

Our Neighbors Down the Valley

WILKES-BARRE.

The Tribune has opened a branch office at No. 25, Lanning building, Scranton, Pa., for the transaction of business. The publishers propose to extend the circulation of the paper in Wilkes-Barre and surrounding towns, and to that end will present a very complete department of Luzerne county news. For success in this undertaking depends on the success of the paper in the new territory. The Tribune is the only paper of the day—domestic, foreign, local, commercial and financial. The general interests of the people of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming valley will be in the Tribune, an earnest advocate, editorially and otherwise. It is the purpose of the publishers to issue a newspaper as valuable to the general public as the metropolitan dailies, and deliver it to the people throughout the territory as early as possible from three to five hours earlier than the Philadelphia and New York papers can reach them.]

Two men were noticed prowling about the yard during the morning, and at 9 o'clock neighbors noticed them coming out of the house. The men were dressed in black suits and wore white shirts. An alarm was given and Mr. Dodd, of the Boston store, partner of Mr. Dick, proceeded for Mr. Dodd arrived at 10 o'clock and found that the whole house had been ransacked, drawers and everything were pulled out and things were strewn about the floors.

It cannot be ascertained what has been stolen, but the Dick family returned from Atlantic City, where they secured an entrance by forcing in the door of the laundry.

A METEOROLOGICAL DOG.

The mysterious presence of which some animals seem to have of changes in weather, was demonstrated by a dog at the service of a man, Bentley Whitman, a Kansas farmer, who was greatly aided in his profession, says the New York Recorder, by a property holder residing on South Main street for alleged days of coming and setting. Bentley—the dog—had only three legs and was blind of one eye, but he was dearly loved. For twenty hours, preceding a rain storm, Bentley carried his tail curled between his legs. When the weather is "set fair," the tail curled over his back jauntily, and if there was reason to apprehend high winds or storm, he used to wag his tail excitedly and by near the door of the cyclone cellar, whining. Some miscreant, having a grudge against Whitman, one night cut off the dog's tail. Bentley was so overwhelmed with grief, and after a month of weeping, during which time a number of disastrous weather changes came unheralded, Bentley that he could no longer be of service, Bentley deliberately committed suicide by knocking a bottle of bootleg whiskey off the table and lapping it up through the hole as it escaped from the broken bottle.

THE LEADER

Our new store, at 124-126 Wyoming avenue, formerly occupied by Gorman's Grand Depot, and which will be known as THE LEADER, will be opened to the public next Saturday morning, July 13.

We have purchased the entire stock of Mr. Gorman, and while that would be considered plenty for an ordinary dry goods store, it was not near large enough nor varied enough for THE LEADER.

We went to New York, and as it was practically the end of the dry goods season there—all the stores taking stock and not doing any more business—the jobbers and manufacturers were glad enough to sell us an immense stock at a good deal lower figure than even the largest of the large New York stores got their stock for earlier in the season.

We got these goods so cheap, in fact, that in almost every instance we can afford to sell goods for less money than the average firm bought theirs for a couple of months earlier.

We are going to do our best to give the people of Scranton and vicinity a really first-class dry goods, fancy goods and millinery establishment—our business experience has all been with the large New York houses, and we propose to transact our business upon broad-gauged Metropolitan principles.

Politeness is a great thing in the dry goods business—in fact the people demand it and must have it, and will not patronize a store whose employees are not obliging and painstaking. Our employees will be found to be highly efficient and polite—we will not have any who are not. Any one who visits our store, whether as customers or merely to look around and see what kind of a store we have, will be assured of marked attention on the part of every one of our employees. This is a point we will insist on.

In short, we are going to have a strictly modern dry goods store, with new goods, new methods, new ideas and painstaking with all our customers.

In consequence of the lateness of the season our millinery stock will not be complete until fall. Whatever stock of summer millinery we now have on hand will be sold at 25 cents on the dollar.

Our new store, THE LEADER, will be opened to the public on next Saturday morning, July 13.

The general public is cordially invited to attend and inspect our mammoth stock.
