HOUSEHOLD TOO PATRIOTIC

Throw a Cannon Cracker at Mrs. L. E. Fallock and Was Arrested—Large Sum of Money Raised in Dunmore Methodist Church.

He was unwilling to pay for the damage, so she complained of him to Alderman C. C. Donovan, and Constable John C. Moran arrested Household for violating a city ordinance. LACONIA DIED IN A TRENCH.

Was at Work When the Sides Suddenly Caved In. By the sudden falling of a sewer bank yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, two men were covered by a great weight of stones and dirt and one of them, Joseph Laconia, was dead when taken from beneath the mass. The men were at work on the sewer now being dug in Brown's court and at the spot where the accident happened the depth of the channel was between nine and ten feet.

Working with pick and shovel at the bottom of the excavation were the two men, and upon the brink of the opening stood Foreman Coons and Inspector Jones. When the bank fell in, Mr. Coons dropped several feet and the two officials were horrified to see the workmen below completely covered up by the dirt. The work of rescue was immediately begun by the laborers at other places on the sewer and one of the buried workmen was taken out a few minutes afterwards, although unharmed, though uninjured by his enclosure. Soon afterward the strenuous efforts of the rescuers unearthed the head of Joseph Laconia. The man was still alive, though faint and gasping for breath, but just as the workmen were about to release him from his position, a second fall of dirt occurred, and again Laconia was buried from sight.

One hour after the accident the unfortunate's body was once again dug out, this time lifeless. Laconia is an Italian, unmarried, and lives at 1023 West Lackawanna avenue. The cause of the accident is attributed to an unseen defect in the sewer bank, made by the action of water in an old sewer which superheated the present construction. Coroner Kelley arrived at 5.30 o'clock and empaneled the following jurors on the case: Thomas Williams, William Heteronick, Joseph Bell, William Hughes, William Raymond and William Deitrick. After hearing the testimony of several witnesses of the accident, the jury concluded that the fatality was an accident, caused by the defect in the old sewer, mentioned before.

The Contractor Exonerated. They exonerated Contractor Coons from any blame in the matter. Inspector Jones testifying that he personally would work at any time in a sewer like the one being constructed, so safe it seemed. Hundreds of people congregated at the scene of the accident, after the news had been spread over this section. When the body of Laconia was taken to his home, his relatives refused to receive it there and it was placed in a vacant store room on West Lackawanna avenue owned by Joseph Cassese.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MEADER.

Her Death Occurred at North Haverhill, N. H., Last Week. The remains of the late Mrs. Lydia A. Meader arrived in Scranton from her home in North Haverhill, N. H., Saturday, July 6, interment being made in the millily plot at Lackawanna. The deceased was the wife of D. W. Meader; the only sister of Mrs. E. K. Crommel, and E. F. J. B. and William H. Swartz, of this vicinity. At home she was a prominent member of the Methodist Episcopal church. She was an active and energetic worker in the Woman's Relief corps, of which society she was past president at the time of her death. Her husband left for his home on the midnight express last night.

MRS. RILEY SLANDERED.

She Wants to Recover Damages in the Sum of $1,000. Mrs. Catherine Riley began proceedings against Joseph Salerni, of Scranton, yesterday to compel him to pay her damages for circulating untrue stories concerning her. Mrs. Riley alleges that on May 6, 1895, at Old Forge, Salerni publicly stated that she had set fire to her house and that he, although possessed of a knowledge of her crime, would say nothing about it if given $200. A capias was issued for Salerni at the instance of Mrs. Riley's attorneys, Hulslander & Vosburg. His bail was fixed at $1,000 and she claims damages in a like amount.

Among the new rules for baggagemen on the Lackawanna are the following: "Dogs on chains, when accompanied by owners or caretakers on same train, may be carried in baggage cars, and train baggagemen will be permitted to collect and retain one cent per mile between local stations for care of same. No charge less than 25 cents nor more than $1 on any one dog, the maximum charge of $1 only when dogs are carried 100 miles or more." "You would be surprised to know what large orders the iron concerns have received from railroad companies," said a prominent iron man yesterday. "The aggregate of the orders which have been placed within the last six weeks is simply enormous. The orders have been placed so quietly that little has been heard of them, but the effect is seen in the increase in wages being made by nearly all the iron concerns and by the mills starting up and the number of men being given employment. There is liable to be some trouble over the action of the western roads making the Christian Endeavor excursion tickets to Boston good until Sept. 15. The eastern roads notified their western connections that they should not extend the limit of time beyond Aug. 2, but no attention was paid to these instructions by the western agents. Now the eastern roads threaten to make the Endeavorers pay full return fare if they present their excursion tickets after Aug. 2. Lawsuits will of course result, and undoubtedly the excursionists will secure damages, but as to who will pay these damages it will take a court to decide. The eastern roads claim that they are justified in their action by the law and that the western roads will have to pay the damages, inasmuch as they did not carry out the instructions given them. At all events the Endeavorers should be prepared to pay full return fare if they lay over in Boston until after Aug. 2, as they will be put off the train if they don't. In the summary of laws passed by the legislative bodies of New York last winter is one, just published, which goes into effect Sept. 1, reading as follows: "Any person unable to read the time tables of a railroad and ordinary handwriting, who acts as an engineer or runs a locomotive or train on any railroad in this state, or any person who, in his own behalf, or in the behalf of any other person or corporation, knowingly employs a person so unable to read to act as such engineer or to run any such locomotive, is guilty of a misdemeanor; or who employs a person as telegraph operator who is under the age of 18 years, or who has less than one year's experience in telegraphing, to receive or transmit a telegraphic message or train order for the movement of trains, is guilty of a misdemeanor."
