ş	Yesterday'	s Results.

	Scranton at Toronto	, rain.
	Wilkes-Barre at Buf	falo, rain.

Rochester let slip an apparent chance o check the speed of the ancient Grays yesterday. They had them hip-locked in the first few finings, but stupid fielding and poor base running per-mitted the score to be tied, and the rame was eventually lost by the rankest kind of a misplay. The Springfield Ponies simply toyed with Syracuse for an inning or two and then put on steam enough to win handily. This will give Wilkes-Barre a chance to slide into third place today, provided they win and Syracuse loses. Rochester's defeat puts a safe distance between that club and Scranton for at least two days.

CANNOT BE HALTED. Springfield Downs the Stars in Very Easy

Style. Syracuse, N. Y., July 25 .- The Stars were defeated today by the superior playing of Springfield. It did took as if they would be in it about the second inning, but the spectators had no hope after the fourth.

The visitors played a superb fielding game, and had Syracuse been as "fit," the question of victory would have been a much harder one to decide. Barnett was batted for only nine hits, but some of these were two and three baggers. Attendance, 2,000. Score:

STUPID PLAYING.

Permitted Providence to Win from the Rochesters.

Rochester, N. Y., July 25.-Rochester should have won today's game with Providence, but torough stupid play-ing the locals lost the advantage gained by heavy batting in the first few tonings and allowed Providence to win out. Providence tied the score in the seventh inning, with two out, on a base on balls, Lyon's single and Knight's home run. Instead of playing for the batter in the eighth, when two Grays bad been retired, and men were on second and third, Harer threw down to second to mp McCauley, allowing Murray to come in from third and score the winning run on Keenan's poor throw to Lack of team work and confusion among the fielders in getting the ball when hit by the Grays also counted against Rochester at critical times. The visitors played a brilliant game in the field. Harper and Rudderham were both easy. Attendance, 1,250. Score: ROCHESTER. A.B. R. H. O. A. E.

DIAMOND DUST.

Good-bye, Rochester.

The Philadelphia management secured Pitcher Jack Taylor from the Albany club. Rochester has secured Donaghue and Murphy, the two Hornellsville pitchers and is hustling for a third baseman. New York ought to receive a great re eption on their return home. The Giants put all the other eastern clubs in the shade. Strange as it may seem, the Boston and Baltimore clubs have had no meeting this season. Rain prevented the only two games scheduled between the two clubs. The Scranton Young Men's Christian association and Dunmore teams of the County league play at the Base Ball park today at 4 o'clock. Dean and Gillern will be the Scranton battery.

A Pittsburg writer thinks that the Phil-A Pittsburg writer inning the mough for the Eastern league. Of course even a base ball writer cannot help being an ass, but he should, so far as possible, refrain from giving evidence of that fact-Philadelphia Exchange.

Paul Radford has been released by Scranton. At Rochester on Friday the old man was given notice that he could pack als grip and take the train back home, and his grip and take the train back home, and he accordingly started for Scranton. Rad-ford's home is in Boston. Rochester wanted him for second base, but he re-fused to sign if compelled to play on Sunday. The Flower City management insisted upon this point and the deal fell through. Radford is one of the oldest players in the business, having started in with Providence so long ago that most with Providence so long ago that most people have forgotten the date. He is worth considerable money and owns a house and lot in Boston. In his day he was one of the best known players of the National league, and was very prominent in the Brotherhood. ### DEATH FROM STONE BRUISE.

Poculiar Case of James, the Eight-Year Old Son of Patrick H. Walsh, of Minooks, Who Died Yesterday Morning. Painful as en ordinary stone bruise s known by every barefoot boy to be, yet it was never suspected that death might be superinduced from this cause; but James, the 8-year-old son of Pat-rick H. Walsh, of Minooka, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from blood poisoning that developed out of an af-fection of this kind on the sole of his left foot near the base of the big toe. Until Tuesday the boy was healthy and active, a bright, cheerful little lad. That evening his foot began to swell, the tendons blackening, his body becoming covered over with a deep rash, such as is common in cases of scarlet

ON OTHER SIDE OF CHANNEL Dr. Manley was called in, lanced the bruise and left the little fellow quite comfortable. The doctor instructed the parents to send for him again if the sore got any worse, thinking that in a day or two the boy would be around as well as ever.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning a mes senger apprised the doctor to hurry, that the boy suddenly got very ill, and despite all that medical attendance could accomplish he died five hours later. Dr. Manley said it is the strangest case he has met with in his pracited He accounts for its fatality that the sor poisoned the lymphatic glands leading to the liver This vital organ, become ing charged with the polson, death, which could hardly be forestalled, was the natural sequence.

This one of the Michigan Central railroad is entitled "A Summer Note-Book," and in its own evidence of the publishers' art does not detract from the live reading within its covers. The advertising feature is overshadowed by the truthful description and rich illustration of the widely distributed resorts reached by the Michigan Central, which is aptly described as "a first-class line for first lass travel." Prospective travelers might do worse than peruse a copy, which may be obtained from Rober Miller, general superintendent, Detroit, or O. W. Ruggles, general passenger and ticket agent, Chicago.

OUR STRANGE CUSTOMS.

"I have been in America but two days," said a talkative foreigner, "but already I have become impressed with some of the strange customs of the ountry." "Indeed! What particular customs do you refer to?"

Well, for one thing, I had not been ashore more than an hour when a spruce, official-looking man came up to ne. He showed a silver badge of some sort and said he was a collector of the internal revenue. He asked if I had paid my side-whisker license yet. I told him I didn't know that side whiskers were taxed in America. He said they were and the tax was $4 a year. He added that I might consider myself lucky that he did not add 25 per cent for costs of collection, because it was my duty to report at city hall and pay the tax, without putting the nation to the expense of sending a collector after the money."

"You paid him, did you?" "Oh, yes; and I was quite glad that I did not wear a full beard. He said the assessment on full beards was $10 per chin. Why do you have such odd taxes in America? It is so very expensive to run a Republican government?" "It costs quite a good deal. But was that your only experience?" "No, It wasn't. About two hours later nother man approached me, asked me if I had yet procured the government permit entitling me to wear trousers of uch a wide stripe as those I had on. It was the same pair I'm wearing now. I asked what the blamed government would do if I refused to pay for such a permit. He replied the fee for the per-mit was so excessively small that no mit was so excessively small that no one thought of trying to eyade payment. It was only 13, he said. The penalty was the confiscation of the trousers and it would be his painful duty to take me to the nearest police station and take pomession of my garments in the name of the United States government if I manifested any further hesitancy about producing the $2. As I did not want a secne I paid him the money and he left." "You would have done well to let him take you to a police station."

"Why?"
"You could have told your story, and he would have been locked up on a charge of swindling."

"Do you mean to say that he was not n official of the government?" "That's what I mean."

"But he said he was."

"I'm afraid he didn't speak the truth." "Rut how about the other!" "He was a fraud, too." "But he showed me his badge."

"I beg pardon! It doesn't do what?" "I said it cut no ice. I mean that was of no significance. Thieves can get badges when they deem it necessary to use them in their business. "But who are the real officers who

ssue permits to wear striped trousers and who receive the tax on side whiskers?" "There are no such officers." "And no such taxes?"

"No." "Then they both lied?"

"That cuts no ice."

"Yes." "Well, I never would have thought it. Do you supose that others will try to do me up in this way?" "It would not surprise me in the
