Trades and Particularly to the Trade

A bid of $4.25 per ton was made at Chicago on a proposal for 8,200 tons of anthracite coal. The lowest price ever eached before was $4.50. Anthracite coal in a vein four feet bick has been discovered in the Line ountain, which bounds Schuylkill and Northumberland counties, on the south ide, near Pitman, in the former county, Edward Reed has resigned his pos tion as foreman at the Honey Brook stripping of Crawford & Dugan to accept a position as superintendent of a ew mine to be opened near St. Clair by Scranton capitalists. The advance in wire nails of 20 per cent. on Aug., l, making a total advance of over 100 per cent., is due to restriction of production, as a result of an agreement among the manufacturers. Stocks are practically absorbed.

The Pardee collieries are working the corest time of any mines in the Hazleton egion. On an average they only make three days a week while the other breakers are working to their full capacity. This is mostly due on account of the lack of cars which is furnished to that

The Reading Railroad company is onstructing a new siding at Spring Mountain, and when completed it will give them a large measure of aid in transporting coal from the Coleraine colliery. Trains can be pulled up the heavy grade in small detachments to the new siding, which is at the summit of the hill.

Henry Vincent, general superintendent at the Patterson colliery, and Isaac lees, outside foreman at the same place, have invented a method of cleaning soal once discarded by having been placed on a culm bank and now have men engaged at constructing two buildngs, that will take the place of a wash- New Milford, yesterday. The interery, with a capacity of 4,000 tons per ment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

"There is a car famine on the Pennsylvania, Lake Shore, and Baltimore and Ohio mads" says W. P. Rend, of "These companies have at Chleago. least a third more transportation orders than they can fill. The iron trade in Western Pennsylvania and Northern Chio is more active than it has been in five years. The tailroads will have a tremendous boom this fall, if present erop indications mean anything, and I tell you that coal will fairly jump within ninety days. Soft coal is selling now in carload lots for from $1.25 to $3 per ton, but it will not do so long." The Brooke Iron company, of Birdsboro, posted notices in its rolling mill paying that, taking effect Aug. 1, they will pay $2.75 per gross ton for puddling; 27 cents per heat to be paid out of the $2.75 to the helpers. Other labor in the puddle mill will be advanced proportionately. The present price of puddling is $2.50 per ton, and the helpers get 26 cents per heat. The Brooke Iron company has commenced active preparations to get No. 2 furnace into blast. The furnace has been idle for nearly three years. Its capacity is 500 tons per week, and gives employment to 125 men. The company now employs over 500 men in all its departments. Potsburg, July 25.-The iron and steel trade has been in such a rush for a time that manufacturers having orders far ahead are content to wait awhile and let the market stand where it is. But while the market this week is easier, there is nothing like weakness apparent. In all lines prices are fully up to last week's quotations, with demand firm and steady. The indications for fall trade are decidedly gratifying. For the first time in several weeks there has been no advance in the price of pig iron. Furnaces are pushing production, but stocks are not accumulating. The new price for steel rails is now $27. Plates, blooms and billets are very much in demand, with prices advancing with mill capacity crowded and high figures offered for immediate delivery, which is very difficult to secure. There is also great activity in mer-chant steel, with former prices quoted. Philadelphia Press: "The Reading railroad has reduced the price of coal in this city 15 cents per ton this week. The other companies will meet the cut. The official city circular prices for coal are as follows:

Broken Egg 2.30

'No explanation is given for the reduction, but the trade believes that it is necessary to move the Reading's coal. The production is ahead of the consumption and has been for some time, but the Reading and all the other companies are keeping up their shipments to a certain proportion of the out-put, and the result is that the stocking places for coal are full and a good deal of coal is standing in cars. It is neces sary in such a case to sell coal. The reduction in the price brings stove coal down to $1.80 net to the Reading company, which is the lowest price for many years. Up to last Monday the selling prices for coal were 50 cents below these figures. Since Monday the Reading has been selling at 65 cents below the circular. The reduction, it is understood, was made in order to move coal. It is unusual to disturb prices in this market. The price of anthracite coul in this market has not been as low since 1877 as it is now."
