THE INTERESTING SESSIONS

Pennsylvania Receives the Junior State Banner for the Greatest Absolute Gain in Numbers of Societies. Early Prayer Meetings.

Boston, July 12.-The third day of the international Christian Endeavor convention opened this morning with idea. weather. Notwithstanding the amount of energy expended by the delegates at the great meetings of yesterday morn-ing and afternoon, and the greater n eetings of last evening, thousands of them were up almost with the oun this morning, making their way to thirty churches in the city and vicinity to attend the early prayer meetings, which began at 6.30 and lasted forty-five minutes. All of the churches were well crowded at the early meetings, and it is estimated that fully 20,000 persons participated in the services. Besides the delegates, many residents of the city also attended. The largest meetings were those in the Park Street church, near Boston common, at the Shawmut Congregational church, the Old South Congregational church, and the old Baptist and North Avenue Baptist churches in Cambridge. After the church meetings, rallies and song services were held in the streets in many parts of the city, and hundreds of persons on their way to work stopped to participate in them.

The sessions this morning were more of a business character than their predecessors. The features of the sessions were the presentation of the state banner for the greatest proportionate increase in the number of local socie ties, made by the Rev. Wayland Hoyt, D. D., of Minneapolis, in Mechanics hall; of the state banner for the greatest absolute gain in the number of so cieties, by the Rev. F. E. E. Hamilton of Newtonville, Mass., in Tent Willistop, and of the junior state banners fo the greatest proportionate and greatest actual gain in the number of societies, by the Rev. J. F. Cowan, D. D., of Pittsburg, in Tent Endeavor.

The banner for the greatest gain in the number of societies was presented to the Rev. Knight Chaplin, of London, Eng., as the representative of the Eng-11-h society.

At Tent Endeavor.

At Tent Endeavor the crowds this morning were larger than yesterday, the sides of the tent being looped up to allow 3,000 persons, unable to obtain admittance, to participate in the services. The chorus had been aug-mented and the singers with the En-deavors, who assembled early made the popular, and out of the twenty or tent ring with hymns until the meet-thirty colorings and styles left, ing opened. The Rev. Howard B. you're sure to find something to Grose, of Chicago. Ill., presided, and well as if you had George K. Somerby. come when the price was double chorus. A praise and prayer service opened the meeting at 9.30 o'clock, led by the Rev. W. H. Pennell, of Washington. D. C. George B. Graff, of Boston, . Sale Price, 20c read the information committee's report, which discussed the advance of the Endeavor work. The presentation of junior state banners then took place, one for the great-est absolute gain in the number of societies, the other for greatest proportionate gain. Pennsylvania received the first banner, and Assiniboine, Dominion of Canada, the second. Rev. Dr. McCrary, president of the Pennsylvania union, answered in a pleasing address, and Professor Andrews, of the Assiniboine province, received the banner for his society. At 9.30 o'clock the meeting in Tent

Williston opened with President Francis E. Clark, of Boston, in the chair. Percy S. Foster, of Washington, led the music.

Anniversary of the Battle of Boyne Obsorved by Picutes and Parades.
Philadelphia, July 12.—Four thousand
Orangemen of Philadelphia today celebrated the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne by giving a parade and ple-nic. "There never was an Orangemen's parade declared off for fear that there might be trouble. Don't imagine that the Pittsburg parade was forbidden for any such reason, and don't imagine, either, that I have any idea of bringing the custom of an annual parade to an end. Serious Condition of Two of the Victims of the Atlantic City Disaster-Others Injured.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.-The condition of those injured in Wednesday night's disaster at the Elks' social gathering at the inlet casino is very favorable, with the exception of Frederick Klaproth and Mrs. Francis Japha A United Press representative called at the hospital today and was informed by Dr. J. J. Rochfort, who is in charge, that Klaproth's condition was hourly growing worse, and he entertained but slight hopes of his recovery. "Mrs. Japha's condition," said the doctor, "is also very serious." She was feverish and restless during the night. but is now quiet and resting easily. Her left lower limb was broken in two places and her thigh bone dislocated. The physicians fear that they will have to amputate the leg just above the knee. Her health not being any too good, it is considered rather delicate to make the attempt.

J. L. Eckman, leader of the Mount

Holly brass band, is doing nicely, his fractured leg baving been reset. J. M. Jansen, of the Carneross minstrel troupe, Philadelphia, although baving his face all bandaged up and sewed and his right leg in splints, felt happy at the hospital today to think that he was not killed. He was wor ried much, however, because of his

TOO MUCH FOURTH OF JULY. Explanation Made by Benjamin Harrison

Milliken When Caugh: Housebroaking. Washington, July 12.-The grand jury today returned a true bill against Benj. Harrison Milliken, private secretary of Senator Harris, of Tennessee, for feloniously entering the house of Hon. Samuel F. Phillips, of North Carolina, ex-Solicitor General of the United States. The occurrence took place in this city on the Fourth of July last. Milliken called during the evening to see one of Judge Phillips' daughters whom he had occasionally visited. She excused herself from receiving him. Later in the night another daughter, whose room communicated with her sister's, aroused Judge Phillips by stating that there was a man in her sister's room. Milliken was captured on the roof of the dining room annex by a private watchman and was locked up on a charge of house breaking, but was subsequently released by direction of one of the assistant district attorneys.

A handkerchief and a broken phial, supposed to have contained chloroform. but labelled "camphor," were found or the grass below the bed room window next day. Milliken's explanation is said to be that the whole affair was a mistake, arising out of to much Fourth of July. He has left the city, but it is presumed will return.

Discussion at Meeting of the Commission at Washington. LAW WILL NOT BE ENPORCED

The Opinion General That It Would Paralyze Business - Automatic Brakes and Couplers Must Be in Use in 1898.

Washington, July 12 .- At this afternoon's meeting of the inter-state commerce commission there was a general liscusion on the part of railroad men present, the consensus of opinion being that it would paralyze business to attempt to force the law immediately. The law requires the couplers of all freight cars engaged in inter-state commerce to be of the same height and grab irons to be placed on all the cars for the protection of the brakemen. Whether they shall be on the sides or end is not made plain, and this lack of uniformity has caused confusion. This part of the law went into effect July 1, but the commission was given author shown to be necessary.

Some of the roads are ready, but they are no better off than before, for the law makes the use and the ownership of unequipped cars an offense, and roads are compelled in interstate traffic to use foreign cars. It is understood that the commission will grant a reasonable extension and make it apply to all roads. The use of the automatic brake and car coupler on all freight cars engaged in inter-state commerce will be enforced Jan. 1, 1898.

THE BUSINESS FLOOD.

It Is So Strong That Conservatives Fear That It May Do Harm-Dun & Co.'s Encouraging Review. R. G. Dunn & Co., in their weekly review of trade, will say tomorrow: A business flood so strong and rapid that the conservatives fear it may do harm is out of season in July, but the seasons this year lap over and crowd each other. May frosts and frights, it is now evident, kept back much business that would naturally have been finished before midsummer, and the delayed culmination of one season gets in the way of efforts to begin another on time. But the volume of business, however, it may be measured, is remarkably large for the month. The week has been notable for a sensational fall in wheat of 8 cents in two days, followed by recovery of five cents. The sudden drop in prices was the result of speculative, rather than commercial influences. The latest news indicates an enormous crop of corn, much the largest ever grown if weather favors. but the price is only % cents lower than Speculation in stocks has weakened in spite of better crop prospects, caring pounder guns, all side fire. more for current prices of sugar, ga and whiskey than for railroad earn ings and tonnage.

Railroad stocks of the better class have been fairly steady, but those liable to assessment are weak. The average has declined 12 cents per share, while trusts, after some sensational change average 47 cents lower.

The weekly output of pig iron was 171.194 tons, having risen 13.970 tons in June and other furnaces have gone into operation since July 4. The rapid rise in prices has brought into operation many additional works, and there is still a rush to buy before prices advance further.

The failures this week have been 253 in the United States against 247 last year, and 35 in Canada against 49 last year.

New York, July 12.-Judge Brown, of the supreme court, Brooklyn, this morning gave his decision on the Collins Sunday barber law, carried up on a writ of habeas corpus by ex-Judge Steckler, of New York, on behalf of Samuel Hobach, a Brooklyn barber who made a test case by persisting in doing business on Sunday, June 9, on the ground that the new status was unconstitutional.

Judge Brown, in concluding his argument, says: "That the legislature can prohibit all work on Sundays is conceded, and this concession disposes of the case, as there is no constitutional restriction upon its powers to enact a law applicable only to a part of the There will be an appeal from Judge Brown's decision, and the case will be argued in the supreme court

SIX MORE GUNS.

Secretary Herbert Calls for Proposals for the Construction of New War Vessels of Light Draft.

pert has called for proposals for the onstruction of six lights draught composite gun boats which congress auhorized at a cost not exceeding $230,-00 each, exclusive of ornament. Four of these vessels are to be equipped with considerable sail power in addition to steam, the other two having masts for military purposes only. The great innovation involved in these vessels as far as the American navy is concerned. lies in the fact that while their frames and general construction will be of steel, their hulls are to be sheathed with wood and copper. The essential reason for this method of construction and for the erection of the types are that the vessels will be largely independent of docking facilities and economical in the use of fuel.

The character of the service for which these gun boats are particularly designed requires that they be exposed to musketry fire and the housing of the majority of the battery by an unbroken deck, besides adding materially to the stiffness and strength of the vessel. gives admirable protection to the guns crews in action. The necessarily exposed position of the bow and the stern guns is justified only by their are of fire and possible usefulness in a running action, while for river service, for which these boats are particularly fitted, the disposition of the gun deck battery is all that could be desired.

The vessels with sail power single screws, the steam propelled boats baying twin screws and differing in many ways. The armament being identical in both types will consist of six fourinch, four gix-pounder and two one-

GHOST POINTED TO MURDER.

Remarkable Story of a Dream-Convic tion and Plea for Pardon. Columbus, O., July 12.-The presentaion of a petition to the state board of pardons today brought out a peculiar story of how the appearance of a ghost to a Muskingum county woman led to the conviction of a murderer. About seventeen years ago John W. Brock, a farmer who lived near Zanesfille, was seen to go into a wood with his dog and gun, to hunt. He was never seen alive again. Two days later his body was found in the woods, with a bullet hole in his head.

As he had often threatened to commit suicide, it was supposed that he killed himself, and the coroner's jury so found. But nearly two years later Brock's mother dreamed she saw her son's coffin open and him rising in his rave clothes, and declaring to her that ne did not commit suicide, but was murdered by Jefferson Morehead, a young man of the neighborhood. She started a prosecution on this basis, and, after two grand juries and of court, succeeded in convicting Morehead and sending him to prison for life. His pardon is asked for.
