club was sold yesterday by the constable by virtue of a landlord's warrant issued by Donnely & Shiffer for rent which the plaintiffs claimed was $243. Attorney M. N. Donnelly represented the landlords, while Attorney W. H. Gillespie appeared for the members of the club. There was considerable opposition to the claim, Attorney Gilesple contending that the amount due was but $93, which the constable finally allowed was proper. The sale terninated when that amount was realized, and the remaining property was disposed of at private sale. The club has been in existence for a period of ten years, but during the past year has been unfortunate in meeting its obligations, hence the sale of its effects esterday.
