has been a very sick man. "Although things are not running as smoothly as one could wish, I see no reason to change my opinion that Cor-nell will not only win, but that the way she will do it will be the biggest kind of a surprise to Leander."

ODDS AND ENDS OF SPORT.

Beginning today a number of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre horsemen will be in at-tendance at the pacing and trotting races in Binghamton, and which will continue during four days. It is stated that a larger number of horses are entered than ever before at a Binghamion meeting. The lack of science shown by "You Corbett" in the three bouts in which he has taken part in New York stamps hir anything but the champion he is proclaimed. Bily Vernon, the plain Haver straw brickmaker, outpointed him, and would have whipped him in three rounds, had it not been that he was overawed by the "prodigious protege's" reputation. William Thorpe, of Pricebeurg, chal-lenges Thomas Dodds to play a game of quoits. He will give him five points to start in a game of sixty-one up, for a purse of $50 or $100. He also challenges John Rickaby, of Taylor, and James White, of Little York, and will give them twelve and ten points respectively to start. Man and money ready at Thomas Logan's Price-

Champion Jar es J. Corbett in speaking of the challenge issued by "Parson" Da-vies, offering to match Joe Choynski against O'Donnell for $2,599 a side says: "Joe Choynski is foolish to meet ("Don nell. There is no doubt of that. In my pinion that challenge is all a bluff. An man who knows anything about sports knows that O'Donnell is on for a match with Peter Maher."
