Calvary Reformed Church, Which, When Completed, at the Corner of Monroe Avenue and Gibson Street, Will Be One of the Handsomest Church Edifices in the City. The Crude Little Structure in the Corner Was Built by the Members Themselves, and for the Past Two Years Has Been Used as a Worshipping Place. It Cost $1885.

Calvary Reformed Church, with preaching by members of Wyoming Classis. An organization was effected Dec. 3, 1891, and the following officers elected: Elders, S. K. McKeehan, C. E. Weidaw and Harvey Pensternacher; deacons, H. Benethum, Emory Young and George A. Brown. (Mr. McKeehan, Mr. Pensternacher, and Mr. Brown still remain in office, the latter having since been elected elder.) The first pastor was Rev. A. S. Brommer, a graduate of Yale Divinity school, who began his labors Sept. 12, 1891, and continued one year, resigning to accept a call from Grace Reformed church, Philadelphia. During his brief pastorate twenty new members were added and the church roll increased to forty-five. To the present pastor, Rev. W. H. Stubblebine, who assumed his pastorate Dec. 1, 1892, much of the credit is due for the marvelous advancement of the church. He is young and energetic and his determination to extend and firmly establish his church was made possible through the co-operation of the congregation and the following consistency: Andrew Frantz, George A. Brown, S. K. McKeehan, Irvin G. Borger, C. F. Samsenbaugh, Frank Smith, C. W. Zentgraf and H. Pensternacher. A little chapel erected on the site of the present building, which was eventually to contain the imposing structure shown in the cut was purchased from the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company at a cost of $5,000, the company allowing a rebate of $1,250 from the actual value of the property. The ground was broken for the chapel portion of the church Nov. 6, of last year, and the present series of opening services mark the removal of the congregation from the little "shanty" to the more imposing stone chapel which is destined to become a part of a noble building. Such a prospect is bright and the expectation as well as the anticipation of the present eighty enrolled church members. At last night's service Mr. Stubblebine, the pastor, was assisted by Rev. Richard Horne, of this city, and Rev. and Miss Ada Smith, of Arthur street, will be married at the Holy Rosary church, on William street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. George Kelfer, of Summit avenue, went to Honesdale on his wheel yesterday, where he will spend part of his vacation. The Ladies' Aid society of the Providence Presbyterian church is busy preparing for the birthday social to be given next week. One of the attractive features will be given by Mrs. Smith's Sunday school class of sixteen young men. "The Shamrock and Rose," which was produced at Company H army last evening by the Keystone Literary and Dramatic society, was of a very entertaining character, and attracted a large crowd. The audience room and stage were very appropriately decorated. The funeral of John Campbell took place from his late home on Mary street yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. O'Toole officiated. The St. Joseph's Young Men's society, of which he was a member, attended in a body. Grand clearance sale of dry goods Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. A great reduction in muslins, wash goods, dress goods, silks, etc. See our advertisement on third page of this paper. Mears & Hagen. At the business meeting of the Providence Presbyterian Endeavor society last evening the following officers were elected: President, Miss Christmas; vice president, Claude Williams; secretary, George Jackson; treasurer, Edward Jackson; pianist, Miss Lizzie Gabriel and Miss Margaret dentley. DUNMORE. Prayer meeting in the Methodist church as usual tonight. Harry Smith, of Ash street, is spending some time with relatives in Hawley. Quarterly services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday morning. Frank Mace, of Dudley street, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Lake Ariel. Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Stanfield, of American, Ga., are visiting Mrs. Redding, of Brook street. Miss Mary Shelp, of Ash street, who has been quite seriously ill for the past two weeks, is now slowly improving. The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. H. Teeter, on Elm street. William Bennett, of Nanticoke, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. George S. Maloney, of Drinker street. The Young Ladies' Mission circle of the Presbyterian church will hold their regular monthly meeting in the grove at Nay Aug Park this afternoon. Miss Lottie Ripley, of North Park, who had the misfortune to injure her foot by stepping on a rusty nail at Lily Lake on July 6, is able to be around once more. A meeting of the Dunmore board of trade will be held in Manley's hall Friday evening for the purpose of considering a proposition that has been made to establish a silk mill here. Printing for Grocers. Circulars, cards, booklets, letter heads, etc., printed so well at The Tribune office that they will sell goods for you.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS

SOUTH SIDE.

St. John's church at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon contained many relatives and friends at the marriage ceremony of Richard O'Donnell, of Pittston avenue, and Miss Annie Moore, of Broadway street, performed by Rev. E. J. Melley, pastor of the church. The bride was attended by Miss Annie Coyne, of Genet street; the groomsmen were Patrick Dempsey, of Pittston avenue. The bride and bridesmaid were trimmed in cream silk gowns trimmed with lace to match, and each carried a bouquet of roses. The bridal party enjoyed a carriage ride out of town and returned at 8 o'clock to the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Moore, where a wedding feast was partaken, shared by a large attendance of invited guests. Many presents were bestowed. The Forest band, of which the groom is a member, tendered a serenade; dancing was enjoyed at Callery's hall, on Birney avenue. Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell were the recipients of many congratulations and wishes of happiness and prosperity. They will dispense with a wedding journey and go house-keeping in a well-furnished and cozy home on Palm street. Marriage at St. Mary's Church. At St. Mary's Catholic church a morning marriage was celebrated with a nuptial mass by the pastor, Rev. P. C. Christ. The groom was Otto Schauer and his bride, Miss Minnie Lentz, both well-known and very popular. The mass was attended by all the friends of the bridal party, and at its conclusion, at the home of the bride's parents, a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Schauer will reside on Stone avenue. Shorter Paragraphs. James Connell lodge of Old Fellows met last evening at Fruehan's hall. Martin Lowrey, of Birney avenue, has set sail on the rolling deep for his native land. Miss Annie Brennan, of Moosic street, has gone to Lake Ariel for the benefit of her health. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clearwater have returned from their wedding tour and are at home at 540 Washington avenue. Grand clearance sale of dry goods Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. A great reduction in muslins, wash goods, dress goods, silks, etc. See our advertisement on third page of this paper. Mears & Hagen. NORTH END. Miss Mary Gillingall is visiting with friends on West Market street. Mrs. L. W. Moss returned yesterday from a visit with friends out of town. Miss Margaret Casley, of Archbold, is spending a few days with friends on York street. Mortimer Christmas and Jack and Harry Owens spent yesterday at Clark's Green. Randolph Crippen, of Dalton, formerly of the North End, is slowly recovering from a severe illness. Miss Mary Miles, of Youngstown, Ohio, is visiting with Miss Katherine and Miss Lizzie Gabriel, of Church avenue. Peter Bairy, of West Market street,

MARRIED IN THIS CITY.

Now Mr. Lafayette Will Not Be Allowed to See His Wife.

A sensation was created in Syracuse, N. Y., a few days ago by Alfred Fredrick Lafayette, of Boston, who appeared at the country residence of Attorney and Mrs. W. H. Gifford, near Syracuse, and demanded their only child, Miss Rosamond Gifford, who he said was his wife. To substantiate this story he produced a marriage certificate showing that he had married Miss Gifford in this city on May 22. On that date Alfred Lafayette, age 28, was granted a license by Clerk of the Courts Thomas to marry Violette La Vigne, age 21. He gave his address as 225 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city, and she as 118 East Seventeenth street, New York. Mr. Lafayette's occupation was given as an actor, and Miss La Vigne as an actress. She said she did not know the name of her father. Her mother she said was Isabelle La Vigne. After the marriage license was granted they were married by Rev. Dr. Pearce, of Elm Park church, and immediately left the city. A diligent search was made for them by a Tribune reporter, but they could not be found, neither were their names found on any of the hotel registers. It is alleged that Miss Gifford and Miss La Vigne are one and the same person. Her answer to the questions asked by the clerk when the license was granted were dictated by Mr. Lafayette, but just why a fictitious name was used is not apparent. Mr. Lafayette is a resident of Boston, and is well-known in Syracuse. Miss Gifford is prominent in Syracuse social circles, and attended a boarding school at Cambridge, Mass. She met Mr. Lafayette on a train and they became enamored of each other and they were married secretly in this city, while Miss Gifford was on her way to her home. When Mr. Lafayette asked for his bride a few days ago he was shown the door of the Gifford residence and has not since been permitted to see her. He says that he will relinquish all claim to his wife if she says she does not want him, but she has not as yet made any such statement.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Tuesday a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent was paid by the directors of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. The Pennsylvania railroad will make a change in its dining car service. Hereafter it will use its own dining cars exclusively. The Lehigh Valley shops here are fitting the passenger engines with the Gould coupler. The freight and coal engines are already supplied with this coupler. Railroad officials declare that passenger business is as heavy now, both east and west bound, as it was at any time during the World's fair. The traffic on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western has been so heavy of late that frequently passengers could not be accommodated with sleeping or palace cars. The agreement for the maintenance of freight rates between Chicago and the Lehigh Valley railroad, has just been turned out of the Itasca shops. It contains an office, bedroom, dining room, kitchen, closets, etc. It is fitted up and furnished in elegant style, and if Mr. Mitchell desired, he could live in it for weeks at a time. Mr. Mitchell will do nearly all his office work in this car. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company has at last decided to erect a new station at Duryea, which has long been too small for the accommodation of the traffic. Yesterday morning General Manager W. F. Hallstead and other officials of the company visited Duryea, and it is believed that they selected a site for the proposed new station on the ground near Foster's real estate office, formerly occupied by the Connell store, which was destroyed by fire. The Central Railroad company is making preparations to repair its engine and coal car equipment at the Ashley shops. The old long car shop, which has been closed for several years, will be re-opened and other arrangements will be made to do the work for the New Jersey Central and New Jersey Southern divisions. This will be a great benefit to Ashley and Wilkes-Barre, as it will necessitate the employment of a great many more men, a class of mechanics receiving good wages at contract work, and at the same time the company has decided on this plan because the management at Ashley can do the work much cheaper than elsewhere.
