NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The middle division in the National league race won again from the leaders yesterday with the result that Baltimore and Boston each drops and permits the Pirates, who did not play, to go to first position, where they are bunched with Baltimore and Cleveland, the Beaneaters dropping from third to fifth. The Giants won a signal victory from the Browns, who had the only Breiteinstein in the box. Never before in the history of base ball has there been such a large percentage of clubs above the 500 mark in any league race at this period of the season.
