CARD FROM MR. REPLOGE.

Editor of The Tribune. Sir—In yesterday's issue there appeared an account of a hearing before Alderman Miller in the case of Commonwealth vs. Oscar Blackmore, in which it would appear as guilty of using ungentlemanly language to the attorney representing the accused. Any one who was present at that hearing knows that a deal of bad talk passed the lips of the other attorney, to which I made no reply except an appeal to the alderman in these words: "I do not think the language of the attorney is very gentlemanly or complimentary."

Mr. Beale used the words as reported in the paper, "You came very near getting kicked out of the bar," etc. This is any foundation for this remark, the author is very respectfully invited to show it. And in the meantime the members of the Lackawanna bar and all others who know of the imputation will no doubt cast the reproach of those words on the man to whom it belongs. I think it but just that the papers which have printed such an imputation as above, as to me, will as fully publish my reply. Very respectfully, D. B. Reploge.

DUNMORE PARISH HOUSE

Corner Stone of It Was Laid by Rev. Rogers Israel, of St. Luke's Church. ADDRESS BY ARCHDEACON COXE

It Was Followed by Rev. Rogers Israel, Who Delivered an Earnest Address. List of the Articles Placed in the Corner Stone.

Many persons yesterday witnessed the ceremonies incident to the laying of the corner stone of the new parish-

St. Mark's Parish Building.

building for the congregation of St. Mark's Episcopal church, of Dunmore. At 3 o'clock the exercises began with a procession and the reading of the psalms, which was followed by the singing of hymns and the reading of the ritual for the occasion. Archdeacon

Merriam, Director of St. Mark's mission, St. Luke's Churchman, for May and June, 1895; Dunmore Pioneer of July 15, 1895; Scranton Tribune of July 16, 1895; Scranton Times of July 16, 1895; Scranton Republican of July 17, 1895; United States coins of 1895. After the articles had been securely sealed in the box the stone was laid by Rev. Rogers Israel, after which the venerable Dr. Coxe, archdeacon of the Scranton diocese, delivered a thoughtful address appropriate to the occasion. He made a comparison between the building of the spiritual structure and the building they saw rising before them, which was soon to be dedicated to the service of God. Doctor Coxe was followed by Rev. Rogers Israel, who made a short address. He said that this structure for which they had just laid the corner stone was the realization of a dream which he had three years ago, in which he saw the buildings which were begun yesterday rising upon that very same plot of ground. The exercises closed with the singing of the recessional hymn.

St. Mark's Rectory.

Cox, Rev. Rogers Israel, rector of St. Luke's church, Rev. Mr. Urban, of St. Mark's, and members of the vestry of St. Luke's church took part in the exercises. The building is being constructed by Contractor Osterhout.

The first floor of the proposed building will be used as the meeting room for the different guilds and for social purposes and the second floor for the regular church services. The building is being constructed by Contractor Osterhout.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Pennsylvania railroad officials deny the story that the company is waging war on members of the Order of Railway Conductors.

The Interstate Commerce commission has granted an extension of time until July 1, 1896, asked for by the railroads, in which to comply with the law requiring "rebates" on freight cars.

A law now compels all companies to make all box cars one length. The Central Railroad of New Jersey refuses to accept cars from the Philadelphia and Reading road that are not of the uniform size.

The Pennsylvania railroad reports the amount of coal and coke carried over its lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie thus far this year at 11,189,953 tons, an increase of 4,296,829 tons over the corresponding period of 1894.

The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad company has increased the wages of the trackmen and laborers 10 per cent. The increase was a voluntary one, and affected all the workmen between Philadelphia and Rehoboth.

The following are some of the Railroad men's conventions of 1895: July 17 (Wednesday)—American Association of General Baggage Agents, at Buffalo, N. Y.; Aug. 14 (Wednesday)—Freight and Mail Association in New York city; Sept. 3 (Tuesday)—National Railroad Master Blacksmiths' association, at Cleveland, Ohio; October, 1895—Traveling Agents' association, at Dallas, Tex.; Oct. 15 (Tuesday)—Roadmasters' Association of America, at St. Louis, Mo.; Oct. 15 (Tuesday)—Railway Superintendents of Bridges and Buildings, at New Orleans, La.

The Reading Railroad company is experimenting with a new style of locomotive, which, if it comes up to the expectations of the builders, will revolutionize the building of locomotives. The engine is a compound one with driving wheels seven feet high. It was built by the Baldwin Locomotive works from designs of their chief engineer, and is something of a curiosity. On the new engine, the big, heavy, double sets of driving wheels are replaced by two single wheels, one on each side, eighty-four inches in diameter, being six inches higher than the largest ones in use by the Reading. These huge "drivers" are placed almost directly under the center of the locomotive. The cumbersome-looking "trailer" wheels have given way to a single set of forty-two inch "trailers," while the front portion of the engine rests upon two pairs of thirty-inch truck wheels. The upper portions of the engine are similar to those now in use, except that the sand dome is in the rear of the cab. The old engines cost about $9,000 each, while the new ones can be manufactured for considerably less. It was placed in service July 3, and made its first run from Bound Brook two days later, when it made seventy miles an hour without

APPEARED IN A NEW ROLE.

Alice Bryant Features This Time on the Side of Law and Order.

Some one said that "sheed hath no fury like a woman scorned." E. A. Bishop scorned fawn-haired Alice Bryant, and he regrets it. Alice is the woman who has been in the toils divers occasions on serious charges, the least of which is drunkenness, on which she was arrested a few days ago.

No sooner did she regain her liberty than she went before Alderman Miller and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Bishop, asserting in the information that he is proprietor of a disorderly house at 23 Lackawanna avenue. Constable Jeff Roessler and Special Officer Charles Quincy Carman were delegated to raid the premises.

They found Bishop in charge of the establishment, but the only one of the opposite sex around was Lottie West. They were arrested and brought up for a hearing. Alice, the prosecutrix, came on hand to give testimony. She swore that, from personal knowledge, she knew that Bishop keeps a house that is the resort of disorderly persons. That was sufficient for the alderman to hold Bishop to bail in the sum of $500 to appear at court. Miss West was fined $10.

Managed by the Green Ridge Wheelmen.

The bicycle races at the Driving park Saturday afternoon, the 27th of this month, will be the biggest athletic event of the season.

Besides the best Pennsylvania riders, the flyers from New York, New Jersey, Delaware and possibly a few from Massachusetts will ride. The Green Ridge wheelmen, who are conducting the affair, desire the support of the people in this city and extensive undertaking, which will necessitate an outlay of nearly $1,000. The new grand stand at the Driving park is finished, having a seating capacity of 3,500, and is one of the finest in the state.

The races will be paced by the "Peelers" tandem brought here for the purpose through the efforts of the local agents, Bittenbender & Co., which will make the races hot and exciting. Admission 25c. Races begin at 2:30.

GREEN RIDGE CONFERENCE

Exercises of the First Day's Gathering of Christian Workers.

MRS. ABBIE MORROW'S ADDRESS

She Spoke of the Coming of Christ—Afternoon Service Began With a Testimony Meeting—In the Evening Young People's Service Was Held.

Yesterday were begun in the northern section of the city a series of open air religious meetings which will continue from early morning until night daily until Sunday inclusive. The exercises are called a "Believers' Conference and Christian Workers' Convention," and are conducted under the management of the Green Ridge Gospel tabernacle, of which Evangelists James Scaville and William H. McArthur are the pastors.

If yesterday's beginning is any criterion the meetings seem destined to be as interesting and almost as well attended as were the morning prayer services last summer. Like the Moody meetings, the present tabernacle services will be held in a tent, weather permitting. Yesterday the worshippers congregated in the tabernacle, owing to the damp grounds. A street has been located on the grounds to accommodate those from distant sections of the city who wish to attend the whole or a part of a day's service. The tabernacle site is located on Adams avenue, on one of the coolest spots in the city, and this feature added to the corps of interesting speakers and singers and the freedom from the noise and bustle of a more central point seems bound to attract large audiences.

Services During the Day. Yesterday's programme, which was carried out in the tabernacle owing to wet grounds, will give an idea of what today's and other services will be. At 7 o'clock the morning prayer session was opened and continued until 8 o'clock. The hour from 9 to 10 o'clock was devoted to Bible study.

An address upon "Christ's Coming" was delivered by Mrs. Abbie C. Morrow, editor of the New York Illustration. She treated the subject in a manner logical, exact and thoughtful, and it was filled with instructive points for the attentive auditory. After a hymn, which closed the morning session, a recess was taken for dinner in the tent.

At 2 o'clock the afternoon service began with a testimony meeting, during which addresses were made by Miss Louie Shepherd and Rev. Stephen Morley, both of New York city. The evening was begun at 7 o'clock with a young people's praise meeting, which was followed by a sermon by Rev. H. B. Simpson, of New York.

Speakers Who Will Be Heard. In addition to those mentioned, the following speakers will be in attendance during the remaining days of the novel meeting: Charles N. Crittenden, promoter of the Florence mission in this city; Rev. S. H. Scott, of Altoona; Rev. G. A. Renwick, of Carry; Rev. George Smith, of Newton. Following is the programme announced for each day: Prayer meeting, 6:30 to 7:30 a. m.; preaching, 10:30 to 12 m.; short addresses, 2 to 5 p. m.; song service, 7 to 9 p. m.; Bible study, 8:30 to 10 a. m.; testimony meeting, 2 to 3 p. m.; young people's meeting and preaching, 8 to 9 p. m.

ON THE VERGE

Of Giving Up the Fight—An Elmira Citizen's Last Resource Proves a Success.

[From the Elmira Gazette.] Do you know Mr. J. S. Bodder, of 214 South Main street? He has been a business man for many years, and has been over twenty years. A man whose statement cannot be disputed. Well, Mr. Bodder's case is a nutshell. He has been a sufferer from kidney ailments, but doesn't suffer any more. We will let him tell what has brought about the change. Here is how he spoke of his case to our representative: "I have never been well since the closing of the war, where, in the service of my country, I contracted kidney and bladder disorders. The complaint has gradually been growing on me. I had sharp pains in the small of my back, just behind of the hips, and when they left it was only to be followed by a dull, heavy pain which remained continually. I could lie in but one or two positions in bed, and I would be almost unbearable. It was always very sore over the kidneys, and the urine smelt of a strong odor. At times I felt existence a task. I tried this, and that other thing, to no avail, and was on the verge of giving up entirely when I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised. I thought as a last resort I would give them a trial; they were highly recommended, and would use just this one more remedy. I began taking them, and I am very glad indeed to give my statement, that suffering humanity may receive the same benefit I have. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills satisfied me they were helping me. Now, the pain is all gone, and I am entirely well—this, after years of sickness. My sleep at night is good and refreshing. I do not feel any more that tired feeling I used to on rising, all thanks due to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, on receipt of which price by Foster-McMillan company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for United States.

evening, Thursday, July 18. A special feature of which will be an open air concert in which the following will take part: Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Emma Wakefield, Emma Cronk, Mammie Inland, the Misses Bertha and Laura Johnson, visiting selections by A. B. Wakefield, accompanied by W. A. Seymour. All are invited to attend. Ice cream for sale from 5 to 10 p. m.

The serio-comic opera, "A Trip to Europe," was beautifully rendered in the Welsh Baptist church on West Market street last evening. About 400 people took the trip, and all had an enjoyable time. The choruses which were rendered by about seventy voices were excellent, and also the duets by Miss Owens and Miss Watkins. Much credit is due the captain, David Phillips, for his excellent management of the ship.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Protestant Episcopal church will hold a birthday reception in the parlors of the church this evening from 7 to 10. The ladies have endeavored to send the birthday bags to all the congregation, but there are many who have not received one, they can hand their birthday pennies to the cashier, who will also receive the bags. The amount received will be announced after the programme of the evening, which will consist of social and devotional, followed by a social. Ice cream and cake will be served free.

Death of Miss Lizzie O'Malley, of River Street—Michael Miller an Expert Player—Other Items of Interest.

In the bereavement which has come upon the family of Mrs. Owen O'Malley, of 222 River street, her daughter, Miss Lizzie, 22 years old, having yesterday morning passed to her eternal reward, the deep sympathy of the community is offered. The deceased was an exceptionally bright and noble young lady, carried off by an illness of only two weeks. The grim reaper has made frequent visits to this household, the principal part of the family now having gone to the other sphere.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with a high mass requiem at St. Peter's cathedral. Interment will be made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

A Checker Expert. Thum Michael Miller, of Cedar avenue, now editor of the New York Illustration, is not a better checker player in this end of the state, yet this is not very well known, all because he refuses to play for money. Mr. Miller has carried his spurs by holding his own against men who have traveled all over the country. By this is meant commercial travelers who call on him in a business way frequently. He takes pride in the game, but it is a principle with him that money never changes hands when he is concerned at the checker board.

Shorter Paragraphs. Miss Lizzie Storr, of Alder street, is visiting in Honesdale.

Miss Kate, of Maple street, is visiting in Wilkes-Barre.

The Scranton Saengerunde will leave for Allentown next Monday.

Mrs. Edgar C. Coxwell, of Pittston avenue, is recovering from a recent severe illness.

Frank McDonald, of Cedar avenue, was injured on the head at the South works yesterday.

Harry, the horse of the Century Horse company's team, is able for service again after being lame some time ago in the country. By this is meant commercial travelers who call on him in a business way frequently. He takes pride in the game, but it is a principle with him that money never changes hands when he is concerned at the checker board.
