

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

TUNKHANNOCK.

An unoccupied house on the Stark and Billings farm, near Kern's Glen, burned a night or two since. It is supposed that a party of Huns and Poles working on the Montrose railway carelessly set fire to it.

The Young Women's Christian association will give a concert at the Baptist church the latter part of the month. They are rehearsing under the efficient leadership of Mrs. C. J. Reed.

Henry Durkin, of Stroudsburg, has moved into Thomas Gunn's tenement house, and will open a workshop for the repairing of furniture and the manufacture of fancy baskets.

The Methodist Sunday school, to the number of 800 or more, will picnic at Lake Carey on Thursday next. The Lemon school will be there on Friday.

V. Fred Williams, who recently returned from Mahanoy City, where he had gone for treatment, is still in a very critical condition, and the chances for his recovery are considered small.

Miss Carrie Sheldon, of Linn, has gone to Chicago for an extended visit. Mrs. Della Swartwood is very ill of bilious fever at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vine Depue.

Miss Anna Searle, of Montrose, is a guest of Mrs. P. R. Borden. The clairvoyant and mind reader who "hangs out" at the Keeler house, predicted a victory for the home team in Saturday's game of ball. Such predictions suit far better than the reverse would, and if she makes a false prophecy of that nature it can easily be overlooked.

Returning parties from the huckleberry mountains report that a small boy was badly bitten by a rattlesnake a day or two since, but no particulars can be gathered.

The second game between the Tritons and Plitton was played on the home grounds Saturday, the result being a victory for the home team by a score of 7 to 7. Both sides indulged in costly errors, bordering onto extravagance, but as now and then a brilliant double play or a fine catch was made, the interest of the spectators did not flag.

Clark and Chamberlain were battery for the home team and Kboe and Schmalz for the visitors. The result was a reversal of the first game, the visitors then carrying off the honors by a score of 7 to 8.

R. J. Barnhill, esq., one of our rising young attorneys, suffered hemorrhages of the lungs Saturday, and is in quite a serious condition.

Henry Bell, the lineman who was injured by the falling of a telegraph pole Wednesday, is improving and his recovery is quite probable.

The Christian Endeavor delegates returned from Easton Saturday. They were Messrs. Daisy and Lillian Childs, Mary Shook, Lizzie Kiefer and Messrs. Arthur Baldwin and Harry Lewis.

The hot frakturer man was on hand for the ball game Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wells, of Hartford, Conn., have been spending several days with James L. Vose's people.

Mrs. W. T. Wells, of Weathersfield, Conn., who is a guest of James Vose's, is a fine equestrian, and delighted the audience at the Friday night meeting of the Epworth league with a couple of selections.

Judge Dunham was here the latter of the week assisting his attorney to assist in the great mass of evidence in a trial contest and picket at such points as were presented in the argument.

Miss Minnie Bennett, Myrtle Vose and Jas. McKown were elected delegates to the Epworth league rally, to be held at Avoca, Friday, Aug. 2.

A first-class burglar can get a job by applying to Marks, the Toga street peddler. He keeps his books and important papers in a large safe which had not been locked in years till some street urbins went in a day or two since and did the job for him. As the combination has been lost for a generation, he is in a fix that doesn't admit of being easily gotten out of.

Archie Bantz, the aged postmaster at Vose's, has resigned his position, desiring to remove from the neighborhood. He has held the office for several years, and it has been in the family ever since it was established, his son-in-law, L. M. Vose, being his predecessor. The person to succeed him has not yet been named.

The rural districts are being flooded with Quay documents, and the man who hasn't had a letter since he can remember is surprised to find an epistle actually awaiting him when he visits the postoffice.

The railroad company has posted notices to the effect that the electric train indicators are not official, and that the company will not be responsible for any precautions the machines may be guilty of. This leaves the traveler in

DR. REEVES, 412 Spruce St., Scranton. SPECIALIST ON Meric Troubles, Diseases of Men, Diseases of Women, Diseases of Children.

DR. REEVES, 42 SPRUCE ST., SCRANTON. GREAT CLEARING SALE OF Carpets, Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Mattings, Lace Curtains, Chenille Curtains, Tapestry Curtains, Window Shades and Wall Papers.

J. SCOTT INGLIS, 516 LACKAWANNA AVE. Among those from this place who about the same uncertain state of mind

as he feels when he doesn't know whether his Waterbury is twenty-four hours ahead or thatm uch behind.

Bernard Davis, a well-known Scranton constable, is taking a breathing spell with his family up at Lynn, where he was raised.

Cyrus Walter and Miss Ellen Cooper returned Saturday night from Waverly, N. Y., where they were made man and wife. They took in Niagara Falls, incidental to the occasion.

HALLSTEAD. Miss Jennie Watson, of this place, who graduated at the Hallstead high school, has accepted a position to teach at the Mountain Valley school.

Ralph Carr is visiting Mrs. Rev. John Davis, of this place. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gault, of Oneonta, former residents of this place, are visiting at the residence of Mrs. James Millard.

J. M. Kelley, of Montrose, was in town on Saturday. Mrs. E. A. Wood, of Carbondale, is spending a few weeks at the Mitchell house.

There will be bicycle races on the Keystone tracks next month. Mr. and Mrs. New Milford, was in town on her wheel on Saturday.

A pleasant reunion of the school fellows of Mrs. Gault was held at the home of Mrs. James Millard on Saturday afternoon. Quite a number attended.

George Bell, of New Milford, is a visitor at Fred Bell's, of this place. Mrs. Ida Travis is visiting Mrs. William May Ward.

The Baptist Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor held a social on the lawn of Simon Stein Saturday evening.

Grant Decker rode to New Milford on his wheel Saturday. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Danforth, of Newburgh, formerly of this place, and William Burke, of this city.

Fred Lamb is taking a vacation at Lake Idlewild. William Davis, John Jones, Ollie and Richard Williams spent Thursday at Elmhurst.

William J. Richards, of Taylor street, received word Saturday of the death of his mother in Wales, at the advanced age of 77. Her death occurred on the fourth of July.

Miss Bertha Snow, of Hyde Park, was a visitor in this place Saturday afternoon. William H. Gordon arrived home Saturday from Connetquot, where he has been calling on Rev. W. W. Smith, a former pastor of the Methodist church in this place, and the conclusion of the Christian Endeavor to Boston.

A number of people from this place attended the excursion of the railroad men from Scranton to Elmira. Thomas Gattling, of Wilkes-Barre, was a visitor here last week.

Richard Evans, Thomas Tally and David Griffiths, of this place, left with the Thirtieth regiment for their yearling camp.

Conner Reynolds, of the Traction company, is at Coney Island spending his honeymoon.

Fred D. Lamb, The Tribune correspondent at Hallstead, is visiting his grandparents here.

A large number of people from Scranton and Wilkes-Barre are spending a few days at the Lake Idlewild house.

Miss Libbie Acobay is seriously ill. John L. Richards, of Scranton, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Richards.

Master Henry Jones visited Carbondale on Thursday. David James, student in the Bangor Theological seminary, is spending his vacation here.

Mrs. S. Hughes, of Shenandoah, is visiting at the residence of David Morgan. John Jones, of London, Eng., is spending the summer with his mother, Mrs. Jones.

Miss Bertha Powell and sister, of Scranton, are stopping with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Davis. Mrs. Edward Morgan was attending the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor convention at Boston last week.

HONESDALE. George Hirdsall, of Scranton, and nephew, William Hirdsall, are enjoying a few weeks' outing in the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gardner and son Perry are visiting relatives at Factoryville.

went to New York on the Erie popular excursion Saturday night, were T. Mc-

Sullivan, J. J. McCarthy and George Griffiths.

CONNELTON. The newly formed William A. Hose company turned out in great force on Thursday night parading the principal streets headed by the respected president, Patrick J. Judge, followed by the specially decorated hose carriage with the worthy foreman, Matthew Beam, with his speaking trumpet.

The members presented a fine appearance and when they have had a few disciplinary drills and practice will be fit for any task that may come before them.

The Keg fund picnic held in the Lackawanna park, attracted a great number of visitors, the weather being all that could be desired.

F. Woods' residence was festooned with lanterns on Thursday night in honor of the fire laddies, the esteemed host being one of the most enthusiastic members.

Swindlers Not Yet Dead. It is still extremely easy for a visitor to be swindled by irresponsible drivers. A favorite trick is for one of these fellows to hail the stranger as he steps from the railway station into the street, with the promise that he "will show you the falls for a quarter."

If the visitor accepts the invitation he is driven three or four miles up the street, he finds out that he has merely been hauled away from rival hackmen in order that this particular hack may work him to consent to a two or three hour's slow drive at a cool exorbitant charge.

If the stranger does not agree to this, the driver will make him get out, unless he can get an order to "take me back to the depot," in which case he charges whatever he thinks he can get.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

of the fact that their aim in improvements is not merely to achieve a pretty piece of landscape gardening, but to let nature have her own way, as far as is consistent with the comfort and convenience of the public.

They also find that they must keep a sharp lookout for the encroachments of persons and corporations seeking privileges in the state lands. The granted licenses are few. A well-managed wagonette service lets the visitor see the world that lies above the falls and cliffs, with stop-off privileges at a dozen points, for 25 cents the round trip.

There is still heard the charge that drivers of these wagonettes discriminate against certain places of business by systematically steering visitors to rival establishments. Something of this exists, perhaps, but it is usually the dealer or hackman who is left out in the cold who makes the charge. So far as the tourist public is concerned, the carriage service at Niagara Falls (that is, within the reservation) was never before so cheap or so well managed.

Swindlers Not Yet Dead. It is still extremely easy for a visitor to be swindled by irresponsible drivers. A favorite trick is for one of these fellows to hail the stranger as he steps from the railway station into the street, with the promise that he "will show you the falls for a quarter."

If the visitor accepts the invitation he is driven three or four miles up the street, he finds out that he has merely been hauled away from rival hackmen in order that this particular hack may work him to consent to a two or three hour's slow drive at a cool exorbitant charge.

If the stranger does not agree to this, the driver will make him get out, unless he can get an order to "take me back to the depot," in which case he charges whatever he thinks he can get.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

There is no surveillance that the ordinary other tricks are still practiced here, but a visitor of ordinary experience and caution is not likely to be entrapped. Practically all the points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the falls can be seen on a tour of the park.

NEWS OF OUR INDUSTRIES

Happening of Interest to the Staple Trades and Particularly to the Trade in Iron, Steel and Anthracite Coal.

The Engineering and Mining Journal is dissatisfied with the present method of collecting statistics concerning the anthracite trade. It finds that with the weekly and monthly statements of the Bureau of Anthracite Statistics because they are not detailed.

"The difference between stove coal and the steam sizes," it remarks, "is almost as great as between anthracite and bituminous, and yet this trade is content to go on without knowing the production of each of the different sizes, stove, broken, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

HAPPY MAN

A Young Man Made Happy and Relieved of an Unsightly Disfigurement by Magnetic Treatment.

"How unsightly!" is frequently the remark made by some one who is blessed with good health when meeting a person who is suffering from what is termed Goitre or Thick Neck. It is indeed unsightly to the observer; but not more so than annoying to the unfortunate sufferer. Many persons have gone through life with this annoying blemish, thinking there is no help for it, but they were mistaken, for there is a sure cure in magnetic treatments, as the following case will show: Mr. John Nordri, a young man 23 years old, noticed a gradual enlargement of his neck. He called on a doctor and it was pronounced to be a Goitre. He commenced to take medicine and to paint it with iodine. He kept up this method with slight changes for two years, but received no benefit. The Goitre kept on growing until he had to have the neck bared of his shirt made extra large, restricting the trade and no figure to show where and in what quantities anthracite is sold, or how much of domestic or how much of the steam sizes is sold in each of the large cities, when such figures would render feasible the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.

The sales agents of the different companies meet monthly and suggest what they think the demand, in the gross, is likely to be during the following month. Stove and chestnut being strictly competitive for the domestic market, it follows that the consumptive demand for these sizes of all others should be known, and the production regulated thereby.

Still, egg, chestnut, pea, buckwheat, rice, etc., when such a knowledge would render practicable the solution of problems the existence of which is partly responsible for the present unsettled condition of the market.