TO THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Editor of The Tribune. Sir: In this evening's Truth I noticed the offer of a site on Adams avenue for a board of trade building, and it occurred to me at once that the board should be located on a site that will eventually benefit the neighborhood in which it is. From all rumors I learn the site is likely to be on Linden street, opposite the court house, a promising thoroughfare that from its surroundings and contemplated improvements will soon enhance greatly in value. Now as the board is in existence for the purpose of protecting and promoting the general interests, then it is its incumbent duty to select a site in a neighborhood that is consistently convenient and that needs its stimulating influence. Why not consider Lackawanna avenue? A site on Fuller's corner would tend to extend Lackawanna avenue one block more and have a much needed stimulus on both sides of the street. I have no lots for sale, no friends to represent, no commissions to make, in fact no axe to grind but the general welfare. I think the board should first consider the benefits it can extend to the many before figuring out how great the interest on the invested capital of the few. Yours respectfully, Samuel Samier.

SMITH'S LATEST STRIKE

Brings the Jennings Case to the Attention of the Supreme Court.

HIS REMARKABLE PETITION

Wants to Compel the President Judge of This County to Release Jennings on His Own Recognizance—He Resolves All of the Old Charges.

The petition of John G. Jennings, filed in the supreme court of Philadelphia day before yesterday, is the most extraordinary document ever presented to any court in the commonwealth. It is one of the incidents of the celebrated case of Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago, when the case was called for trial, Mr. Smith made something of a sensation by reiterating certain charges he had made against Mr. Kasson, the deputy prothonotary, with reference to the selection of the jury.

President Judge Archbold asked him to prove the charges he had made and they were shown to be without any foundation whatever. The allegations were made in writing and under oath by John G. Jennings. At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Jennings was held to bail to answer the charge of perjury. The present proceedings in the supreme court consist of a petition asking that court to issue a mandamus to compel the president judge of this county to discharge Mr. Jennings upon his own recognizance, and to command the clerk of the court to issue a writ of habeas corpus to draw the jury at the next trial of the case, further commanding him to order and direct that the deputy prothonotary, Kasson, shall not have anything to do, or be engaged in any way with the drawing of the jury.

Charges Against Everybody. This petition, which is made part of the proceedings in the supreme court, contains charges against everybody, nearly, in connection with this celebrated case.

It is charged that Mr. Burns, one of the attorneys for the defendant, solicited and procured many of the officials of the court of this county to form with him an unlawful combination for the purpose of defeating the plaintiff. It is said that this first combination was made with the sheriff, who was induced to make a false and improper return of the service of the summons. It is said that the combine, in their efforts to defeat the plaintiff, procured some unknown person to go to the city hospital, having in the unknown person a person to represent to the doctors that he was James Jennings, and that he was injured in the Mud Run disaster, and to have himself examined and afterward to make declarations to the doctors to defeat the plaintiff's action.

This, it is alleged, was done. It is alleged that said Burns solicited and procured from the late Judge Connelly an agreement to immediately set aside any verdict which the jury might render in favor of the plaintiff; that the jury rendered a verdict in the sum of $3,000 in favor of the plaintiff, the trial judge immediately set it aside; that the verdict was unlawfully set aside, and thereafter the combine of Burns and the officials of the court directed their efforts to defeat the action of the plaintiff by means of packing the jurors; that the county detective was employed to fix jurors at their homes, and that the deputy prothonotary was procured to draw the jurors in such a way as to select only those that had previously been fixed.

Charge Against Mr. Kasson. There is a plain, square charge against Mr. Kasson of having packed the jury upon several occasions; that the president judge of the court gave the petitioner and his counsel no opportunity to produce their evidence to prove the charges contained in the petition, not even giving the petitioner time to answer the same; that he called before the court to make his statement to show upon what ground he made the affidavit.

Mr. Jennings asks the supreme court to be discharged upon his own recognizance, first, because the court had no lawful authority to make the order, second, the plaintiff could not be held to bail to answer a charge of perjury until the case wherein the alleged perjury has been committed is finally terminated. In the argument attached to this extraordinary paper Mr. Smith reiterates a great many of his charges which were thoroughly investigated and proven to be without foundation. It is the plaintiff's action as admittedly criminal; says that the agreement with the late Judge Connelly to set aside any verdict for the plaintiff might be found as a matter of record, whereas it not only is not of record, but was thoroughly disproved at the hearing had with reference to these charges several months ago.

DUNMORE.

Mrs. Martha Chamberlain and two children will return home today after a two weeks' visit at Lake Winola. Misses Blanche Bloss, Maud Swage, Grace Stanton, Tillie Wardell, Ida Doty, Jennie Palmer, Clara Kraeger, Minnie Sanders, and Edna Robinson, L. J. Snyder, O. H. Winter, Dr. Wardell, Charles Forbaugh, George Sharps and Edward Poole formed a picnic party that enjoyed the refreshing breezes and delightful scenery at Nay Aug falls Thursday.

GONE TO ALBANY.

Armed with a Requisition Chief Simpson Starts Out to Get Vianlike. At 6:15 yesterday morning Chief of Police Simpson, armed with the requisition papers received from Governor Hancock, day before, started for Albany to secure an extradition for Vianlike, the young Polish murderer confined in the Buffalo jail. Owing to the delays so far encountered and the possibility of the chief not being able to secure an interview with Governor Morton for a day or so, it may be likely that Vianlike will not be brought here until the middle or latter part of next week.

BEGGED TO BE TAKEN.

Award of His Wishes John Horn Asks to Be Sent to Hillside Home. John Horn, of Fourteenth street, was arrested on Lackawanna avenue yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued at the instance of his relative charging him with disorderly conduct. Towards the latter part of the afternoon Horn begged piteously to be sent to the insane asylum at Hillside Home. He said he knew he could not control himself while whisky was within his reach and wanted to be placed where he could not do harm. Superintendent Beemer and Dr. Evans, resident physician of the Hillside Home, who were in attendance at the poor board meeting were called in to examine Horn. They immediately recognized him as an escaped inmate who had been given a conditional release on account of the witness of his troubles. They said that he is subject to fits of insanity, which are induced by drink, and were of the opinion that he should be again confined in the asylum. Accordingly he was taken back to the Hillside Home at 6 o'clock.

SOUTH SIDE NEWS.

Three Boys Kill a Rattlesnake—Funeral of Miss Lizzie O'Malley—Mrs. John Bevan Injured.

Three boys, Joseph Kibler, Eddie Baker and Albert Brooks, all of whom are about 12 years of age, had a curious experience yesterday morning with a large rattlesnake, seven feet long, wearing fourteen rattles. The youths left their homes on this side early in the morning for Coon's mountain to pick huckleberries, and having filled their pants with berries were on their way down the mountain, when a loud rattling noise a few feet from the path startled them. They knew it was a rattler and with the daring of lads of their age, prepared to battle with it.

The reptile fixed itself for a fight, but was soon vanquished by the clubs of the three attackers. They did not let up until the snake lay on its back on the ground, but it took five minutes to overcome its fierce and venomous darts. The boys carried the carcass home as a trophy, and exhibited it with a good deal of pride.

As far as is known, it is the biggest snake seen in the mountains this season. They measured it and found it lacking only an inch and one-half, seven feet. Its body at the thickest part measures a diameter of almost four inches.

Funeral of Lizzie O'Malley.

Among the many large funerals of this side was that of the late Miss Lizzie O'Malley, daughter of Mrs. Owen O'Malley, of River street, yesterday morning. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's cathedral, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, with Rev. J. B. McHugh deacon, and Rev. J. J. Feeley, subdeacon. Father McHugh delivered the sermon, a worthy tribute to the pure, Christian life of the deceased. Interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Patrick Lavelle, John H. Hart, James Shea, Michael McNally, John and Edward Conners.

Shorter Paragraphs.

Miss Rachel Beckett, of 210 Fifth street, is dangerously ill.

Many of the members of the Scranton Athletic club have taken a novel way of advertising the annual excursion of the club to Mountain park on Saturday, Aug. 10, by carrying a large red-lettered placard between the wheels of their bicycles.

Adam Dougherty, of Locust street, has gone to Croton, N. Y., as time-keeper for Burke Bros. contractors. The congregation of the Greenwood Presbyterian church will conduct an excursion to Lake Ariel Friday, July 26.

Dr. J. A. Manley has let the contract for his new residence to Mulhern & Judge.

The funeral of Robbie, the infant son of Charles Heiler, of Cedar avenue, will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Interment in Easton Avenue cemetery.

Mrs. McGrath, mother of Mrs. James Shaughnessy, of Remington avenue, was painfully injured yesterday morning by falling on the door step. She is an old woman and therefore her injury is more serious.

The funeral of Philip Hiltz, of Pittston avenue, will be held tomorrow, interment in Pittston Avenue cemetery.

Mrs. John Bevan, of Beach street, attempted to alight from a moving street car near the corner of Pitts and avenue and Maple street at 10:30 Thursday night, and received deep bruises on the face, otherwise not being very much injured. Her face will probably be greatly disfigured.

DUNMORE.

Mrs. Martha Chamberlain and two children will return home today after a two weeks' visit at Lake Winola. Misses Blanche Bloss, Maud Swage, Grace Stanton, Tillie Wardell, Ida Doty, Jennie Palmer, Clara Kraeger, Minnie Sanders, and Edna Robinson, L. J. Snyder, O. H. AT THE COUNTY JAIL.

James Brown, of Taylor, yesterday had his 14-year-old son John committed to the county jail for being incorrigible and making an assault upon him. Patrick Noon, of Archbold, for making threats against Edmund Murray, of the same place, was received at the county jail yesterday, being unable to furnish bail.

Struck in the Eye.

Henry Milhauser, of 107 Beach street, an employe of a saw mill, was struck in the eye by a piece of flying machinery and painfully injured. The physicians at Moses Taylor hospital, where he was taken for treatment, say that he will not lose the sight of his eye.

Every time a winner. All smokers say this of the Pococo 58.
