed Fred Bittenbender, one of the most prominent of Nanticoke. Eckert, nearly 50 years of age, and was 40, and last April he was elected a school director for the school board was made of the building committee. Eckert, as one of the members of the board to have him discharged.

A couple of weeks ago Eckert had a fight with his superior. For some time Eckert had been working at the school, and Eckert had his attention to his negligence. Eckert that if he did not do the work properly the board would get some one else to do the work. This had been done by Eckert and Eckert had conceived the idea of Bittenbender was hounding him and trying to influence the other members of the board to have him discharged.

Some Bad Men Appear and Get Their Reverses. The mayor had a lively rush of business yesterday. The first prisoner was William S. McGuire, who was formerly an engineer on the Valley, and took a prominent part during the strike. He was living with Alice Phillips, at the corner of Canal street, for some time but lately she made him leave the house. On Friday night he returned, and finding a man named William Klinger, of Nanticoke, there, at once raised a fuss. He struck Alice in the face and she fled to her mother's house. The monthly pay days of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company will begin on Wednesday, at the Empire building.

Several Arabbans who had fought earlier in the week were next. Mike John had sworn out a warrant against Mike and Elias Saba for threatening his life. The defendants were represented by Attorney E. A. Lynch, but the mayor decided it would be safer to let Mike Saba under $500 bail and John Saba under $500 bail for their appearance at court.

Edward Lehr was arrested yesterday morning for stealing a briar pipe from Max Rittenbender's store, on South Main street. While looking at the pipe he snatched one and ran. Rittenbender and his family followed shouting. Lehr was captured at South street and sent to jail.

John Painter was up for assaulting his mother and sister. The evidence showed him to be a bad man, and he was committed to jail. While the 'squire was writing out the commitment, however, Painter broke away from Constable Lyons, and was not caught until Peter Dougherty hit another man whom the mayor would like to see. He had some trouble with Austin Riley on Saturday night, and in the scarp that followed, Dougherty hit Riley with a cane, nearly fracturing the skull. Then he escaped and is still at large.

Edward McGuigan is in jail for pointing a shotgun loaded with buckshot at Mrs. George Baura. Had a bystander not snatched the weapon away he might have killed her. The woman's husband will carry the case to court.

Jacob Morganstein is wanted by the authorities of Kingston. Jacob Morganstein is wanted by the authorities of Kingston for trying to kill his wife, who is now at home with a fractured skull. On Saturday Jake Morganstein shot his wife in the back for a walk, the husband incidentally to hunt, as he carried a shot gun. They reached a pond in the neighborhood and the hunter, tired with the walk, lay down to sleep. Before going to bed Morganstein told his wife if she was there when he awoke he would blow her brains out. Mrs. Morganstein, somewhat in fear her husband would put his threat into execution, went home.

PITISTON.

The Pitiston office of the Scranton Tribune has been opened by H. W. Cruser, agent, at No. 1 Williams street, where contributions of news, complaints of non-delivery, orders for job work of all descriptions, should be addressed and regular subscriptions received. Advertising and subscription rates cheerfully submitted.

John Terry was arrested Saturday afternoon at the Luzerne County Fair association grounds on a charge of assault and battery and resisting an officer. The arrest created a sensation as a ball game was in progress at the time. The officers were asked to keep order and prevent boys from coming in over the fence. Officer Metcalf discovered a boy entering by the back fence and went to him and attempted to take him to the president of the association, who was on the grounds at that time. The boy resisted and the officer grasped him about the body and carried him, at which a portion of the crowd hissed. Shortly after Terry and his party left the grounds and the officer followed them. Terry offered an insult to the officer at which he replied with a reprimand, at which it is claimed that Terry struck Metcalf in the face. The officer then attempted to put Terry under arrest, where Terry struck him over the head and was about to strike the officer a second time when Chief of Police Brando, of Exeter borough, appeared on the scene, and, drawing his revolver, shot at Terry. At this Terry, forgotten by his friends, fled to the woods, where he was pursued by Brando and Metcalf. The chief fired twice more, each time calling to Terry to halt, which he did. He was taken before Burgess McCawley, who fined him only the costs, this being his first offense.

The Champions won another victory from the Wilkes-Barre team Saturday by a score of 28 to 9 at the Luzerne County Fair association grounds, West Pitiston. The Brewery Hills started with a strong game, which they won until the third inning, when the rosters bunched their hits for two baggers and five runs. This discouraged the visitors who apparently let the game go as it pleased. The game became very tame and uninteresting, as Pitiston did nothing but sweep up the Brewery Hills. The poor playing of the Wilkes-Barre team is attributed to the statement that only four of their players were present, the other five being young law students, to represent the Captain Hooper, of the team, notified, and not wishing to disappoint his Pitiston friends, enlisted any who would assist him.

For second-hand household goods, call on Wright & Co., 37 South Main street, Luzerne county, Pa. Goods exchanged, bought or sold. Miss Minnie Saunders, of Dunmore, is the guest of Miss Belle Fordham, on Delaware avenue. M. A. Myers, of Inkerman, a popular lawyer, has been elected Attorney P. A. O'Brien's office, has placed in the field in his district for election as delegate to the Democratic county convention, which convenes at Wilkes-Barre, July 22.

Rev. S. Ross Clements, Ph. D., left this morning for Europe, where he will remain about six weeks. The greater portion of his time will be spent with his mother in Ireland. Daniel Baird spent Sunday with his parents in Inkerman.

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly expresses alarm at the number of fatal diseases that are liable to contract by eating the things that form our daily repast. He notices that one high authority on dietetics says that lemons will prolong one's life. Another states that lemons will shorten life; that the indolent cancer lurks in every ovule of this fruit.

"Aldo" says he, "the learned savants tell us that even in the succulent and delicious oyster shell death is concealed, and the lobster is said to live so long and eat so many oysters must remain matters of startling surprise. In doing so, we have unconsciously impeded the work of the investigator, and seriously trifled with one who has devoted his life to the study of the world."

"Beans will produce their bad spells upon frames too weak to resist their seductive encroachments, and peas, whether split or whole, yellow or green, will provoke calamitous consequences. The crab, the prawn, and the lobster vie with one another in tormenting the inner man, so to speak, and the shrimp inspires visions that are hideous. Too much meat, says one, makes men violent and cross. Tripe and onions produce indigestion, the boiling quality, and though the sausage possesses a distinct charm of its own, it has power to make disturbances in otherwise happy homes. Its twin-brother, the hamour-producing Bologna, may be eaten with impunity, but imprisonment may make him restless, and give one that tired feeling. Pork suggests trichinosis and the trick of the Circ. Fish will stimulate the blood. Even with the king of the tribe salmon, we are never quite safe. The eruptive qualities of the trout oatmeal are too familiar to be questioned.

"Alas! what are we to eat, what are we to forgo? Vegetables have their devotees; but in the potato there is the germ of the indigestion, and in the very berry-radish there are the seeds of indigestion and indignation. In the cabbage of the cauliflower there is often agony. A new diet, surely, needed, if we must keep pace with the progress of science and the results of the investigations of the doctors. The old food must go. They have killed a worm in the Grand Diet. He of Worms might be made for succor, but do we not know that even the worm will turn?"

On Sunday from my window seat, I gazed across the shady street With fond emotion. Until, at last, Elise comes out With downcast eyes and mien devout. And goes to her devotions.

"Dear girl," I sigh, "so good and fair, This is my one unanswered prayer— That you, who love to labor In Christian work, may understand, And forthwith bear the stern command That bids you love your neighbor!" —Life.

HURT IN THE MINES.

An Explosion at Glen Lyon Hurts Seven Men. A severe explosion of gas occurred Saturday night and seven men were badly burned. The men were at work in the new plane of the deep shaft, doing some repairing, when a body of gas was ignited from a naked lamp. The explosion hurt these men: Richard Lore, of Nanticoke, miner, aged 50 years; Charles William, miner, of Glen Lyon, aged 20 years; Richard Staples, of Glen Lyon, miner, aged 33 years; John H. Staples, of Glen Lyon, miner, aged 22 years.

These four are so badly hurt that their recovery is doubtful. The others who were burned are: Stanley Hurst, Thomas Rogers and Leroy Allen, the miners. These will all probably recover, though the burns of all especially Rogers and Allen, are quite serious. At the Woodward colliery, near Plymouth, James Middleton and John Holman were badly burned by an explosion of gas.

George Peterook, a 11-year-old boy of Nanticoke, was fatally injured Saturday by falling down a steep cliff. He had gone out to pick huckleberries and reached what is known as Eagles Nest, a steep cliff at the top of the mountain. In some manner he got too near the edge and fell over, rolling down 300 feet to the bottom below, where he was found bleeding and unconscious. He was carried to his home and died soon after.

It is said that the front of the People's bank building will be changed as soon as their lease with Mr. Cohen expires. The new Maxwell shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company, at Ashley, is finished at last. It is the biggest mine shaft in the world. George Mulhern, who is well known in this city, was killed on Saturday by being run over by a Lehigh Valley train in the Canal street crossing. C. M. Labar died on Saturday night at his home on Park avenue, of a complication of diseases.

The funeral of William Hoyt, who was killed by being kicked in the head by a horse, took place from his home on 14th street, yesterday afternoon. The body was taken to Huntington township for burial. The monthly pay days of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company will begin on Wednesday, at the Empire building.

Rev. J. Jones, A. M., pastor of the Primitive Methodist church, has arranged an interesting series of lectures for the summer months, entitled "Ten Hours with the Masses." The services will begin at 6:30 p. m. The lectures will deal with live, every-day questions, alternating each Sabbath with "Immortals of Sacred Song." Brief historical account of each hymn and its composition will be given. John Blease will be musical conductor, and J. T. Blease, organist.

Andrew Mitchell, an employe of the Argus office, had his hand squeezed quite badly on Friday, while working on the large press. At the recent meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. R. Wagner; vice-president, Mrs. M. A. Flock; second vice-president, Mrs. A. P. Hollister; third vice-president, Mrs. A. Wheeler; secretary, Mrs. N. E. Haskins; treasurer, Mrs. D. C. Terrell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. C. Kellum.

A. P. McDonald, of this place, left for Denver, Colorado, on Saturday. He will visit cities in Kansas, Colorado and Wyoming, and return about Sept. 1. Mr. Williams, Mrs. Adam, Misses Frances and Lizzie Smith, of Pitiston; Mrs. George Libership, of Binghamton, and Frank Smith, of Columbus, O., spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Christian Draffner.

Misses Carrie McDonald and Maggie Henniman will attend the Christian Endeavor convention held in Boston this week.

Rev. A. J. Wetsley, pastor of the Langelle Presbyterian church, delivered an eloquent sermon at the monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian association, yesterday afternoon in Wilkes-Barre.

Miss B. A. Quinn will attend the Ladies' Catholic Benefit association convention in Rochester on July 13.

Miss B. Dempsey accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Baura, of Washington, who was there when he awoke he would blow her brains out. Mrs. Morganstein, somewhat in fear her husband would put his threat into execution, went home.

Recognizing his wife he rushed forward and swinging the gun over his head it crashed heavily on the woman's skull. She fell with scarcely a moan. The little son and a daughter who is

THE LEADER.

Our new store, at 124-126 Wyoming avenue, formerly occupied by Gorman's Grand Depot, and which will be known as THE LEADER, will be opened to the public next Saturday morning, July 13.

We have purchased the entire stock of Mr. Gorman, and while that would be considered plenty for an ordinary dry goods store, it was not near large enough nor varied enough for THE LEADER.

We went to New York, and it was practically the end of the dry goods season there—all the stores taking stock and not doing any more business—the jobbers and manufacturers were glad enough to sell us an immense stock at a good deal lower figure than even the largest of the large New York stores got their stock for earlier in the season. We got these goods so cheap, in fact, that in almost every instance we can afford to sell goods for less money than the average firm bought theirs for a couple of months earlier.

We are going to do our best to give the people of Scranton and vicinity a really first-class dry goods, fancy goods and millinery establishment—our business experience has all been with the large New York houses, and we propose to transact our business upon broad-gauged Metropolitan principles.

Politeness is a great thing in the dry goods business—in fact the people demand it and must have it, and will not patronize a store whose employes are not obliging and painstaking. Our employes will be found to be highly efficient and polite—we will not have any who are not. Any one who visits our store, whether as customers or merely to look around and see what kind of a store we have, will be assured of marked attention on the part of every one of our employes. This is a point we will insist on.

In short, we are going to have a strictly modern dry goods store, with new goods, new methods, new ideas and painstaking with all our customers.

In consequence of the intensity of the season our millinery stock will not be complete until fall. Whatever stock of summer millinery we now have on hand will be sold at 25 cents on the dollar.

Our new store, THE LEADER, will be opened to the public on next Saturday morning, July 13.

The general public is cordially invited to attend and inspect our mammoth stock.
