SCRANTON, JULY 9, 1895.

Republican State Convention.

Chairman B. F. Gilkison, of the Republican State committee, has issued a call for a state convention to meet at Harrisburg Wednesday, Aug. 23, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The report has been circulated that the Willard candidates for state delegation district, Colonel E. H. Ripple and City Controller F. J. Wildmayer, are pledged to Hastings.

Let's Have Decent Politics.

An interesting fact that in Luzerne county there has, as yet, been among the true friends of Senator Quay, no effort to embarrass the prospects of Judge Rice by seeking to unite his fortunes with the fortunes of the junior senator, who may be, and very probably will be, defeated at the August round-up.

There are just as many true Quay men in Luzerne as there are in Lackawanna county—men who admire the senator's ability and who, as a rule, place a great deal of confidence in his sagacity as a political leader.

Observe the difference, though, in Lackawanna county! Here we have dozens of the very men who, in 1890, willingly permitted Senator Waites to select delegates in his interest, tearing their hair and cowering around as self-labeled Quay men.

In the interests of decency and fair play, not to mention the obligations which Lackawanna county Republicans have been under to Judge Willard, for nearly two-score years, The Tribune earnestly protests against such deceptive tactics.

That Open Company Benefit.

The exceptional circumstances of the recent stranding of the Laurel Hill Open company in this city apparently have the ability or unwillingness of the company's organizer or his assistant to pay for labor received.

concert. But for the unfulfilled promise of work which caused these singers to surrender other opportunities of employment and induced them to come to Scranton, they might today be earning a good livelihood in freedom from the humiliating necessity which now causes them, without fault on their part, to appeal to public charity.

Meanwhile, what is the Scranton Traction company going to do in the premises? Is it going to permit the further use of its prestige as a bait to lure innocent people into humiliation and loss? Or will its management be manly enough to step up to the captain's office and settle the present indebtedness for which it is, in the opinion of many, morally, if not legally, responsible?

An Interesting Comparison.

While it will not be pretended that the last legislature did not commit numerous errors, it is interesting to note that the Democratic critics of its work live, for that matter, in fragile glass houses. As the Philadelphia Press opportunely points out, the real increase in the state expenses this year "is in about the same ratio as the growth of the state.

"There has been no such increase of salaries as has been pretended for partisan effect, and not anything like what took place during the last administration of Governor Pattison, a Democrat. Under that paragon of reform the records show an advance of nearly a quarter of a million dollars in the salary list alone, and this does not include the pay of the three new judges in Allegheny county.

Let's have decent politics. An interesting fact that in Luzerne county there has, as yet, been among the true friends of Senator Quay, no effort to embarrass the prospects of Judge Rice by seeking to unite his fortunes with the fortunes of the junior senator.

The suspicion is rapidly growing hereabouts that the label "Quay" is being used in Lackawanna county to cover a multitude of schemes in which Senator Quay himself has no part or parcel.

Well, Senator Quay has come and gone, and the Lackawanna river still flows down hill, while the festive goat gambols on the bank thereof. But it was well that he came. It is always well for a public official to know his constituents.

The assertion in the local Quay organ that Chester county's delegates had unanimously decided to stand by Quay is somewhat premature, in view of the fact that Chester county has not yet elected its delegates to the state convention.

Those in this county who put Quay's interests first, regardless of the interests of Lackawanna's home candidate, are seeking to establish a precedent that may easily react in campaigns to come.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

The Wilkes-Barre Record addresses an open letter to Senator Quay, of which this is the gist: "You may tell the people of this valley that you are fighting in self-defense, that the state administration has begun an attack upon you without cause in order to seize the reins of power.

It will be the opinion of a child born this day that if Mr. Quay ever stood any show of capturing Lackawanna delegates, his chances were badly "quered" yesterday by the talkative coterie who were most anxious to pose as "Quay men."

The refusal of the Scranton poor board to aid the stranded opera singers who were hungry and penniless, very naturally suggests the query: "What are we paying poor tax for?"

It is evident that Major Penman will need to have his eyebrows arched with pomade in order to express proper surprise at the appearance of the early blizzard that will overtake his squad.

Lackawanna county editors do not have to even drop a nickel in the slot in order to secure a libel suit these days.

When in search of an illustration of the bright star of hope, look upon the countenance of Wade Finn.

Keep an eye out for new local planets. Political battles have been known to make men prominent in a day.

Gilkison because the latter sought to have the apportionment bills passed, the senator's friends, according to the Harrisburg Telegraph, "say that Governor Hastings, at least, knows that this is not true; that two months before apportionment was seriously considered Senator Quay had generously and graciously given his position to Mr. Gilkison, and given his reasons for the opposition, and that these reasons did not grow out of apportionment or any other legislative matter."

According to Major Handy, those who are on the inside in Democratic councils have little doubt that Grover Cleveland is a candidate for a third term, precedent and tradition to the contrary notwithstanding. Cleveland himself gives no sign and none in his official household or in his cabinet has a word to say on the subject; but here and there, at points widely distant from each other, there is an intimation which is sufficient to put the Cleveland followers on their guard and keep them from committing themselves to other candidates.

This is how the Norristown Herald puts it: "The Herald has embraced every suitable opportunity to commend the Republicanism of Mr. Quay and give him credit for his ability and the government his position to Mr. Gilkison, and given his reasons for the opposition, and that these reasons did not grow out of apportionment or any other legislative matter."

The Wilkes-Barre Times very correctly opens the "Hon. Joe" Senator has accepted an up-hill contract in attempting to furnish a Quay delegation from Lackawanna county."

In a letter to the Norristown Herald Jack Robinson declares that his recent campaign for the lieutenant governorship cost him more than $2,000. Wonder who paid the balance?

It is asserted that Perry county's two Republican state delegates will vote for Hastings and Gilkison, contrary to the wishes of the people who have been opposed to the state administration. We know that from the day when Warwick was nominated to conciliate you and that you have refused to be conciliated. We know that ever since your man Penrose was defeated in his attempt to become the mayor of Philadelphia, contrary to the wishes of the people who have been opposed to the state administration. We know that from the day when Warwick was nominated to conciliate you and that you have refused to be conciliated.
