Today's Eastern League Games. Scranton at Syracuse. Wilkes-Barre at Rochester.

Springfield at Toronto. Providence at Buffalo. SUNDAY GAMES.

Wilkes-Barre Takes a Game from the Rochester Team. Rochester, N. Y., July 21 .- The Rochesters again this afternoon demonstratd their inability to win Sunday games. Baldwin was hit steadily at times when hits were equal to runs, and the rank support given him did the rest. The Rochesters could not bunch their hits, and all the long drives they made came when bases were empty.

The Wilkes-Barres fielded brilliantly. Griffin pulled down two long drives to eft which looked good for three bases at least, and a brace of newly executed souble plays by the visitors sent the Rochesters to the grass when their prospects were bright. Attendance.

the Brownies in the seventh came through good, clear hitting. Whitehead weakened under the jeer ing he received from the crowd for his stupid playing in the third inning. threw down his mit and retired from the game. Berger replaced him at third and White went behind the bat. Whitehead will probably receive his release. IT WAS A CLOSE GAME. Wilkes-Barre Newspaper Men Defeat

Club from This City.

The Scranton and Wilkes-Barre newspapermen's base ball clubs met at the ball park in the latter city Saturday afternoon and played a seven-inning game, resulting in the Alligator City's club being ahead by the score of 20 to 17 at the end of the seventh inning, when darkness intervened. The loss of the game may be accounted for according to two reasons.

one, the start the Wilkes-Barre club got in the first inning through Brown's wildness in the pitcher's box, sending seven of the opponents to first on balls, and the other the ungentlemanly as sistance of the umpire. Harry Purcell was selected by Captain Risdale to umpire. He could not see the ball at all in the first inning and allowed every man that come to the bat to take his base, but his umpiring was not tolerated very long. A local Wilkes-Barre amateur was accepted to adjudicate on balls and strikes, and John J. Campbell, of this city, watched the bases for the remainder of the game.

The Scranton boys played a better and cleaner game, and would have won but for the disastrous first inning. John J. Murphy pitched after that and kept the hits scattered. Following is the score

NOLAN LEFT GAS TURNED ON It Caused His Death in Fairchild's Hote on the West Side-Child Died from

Fright - William D. Griffiths' Invention-Personal Montion. [The West Side interests of The Tribun have been placed in the hands of Emer son Owen, to whom all news announce ments and complaints may be addressed. Either with suicidal intent or by ac cident Peter Nolan left a gas jet in his room at Fairchild's hotel open Friday night and on Saturday morning was found dead as street. a result of asphyxiation. The un-fortunate is a resident of Hopbot-tom, and his dealings with business men of this side brings him to Scranton very frequently. Thursday he applied for a room at Fairchild's hotel, on South Main avenue, and was given apartment 22. Joseph Hughes, an attache of the establishment, questioned Nolan before the latter retired as to whether he knew the workings of the gas fittings, register, etc. Nolan laughed and boastingly remarked that he had slept in hotels before Hughes was born. He retired and at noon the following day his door was sounded. Nolan awoke and stated from within that he did not wish to arise. About this time Mrs. Fairchild noticed an unusual escape of gas, and as the time wore on she became alarmed. Nolan slept on, in what afterward proved the the proprietor. George Fairchild, resolved to burst open the door. Before doing so, however, a peep through the

from the bed. The apartment was entered and the room was discovered to be full of dead-ly gas. The quantity baffled the rescuers for an instant, but soon Nolan was removed from the room in an unconscious state, though life was still observer, she looked to be the faster left. Dr. Gibbs was unsuccessful in restoring the man and he died soon afterward, without regaining conscious-

> How he allowed the gas to escape is a mystery. Suicide is an explanation advanced. It is also thought that Nolan in turning off the gas extinguished the light, but again accidentally opened the valve. He was 60 years of age and has relatives at Hopbottom. Coroner Kelley was called and impaneled a jury of the following, who will act on the case on Tuesday evening at the court house: George F. McKenhoffer, T. J. Flannery, M. P. McCann, George A. Hayes, Peter McDowell and C. L. Heald, M. D.

Nolan came downstairs Friday morning and asked Mr. Fairchild if he could sleep awhile longer. The landlord an-swered "certainly," and offered a lunch to the man, who was despondent and complaining of a slight illness. Nolan went back to bed and was found unconscious Saturday as stated above The body was afterward taken to Undertaker Price's place, from whence i was removed last evening to Hopbot result of fright and subsequent con vulsions, brought on by burns while playing with fire. Howard, who was years old, and his 6-year-old brother, Webster, were playing around a fire Saturday afternoon in the yard about the residence. The little fellow ven tured too near the fire and the flames caught his clothing. Webster called for aid, and a carpet soon put out the flames, though not until the boy had been badly burned. Drs. A West Side Inventor. William D. Griffiths, the efficient young North Main avenue plumber, is on the road to success and fortune. Mr. Griffiths is a gentleman of push and vim, and his recent enterprise further brings out those qualities. He invented faucet, and, infatuated with his cre ation, Mr. Griffiths left for Washington ast week in order to obtain a patent. n fooking over the records no duplicate to the invention was found, and the au-thorities issued the desired permit, bestowing on the young inventor the highest praises for his idea. The model was examined oritically, and a cut will appear in the next issue of the Scientific American. Those who have seen the faucet say it will bring Mr. Griffiths a fortune.

Home from Europe. William V. Griffiths, an attache of this paper, and Police Officer Tom Jones returned Enturday from their trip to foreign climes. Less than seven days were consumed in the passage from Liverpool to Scranton. Both gentlemen are delighted with their visit to the mother land, and each speaks highly of the pleasures across the pond. Mr. Griffiths will immediately resume his position on The Tribune.
