It is hard for me to describe how I suffered. The pain would commence in my head, after which it would seem to pass down my body and settle in my back, my sides ached, my back ached, and I had a feeling ached, my back ached, and I had a feeling of great distress in the bowels. The increased pain which seemed to come from lying down, would be almost unbearable, my face and stomach would bleat up and I could hardly stand on my feet, dizziness made it almost impossible; this feeling was always with me even after the violence of the attack passed over. ontract Let to Woolsey & Co.-Many Extensive Alterations to Residence Properties-Several Hundred Thonsand Dollars Will Be Expended.

Building operations are on the boom and, although no new permits have been secured for business or residence structures, architects, contractors and tradesmen will have plenty of work during the remainder of the summer finishing big jobs already under way, or in making ce atless improvements and additions to old structures.

During the past three years which throughout the country have been dedinarily would not be considered scribed as "hard times," the financial depression did not have the same demoralizing effect upon the building trades and the allied arts in Scranton as in other cities. In 1893 and 1894 in no less careful, and they have a good this city there was not the same increased ratio of new, large and costly structures as in the few years preceeding, but it is a fact that during the two past summers there was a greater activity than ever before in building small residences and making those adlitions, changes and renovations which always come with summer, and this eason. One may walk in any section of the ity and notice on many streets piles of brick, lumber or stone or other evidences of building work. Over a million of dollars is being invested in the large structures in course of erection or about to be started in the business section; several hundred thousand dollars is being spent by the city on the two new bridges and on paving and grading contracts, all of which, added to work being done by Scranton parties at the summer resorts and towns outside the city, is bound to furnish labor and wages for an army of men.

New Pa. Coal Co. Offices. Yesterday was let to Woolsey & Co the contract for building the three-story fire-proof addition to the old offices of the Pennsylvania Coal company in Dunmore. The old building will be raised one story and the present style n stone material and in architecture s followed in the plans prepared by John A. Duckworth. The cost will approach $30,000. Most of the addition will contain the vaults and offices of the paymaster's department and the whole will be heated by hot water.

Alterations costing between $7,000 and 8,000 are now in progress on the South Main avenue property of Dr. John J. Roberts, and when completed the house vill be one of the handsomest in that ection of the city. The renovations were planned by Architect Williams. Another home structure which gives romise of imposing appearance and comfort is that being built for Dr. ames H. Manley, on Pittston avenue. It will be of the old and comfortable olonial style with an interior of large ooms, several of which will possess pen grates.

An effort will be made to have the owering Mears building, corner of Washington avenue and Spruce street, inclosed and the plastering completed before freezing weather, and the woodwork done and much of the building ready for occupancy by April 1, 1896. A number of leases are to take effect from this date. Work on the structure has progressed rapidly during the last week, and the iron for seven stories of the main portion is in position. Concentrated effort is being made in excavating and laying the foundation for the annex, and this work will probably be completed by Aug. 15.

Traders' Bank Building As soon as the walls of the sidewalk ellar and a temporary sidewalk ar laid at the corner of Spruce street at Wyoming avenue the work of tear ing down the old drug store will begin. preparatory to the construction of the new Traders' bank building, which is to be finished April 1. The cellar walls are being laid rapidly and a small force is engaged tearing out the old interior The main foundation will be started before Aug. 15. Another of the many handsome and

RAILROAD NEWS.

It is reported that the proposed conolidation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific may be accomplished y the formation of a company in son other state than any through which the two lines pass. The new company may purchase a controlling interest in both roads. Here is a good railroad snake story that comes from Shekomeko, N. Y., and vouched for by the United Press reporter: As an N. D. & C. train came through Sugar Loaf cut yesterday, a black racer sprang at the engine, landed upon the cab and crawled over the tender into the bagage car, the door of which happened to be open. The snake made it lively for Bagagemaster Warwick, who, with the aid of Postal Clerk Rowe, kiled it. It was six feet long and as large around as a teacup. Have you got a railroad kidney? This complaint is now recognized by the medical men. It is caused by an artificial stoppage of the pores of the skin. the dirt of the railroads being responsible for such stoppage. If any person will examine his hand after riding two or three hours in a train-and this is especially true if he be perspiringhe will find his hand is dirty. But a closer exxamination will show the existence of a fine grime, the particles of which, so soon as the perspiration ceases, act as minute corks, stopping up the orifices of the pores. How deeply this grime works into the skin is shown by the fact that after a railroad tripone washes one's hands and face two or three times before they become clean. It is this grime which produces a railroad kidney. Of course it is not supposed that an ordinarily healthful person will contract this disease in any trip of a day or two. But where a per son is already a sufferer from chronic disease of the kidneys, it is possible that a week on railroad trains would aggravate his malady to an appreciable ex-
