

Norman & Moore FIRE INSURANCE, 120 Wyoming Ave.

BIG BARGAINS IN SHOES
RUSSET SHOES AT COST
AT THE
COMMONWEALTH SHOE STORE
Washington Avenue.

OUR WAGONS CALL Regularly in all parts of the city. Have we missed you? Drop a postal.

LACKAWANNA
THE LAUNDRY.
308 Penn Ave. A. B. WARMAN.

HAVE YOUR SHADES MADE OF

COOL PROOF
CAMBRIC

It Does Not Fade.
It Does Not Crack.

WILLIAMS & McANULTY
427 WYOMING AVENUE.

CITY NOTES.

There will be an open air concert by Bauer's band in front of the city hall Friday night.

The railway committee of select councillmen will meet tonight to consider the fender ordinance.

The weekly Union Bible class will meet this evening at Grace church at 7:45 for the study of the Sunday school lesson.

Mrs. Mary A. Beemer yesterday placed an execution for $735 against Estelle E.
Bieseker and Daniel L. Bieseker in the hands of the sheriff.

Conrad Schroeder was yesterday awarded the contract for erecting the new Honesdale National bank building. It is to be completed Nov. 1.

On Saturday the ladies of the Sons of St.
George of the county will run an excursion to Mountain park for the benefit of the widows and orphans fund of the order.
The train will leave at 8 a. m. Tickets are 7 cents.

Bernard Kardan, who relieved a drunken man of his gold watch at Taylor Monday evening, had a hearing before Alderman Pulley yesterday. In default of $50 bail the defendant was committed to the county jail.

A 10-year-old boy named David Jones was run down by a horse attached to a light delivery wagon near the Lackawanna avenue bridge at noon yesterday.
But fortunately escaped with a few bruises. The name of the driver could not be learned.

The bond of P. J. Brady, county tax collector for the borough of Mayfield, was approved by court yesterday. It is for $10,000, with Hush Brady, Lawrence Cog-gin, Andrew Hesley, Peter Mullin, Patrick Tupling and M. M. Wall as sureties.

Fred Teets, who charges Oscar Blackburn with stealing $45 worth of his potatoes from a freight car on a switch on the West Side, did not have his witnesses around last night and the case was continued until 10 o'clock this morning. The offense is alleged to have been committed on Oct. 15, last year.

Prices of Shearings. at our Grand Clearance Sale.
Best 44 brown hair shearing..... 5c 44 Atlantic P. mullin..... 4c 44 6-inch wide Peppercorn shearing..... 5c 44 Lockwood shearing..... 10c
44 Utica shearing..... 10c
44 Lockwood shearing..... 10c
44 Utica shearing..... 10c
44 bleached Utica shearing..... 10c
44 bleached Utica shearing..... 10c
44 bleached Utica shearing..... 10c
Remnants of Wash Goods..... 20c Remnants of Dress Goods..... 20c odds and ends of all kinds at half value.

MEARS & HAGEN.

THAT PROVIDENCE SEWER.

Judge Gunter Decides That It Can Be

Judge Gunter yesterday dissolved the injunction in the case of William Bright and William Love, of Providence, against the city of Scranton. The injunction was asked for to prevent the city from laying a sewer along the line between the properties of the complainants. In disposing of the injunction, Judge Gunter said:

"This injunction stands in the way of important public improvements and we see no good reason for continuing it.
The questions raised at the arguments are no doubt important, but we fail to see how the plaintiffs will lose any right if we permit the city to go on with the work which it has begun. The rule is discharged and the injunction heretofore granted is dissolved."

ON THEIR ANNUAL VISIT.

Members of the Board of Health Visiting Health Officer W. E. Allen and the members of the board of health will today visit the reservoir of the Scranton Gas and Water company at Elmwood and the high service dam at No. 7, and the two bodies of water along the Stafford Meadow Brook.

A visit was made on Tuesday to the water supply north of the city which furnish the reservoir of the Providence Gas and Water company, and everything was found to be very satisfactory.

Grand Clearance Sale of Dry Goods Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. A great reduction in Shawls, Wash Goods, Dress Goods, Silks, etc. See our advertisement on third page of this paper.

MEARS & HAGEN.

Meats and Cold Lunches.

Meats and cold lunches served at all hours at Lackawanna, Spruce street. Agurer dinner 5 cents. Imported and domestic wines, liquors and cigars.

IS IT A HOMICIDE CASE?

Suspicious Death of Fritz Bauers in the Hospital.

SOME DAMAGING EVIDENCE

Mrs. Graves Says She Saw Harry and Sam, the Peddlers, Knock Bauers Down Stairs—Arrested as a Supposed Drunk.

It is probable that a case of murder will develop from the death of Fritz Bauers in the Lackawanna hospital early yesterday morning. At least, a peddler, Harry and Sam, who were killed early last evening, were seen a belief, and induced him to communicate with County Detective Leyshon and to impel a jury for investigation.
The facts in the case are peculiar.
Bauers was taken directly upstairs to the central police station Monday morning. He was found lying in the area in the rear of the bakery at 427 Penn avenue, and was almost incapable of any physical action; and from his appearance the police assumed he was in no worse a condition than is usual in cases of debauch.

In his cell at the police station he remained powerless to move his lower limbs or body, and during yesterday was only able to speak. He could not move his head or arms. Meanwhile, Police Surgeon Fulton had diagnosed the case as tremens and paralysis from the effects of alcohol. Bauers' condition became so alarming early yesterday morning that a call was sent for an ambulance, which conveyed him to the Lackawanna hospital.

Death in the Hospital.
Less than fifteen minutes after being received at the hospital he died. After ascertaining that marks indicating violence were upon his chest and over the hips, Coroner Kelley began his personal investigation.

If the story of Mrs. Graves, who lives next door to where Bauers was found Monday morning, is to be believed, Harry and Sam, who were two Jewish peddlers, may have to answer for Bauers' death.

The two peddlers are brothers of Mrs.
Nathan Druch, whose husband is the rabbi of the Benai Abraham and Jacob synagogue, almost directly opposite the bakery, from the rear of which Bauers was taken in the patrol wagon. However, it will probably be made known at the inquest, which was adjourned to tomorrow night that the husband of Mrs. Graves, who story involves the two peddlers, is now in jail where he is serving a light sentence for cruelly stabbing a bawky horse. Graves was convicted upon the evidence of the two peddlers and it may develop that Mrs.
Graves was, in revenge, taking advantage of an opportunity to swear them guilty of Bauers' death.

To a Tribune reporter Mrs. Graves last night told the story which influenced Coroner Kelley to hold the inquest. Mrs. Graves lives at 425 Penn avenue. Her rooms are on the second floor and extend back to a porch, from which one can see what transpires in the Druch abode, which is on a level with and joins Mrs. Graves' rooms.
From each set of apartments a wooden flight of stairs leads to the area below. When questioned by the reporter Mrs. Graves said:

"Peddlers Struck and Killed Him." "Sunday night I saw Bauers and the two peddlers in the Druch's back room.
They were drinking beer. Later I heard a scuffle and heard Bauers cry out as if in pain. When I reached my back porch they were pushing him out the door and toward the stairs. One peddler struck Bauers on the head and another kicked him in the back. As Bauers was tottering toward the steps I went inside and heard him fall.

"All night long I heard him groaning in the back yard, and early Monday morning I went down to where he lay. He asked for water, and when I had given it to him he said: 'Those two peddlers have killed me; they have hurt my head and back.'"

"Bauers was not drunk then; he was badly hurt and could not move. During the next three hours I gave him as many as five cups of water, until about 8:30 o'clock, when a doctor came and said the police took him away."

"The two peddlers could not be found last night. No neighbors were found who confirmed Mrs. Graves' story.
Mrs. Cohen, who lives in the same house, remarked that there is bad feeling between Mrs. Graves and the Druchs because Mrs. Druch's brother gave testimony which sent the former's husband to jail.

Will Be an Autopsy Today.
The jury impelled by Coroner Kelley has no evidence last night. The body, which lay on a slab in the hospital morning, was viewed, and an adjournment made until tomorrow night at the court house, where Dr. Heald, senior surgeon at the hospital, and Coroner Kelley will testify to the result of an autopsy which will be performed tomorrow, and Mrs. Graves and others will be questioned. If the autopsy reveals violence as the cause of death, the jury will try to decide whether the death was accidental or criminal.

Bauers had neither friends nor relatives. He was 43 or 45 years old, and a Polish Jew. For several years he had been accustomed to spend his occasional earnings for drink, and was often intoxicated.

For over a year he had rented a sleeping room of Fletcher Wolfgram, who conducts the bakery in the basement of No. 427. He was a helper in the bakery at odd times until recently, when his habits caused his dismissal.

HAD HIS SISTERS JAILED.

Because Through Their Father's Neglect

They Became Wayward.

Mrs. Alexander Smith, who was released from police custody yesterday morning, after paying a fine for loating about Nay Aug park, was again arrested during the day, together with her 17-year-old sister, Little Myers, on charges of neglecting walking.

The accusation was preferred by their brother, Frank Myers, of Franklin avenue. He claims that his sisters are wayward and he wishes to have them placed in a reformatory. Their father, he alleges, neglected them, and he concluded it was his duty to look after them. The elder sister, Mrs. Smith, is about 21 years of age and a grass widow. She threatens to have her brother arrested for false imprisonment. The attention of the poor authorities will be called to their case today.

HURT IN THE MINES.

Peckville Polanders Did Not Get Out of the Way of a Blast.

John Dominskiy, a laborer in the mines at Peckville, was received at the Lackawanna hospital yesterday after being severely injured by the scalp, received a premature explosion.

Dominskiy stood watching the burning squib, not thinking it would communicate to the powder as soon as it did. He decided when too late to retract, but could not get out of the way time enough to avoid injury. He will be out in three weeks.

WILL CLEAR ABOUT $2,000.

That Amount Will Go to the Sheridan

Monument Fund.

Treasurer Moore and the committees of the Fourth of July excursion of the General Philip H. Sheridan

Monument excursion made their reports at a meeting of the association held yesterday afternoon in the law library of the court house an invitation was extended to the Dickinson Law school of Carlisle, this state, to locate in Scranton.

The meeting was called to order by

ex-Judge Alfred Hand, president of the Lackawanna Law and Library association, and Colonel Herman Oshausacted as secretary. Five hundred and seventy-five persons were present.

The Tribune the order of the Supreme court which allows graduates of the institution to practice in that court.

Continuing his remarks the speaker said that it was in local in Harrisburg, Pa., that the school was located in the city in the interest of the students who would receive the same

privileges in this court as are extended to like schools by other courts. A number of the students so that they could hear the trial of cases.

Facilities They Will Need.

The school will need a lecture room with a seating capacity of 200 and a library. It will also need a number of rooms for the students. Besides a number of other things will be needed.

Professor Lee told Mr. Hand that it was one of the best schools in the country and would bring about $50,000 a year to whichever city it was located in. He mentioned that he had been in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota and that he had been visited by Scranton

at present considered the most available place because of the opportunity of the county, United States and the school of observing the practice of law in its various branches. Dr.

William Trickett is the dean of the faculty of the law school.

District Attorney John R. Jones said that he would be glad to be encouraged to come to this city, as it would tend to make this city the legal center of northeastern Pennsylvania

and give us prominence in lines in which we do not now possess it. Y. Powderly and C. B. Gardner were also strongly in favor of having such a school locate here. They considered it an excellent way of acquainting the people of the country with the nature of Scranton's business interests. The school would benefit the city in many ways. It would tend to make this city the legal

center of northeastern Pennsylvania

and give us prominence in lines in which

we do not now possess it. Y. Powderly

and C. B. Gardner were also strongly

in favor of having such a school locate

here. They considered it an excellent

way of acquainting the people of the

country with the nature of Scranton's

business interests. The school would

benefit the city in many ways. It

would tend to make this city the legal

center of northeastern Pennsylvania

and give us prominence in lines in which

we do not now possess it. Y. Powderly

and C. B. Gardner were also strongly

in favor of having such a school locate

here. They considered it an excellent

way of acquainting the people of the

country with the nature of Scranton's

business interests. The school would

benefit the city in many ways. It

would tend to make this city the legal

center of northeastern Pennsylvania

and give us prominence in lines in which

we do not now possess it. Y. Powderly

and C. B. Gardner were also strongly

in favor of having such a school locate

INVITED TO COME HERE

Lackawanna Baris Action with Regard to Dickinson Law School.

SCRANTON A GOOD PLACE FOR IT

Ample Opportunities Would Be Afforded Pupils to Get Practical Knowledge of the Practice of Law—Resolutions Prepared by Bar Committee.

At a meeting of the Lackawanna bar
held yesterday afternoon in the law library of the court house an invitation
was extended to the Dickinson Law
school of Carlisle, this state, to locate
in Scranton.

The meeting was called to order by
ex-Judge Alfred Hand, president of
the Lackawanna Law and Library association, and Colonel Herman Oshaus-

acted as secretary. Five hundred and
seventy-five persons were present.

The Tribune the order of the Supreme court which allows graduates of the
institution to practice in that court.

Continuing his remarks the speaker
said that it was in local in Harris-

burg, Pa., that the school was located
in the city in the interest of the

students who would receive the same
privileges in this court as are extend-

ed to like schools by other courts. A
number of the students so that they

could hear the trial of cases.

Facilities They Will Need.

The school will need a lecture room

with a seating capacity of 200 and a library. It will also need a number of

rooms for the students. Besides a number of other things will be needed.

Professor Lee told Mr. Hand that it

was one of the best schools in the country

and would bring about $50,000 a year to

whichever city it was located in. He

mentioned that he had been in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota and

that he had been visited by Scranton

at present considered the most

available place because of the opportunity of the county, United States

and the school of observing the prac-

They are, however, fortified by bondsmen, and the city or employs can not be expected to result from having figured on the excavating for 25 cents a yard. The city engineer's estimate allowed $100 for wet excavating and 50 cents for dry. Muldon &

Boete contractors do not make any for the sum of 25 cents a yard, which lower than the engineer's estimate on dry excavating. They are also liable to a penalty of $10 a day for every day the work remains unfinished after the contract time expires.

THOSE PARK ADDITIONS.

The Association Project No. Neerer Cal-it was expected last night that the proposed annexation of either or both the Canavan and Reynolds and Mc-Carthy tracts to Nay Aug park would receive final consideration at the hands